Opening of the Congress of the Communist International.

SUCCESSES OF PAST YEAR REVIEWED AND FUTURE PROJECTIONS DISCUSSED

From "Tribune Work" Moscow, June 26th. - The official opening of the First Congress of the Communist International was held in Moscow last week. Delegates from forty countries, representing over one million members of the Communist movement, attended the historic meeting.

The Congress was opened by Comrade Lenin, who declared that the world was on the eve of a new world revolutionary wave. He praised the Bolsheviks for their achievements and called for unity among all Communists.

The Congress adopted a new constitution for the International, providing for a central committee and a bureau. It also passed a resolution praising the achievements of the Russian Revolution and calling for the spread of its revolutionary principles.

Kamenev said that the congress was a triumph of the revolutionary theory of the working class. He praised the role of the working class in the revolution and called for the strengthening of the working class movement.

The congress was adjourned for further discussion of the revolutionary situation and the tasks of the working class movement.

The battle cry of the A.F. of L.

As Denver city lights and fury met the rallying cry of the A.F. of L. The speeches were loud and clear and the atmosphere was electric. "The A.F. of L. is on the attack!"

Our men are ready, our women are ready, our youth are ready. We stand united and we will fight for our rights."

The future of the Socialist Party

By THURBER LEWIS

Well, what is the situation of the Socialist Party today? They have had a tumultuous year, but it seems to me that they have come out stronger than ever.

The Socialist Party has always been a party of the working class, and it is our duty to stand up for the working class and fight for their rights."

Haywood shows weaknesses of American labor movement

By A. F. OF L. Most backward of world labor movement, craft unions, craft blocking to progress.

From "McCready" at May 28th.

Our single strike on the Philadelphia Central Lines, which resulted in the discharge of a large number of employees, is an indication of the weaknesses of the American labor movement. Before attempting to attribute the cause of the strike to the management, we should remember that the United States labor movement has very few methods of dealing with the problems of the working class.

This strike is an example of the kind of strike that can result from the weakness of the American labor movement. The strike was called by the workers of the Philadelphia Central Lines, who were demanding better working conditions and higher wages.

It must be remembered that the strike was called by the workers of the Philadelphia Central Lines, who were demanding better working conditions and higher wages.

The significance of the agricultural tax

By N. Lenn

Historical note - The capitalist class has recently appealed to the farmers of the United States to turn on the government, because it has led to a great deal of coment and inquiry has been made from farmers on the necessities of the working and profit-making class which have been anticipated to fulfill the public necessity.

The farmers have been left out of the work of the government, as is the case with the capitalists. One of the main causes of this is that the farmers have not had any political power to make them feel that they are important enough to be included in the work of the government.

The government has not been able to make them feel that they are important enough to be included in the work of the government, as is the case with the capitalists.
