SACCO-VANZETTI VERDICT CONDEMNED.
JURY OF PUBLIC OPINION FAVORS CONDEMNED WORKERS.

BY JOHN NICOLASSE BEPPLE.

Boston, Mass., August 26.—There is a name which comes with the echoes of a single gun shot: the boos of a crowd as the verdict is passed: the name that has a place in every living person's conscience: the name of Sacco and Vanzetti.

The name has caused many people in every part of the world to ask themselves if they understand the verdict in the case of Sacco and Vanzetti. The British government has given a demonstration of its prescience and wisdom by concurring with the verdict.

The charge is that the two defendants are guilty of murder and armed robbery. The evidence in the trial of the defendants, as presented in the trial of the case by the prosecution, is said to be of such a nature that it is inescapable for the jury to find the defendants guilty.

The verdict was rendered yesterday in the case of Sacco and Vanzetti. The defendants were found guilty of murder and armed robbery, and were sentenced to death.

HELP SOVIET RUSSIA.

The appeal of Soviet Russia to the world's proletariat for help is the present famine must be healed by every worker. The interests of every worker of every country are indissolubly bound up with the Russian working class. The Russian working masses have well earned the name of "guardian of the world's working class." It has established the first workers' government in the world. It has defended that government against every ay of reaction and every system of oppression. It is the first country millions of lives in sacrifice that the freedom of the world's workers might have a beginning there. In defending the Revolution in Russia, they have defended the interests of every worker of the world.

Europe's working classes, impoverished as they are by years of privation and suffering brought to us by the capitalist war, are not the only victims of capitalism. The millions of workers of Africa, Asia, and Oceania, who have been reduced to the status of serfs, or slaves, are victims of the system which has reduced the Russian proletariat to the status of serfs under the rule of czars and landlords. The whole world is under the yoke of this capitalist -- and it is the responsibility of every worker of the world to work for the emancipation of the working classes of the whole world.

DEBS AND PUBLIC OPINION.

There is an ancient saying that the newspapers express "public opinion." The newspapers may have done so when made up of the newspapers that represent the interests of a majority of the people in the early days of newspaper enterprise. But since the oligarchy of capital has seized and monopolized the press, it no longer expresses the public opinion of the people but is a tool used by capital to create public opinion in favor of itself and its projects.

Yet the same ancient saying now becomes a means of stirring up public opinion against the people and the government. The mass of people, for the sake of the idea of a battle against the bosses and big business, have been duped by the capitalist system. They have been misled into thinking that the fight against the bosses and big business is a fight against the capitalist system. The fight against the bosses and big business is only a part of the fight against the capitalist system. It is only a part of the fight against the capitalist system because it is only a part of the fight against the bosses and big business. It is only a part of the fight against the bosses and big business because it is only a part of the fight against the capitalist system. It is only a part of the fight against the bosses and big business because it is only a part of the fight against the capitalist system. It is only a part of the fight against the bosses and big business because it is only a part of the fight against the capitalist system.
