Mr. Herbert, Secretary of the Treasury in the United States, and the head of the American Relief Administration, together with Mr. Herbert Grover, the head of the British Relief Administration, arrived in London today for the inaugural meeting of the World Relief Conference. The conference is to be held in London next week, and it is expected that representatives from all over the world will attend.

Mr. Herbert spoke about the importance of international cooperation in the relief effort, emphasizing the need for unity and collaboration among all nations. He highlighted the success of the American Relief Administration in providing aid to war-torn countries and praised the efforts of the British Relief Administration.

The conference is expected to focus on several key issues, including the coordination of relief efforts, the distribution of resources, and the development of sustainable solutions to the challenges faced by war-torn communities.

Mr. Herbert ended his remarks by expressing his hope that the conference would lead to meaningful outcomes and that the world would come together to address the pressing needs of those affected by the war.
On Working Within The Unions
By JOSEPH POODGE

[The article discusses the employment policies of the federal government during World War I, particularly the role of the General Federation of Trades and Labor Unions (GFTU). It mentions the influence of the government's policies on union activities, the challenges faced by workers, and the role of the GFTU in advocating for better conditions.

For example, the article notes that the government's wartime policies placed significant demands on union leadership and Rank and File. The GFTU, under the leadership of its president, played a crucial role in coordinating the efforts of workers in various industries.

The article concludes with a call for continued union activism and solidarity in the post-war period, emphasizing the importance of solidarity and unity in the face of ongoing economic and social challenges.

NEWS FROM AROUND THE GLOBE

By W. S. TROTTER

[The section provides updates on international events and developments, offering insights into global issues and trends.

For instance, the article mentions the establishment of a new government in France after the war, which has led to significant changes in domestic and foreign policy. The new government's approach to peace and security is discussed, along with its implications for international relations.

The article also highlights the challenges faced by workers in various countries, including the need for continued union organizing and the importance of solidarity with fellow workers around the world.

The section concludes with a summary of the key takeaways from the week's events, emphasizing the importance of international cooperation in addressing global issues.

WOMEN BEAR THE BURDEN

[The article provides an overview of the impact of the war on women, including their contributions to the war effort and the changes in their roles and responsibilities.

For example, it highlights the significant contributions of women in various sectors, such as manufacturing, transportation, and service industries. The article also discusses the impact of the war on women's rights and the importance of supporting gender equality.

The article concludes with a call for continued recognition of women's contributions to the war effort and the importance of promoting gender equality in the post-war period.

ictured are various scenes from the war, including soldiers and civilians, and the impact of the war on different countries.

[The section provides updates on international events and developments, offering insights into global issues and trends.

For instance, the article mentions the establishment of a new government in France after the war, which has led to significant changes in domestic and foreign policy. The new government's approach to peace and security is discussed, along with its implications for international relations.

The article also highlights the challenges faced by workers in various countries, including the need for continued union organizing and the importance of solidarity with fellow workers around the world.

The section concludes with a summary of the key takeaways from the week's events, emphasizing the importance of international cooperation in addressing global issues.

WOMEN BEAR THE BURDEN

[The article provides an overview of the impact of the war on women, including their contributions to the war effort and the changes in their roles and responsibilities.

For example, it highlights the significant contributions of women in various sectors, such as manufacturing, transportation, and service industries. The article also discusses the impact of the war on women's rights and the importance of supporting gender equality.

The article concludes with a call for continued recognition of women's contributions to the war effort and the importance of promoting gender equality in the post-war period.

[The section provides updates on international events and developments, offering insights into global issues and trends.

For instance, the article mentions the establishment of a new government in France after the war, which has led to significant changes in domestic and foreign policy. The new government's approach to peace and security is discussed, along with its implications for international relations.

The article also highlights the challenges faced by workers in various countries, including the need for continued union organizing and the importance of solidarity with fellow workers around the world.

The section concludes with a summary of the key takeaways from the week's events, emphasizing the importance of international cooperation in addressing global issues.
More Are Jobless.

Unemployment is as thelicken in the last six months. This fact is gathered from the July report of the President's Committee on Unemployment. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.

The data from the United States. The number of unemployed persons in the United States is now 58 per cent of the total gain in employment.