Worker Shows That Activities of Unemployed Council 'NI HUNGER HERE' Bring More Relief

By RAY G. HOWE Francisco Hunger March are not obvious, several concrete cases prove conclusively the correctness of winning concessions for the jobless through organized march-

-Particularly did the bosses and their agents strive to pacify those most active in organizing the march by increasing their food allowances and abolishing the moveon system.

My own case proves this: ... During the agitations and actual demonstrations of the Hunger March my script was raised suddenly from 555 points to 605. Later when I went to get rent from the Associated Charities they informed me I would have to move. But I refused absolutely, and the result was that from that time I have had my rent paid weekly. The check is mailed to my landlord.

The case of another active worker, Arthur Zander, shows a similar increase in relief, and the end of the "move-on" system for

Police Called When Delegation Refuses to Leave

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 20 .-The committee of single and young unemployed workers who had been refused relief at the Associated Charities, 1010 Gough Street, presented the following demands to the head of the A. C., Mr. Wallenberg, on Wednesday, October 19, at his office in the Laguna Honda Home.

1 Ten dollars immediate cash appropriation to live on until arrangements have been made to take care of the young and single uner ployed workers.

2. That all empty public buildings be adequately furnished and turned over to a committee of young and single unemployed

3. That places be furnished where you g and single unembloved workers may cook their own food.

4. That no discrimination be shown against Negro, Filipino, Oriental or any other young and single unemployed workers.

Mr. Wollenberg stated that he would give these demands to the special committee on unemployment. He also expressed his opinion that as far as he was concerned these demands would not go through. After much argument he stated that he would do all he could. The spokesman then asked for carfare for the delegation. Wollenberg refused this request, whereupon the delegation stated that they would stay in his office until they received the carfare. He phoned the Taraval police station and told them that there were people there who refused to leave his office.

However, seeing the determinhis big heart, squeezed out a dollar and whined that this was not from charity, but from his own "hard earned" money. At the suppressed amusement of the delegation Wollenberg's face turned a fiery red, until we thought he would burst a blood vessel.

The delegation, in leaving, told Mr. Wollenberg that if we did not get adequate results, we would take future steps in forcing relief. -Young Worker.

CAKLAND 'LABOR' BIG SHOT SLIPPING L. A. CHARITIES

OAKLAND, Oct. 24.—At the last meeting of local 31, among other reports, big fat-bellied Bill got up and gave a high note speech about how the Yellow Cab drivers are getting on with their strike. He said it is in full swing and put out his chest like brother Silvest, såying he had spent most of his entire time helping the boys win the strike. Then he took out his handkerchief, like he always does, and wiped his fore-

One member jumped up and asked Big Bill when he is going to help the cooks, waiters and waitresses local to straighten out some of the scab places.

"Remember, Bill," he said, is just a year ago that we pulled he crew out of the Hotel Oakand, and you said if it takes a year we will lick the Hotel Oakand. But not only we didn't try to do anything, but since then many other places have gone on the unfair list, and what have you

After the brother got through, Bill felt very uneasy, but picked himself together and said: "Well, what of it?" And that was the end of that matter.

When things of that kind come up it does not take long to go to another point of business. I only hope that he doesn't help the Yellow Cab drivers to win their strike as he helped us win ours!

We are beginning to see how Bill is helping us. When there is anything important, such as the strike at Hotel Oakland, last year, Bill was out of town. And that wasn't the first time he goes on important business when he sees that things will not go his way at them. But capitalist laws are the meetings. He steps out of the picture. And his excuse-he is fit the workers to the detriment very busy with union affairs!

S. F. SUPERVISORS IGNORE DELEGATION

OF EVICTED FAMILY

Spent Hour Congratulating Politician for New Pups

SAN FRANCISCO., Oct. 18. -A militant sequel to the Martin Blank eviction case occurred at the Board of Supervisors' meeting when nearly fifty neighbors appeared and demanded that a home be provided the family until he could secure employment. The committee also demanded that the 'move-on" system be abolished.

The word had been passed along the committee was coming, and the police were cautioned that "the Reds were out to capture the City Hall." Plain clothes men and "harness bulls" were planted everywhere in and around the City Hall. The "dangerous Reds" proved to be irate mothers and fathers who responded as members of the committee.

The meeting progressed without any attention being paid to the demands. Repartee on inconsequential things, including Gallagher's new litter of pups, and an hour and one half was occupied fighting over garbage disposal occupied the afternoon. Those who remained to the last, rushed to the supervisors' room and asked what the board meant by ignoring them entirely.

The usual occurred. The cops were called. At least twenty of Chief Quinn's most vicious thugs dashed in and began shoving the committee along. In the vanguard of them all, one of "the city's finon the shoulders of Billie Blank, 16 year old daughter, who promptly told him to "keep his dirty hands off dad, mama and me."

EAST BAY ROAD FUND EXHAUSTED: MASS MEET OCT. 31

7000 Face Loss of Relief; Unemployed Council Acts

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 24. The Unemployed Councils of Alameda County have called a mass meeting of all county road workers for Monday evening, October 31, at Odd Fellows Hall, 410 Eleventh Street, Oakland, to consider the serious situation created by the near exhaustion of the county relief funds.

Between seven and eight thousand workers are employed on county roads. They receive $4 a day and each worker is supposed to get one week's work in four, which nets him $24 a month relief. The funds will be exhausted by November 8.

Along with the demand for two weeks work per month, instead of Hunger Marchers, the mass meet- able to get hold of Captain Bundy ing will also consider the demand for a raise in road work wages to $5 a day, and the many grievances existing on county road jobs.

Workers have been reporting to the Unemployed Council headquarters at 727 Washington street that they have been arbitrarily cut off road work. They report the food on the bread line at Chabot road is rotten and has to be eaten from old tin cans with sticks for spoons. They say workers have to walk a mile to and from the slop kitchens on their own time at noon. They also complain of the speed-up on work which is supposed to be done for relief.

At a meeting of the county charities commission last Wednesday it was voted to recommend a county bond issue for relief, but no definite sum was named. County Engineer Wilhelm reported at the meeting that his department's road jobs are nearing completion and several hundred men will soon

Free Tom Mooney!

Although the Mooney case is 17 years old, it is more of a live issue today than it was at the outset in 1916. All the efforts of the framers to put a damper on it have failed. Most of the prosecution witnesses have long ago confessed perjury. The others have been proven liars.

But every time evidence proving the frame-up came to light, it got no further than some government official or secret grand jury hearing. The methods used for bringing that evidence for consideration were too often limited to looking for technicalities in the law and attempts to outmaneuver the crooked prosecution.

Naturally a policy of this sort mainly relied upon "good" lawyers and "friends" of labor of the type of Walker of New York. No reliance was placed on the mass protest of the working class.

But the Collicotte confession, obtained through the Internationa! Labor Defense, brought a turn in the Mooney tactics, and served as a means for awakening new hundreds of thousands to the Mooney issue.

The same fate seemed to await this evidence. Sapiro, one of the leading attorneys for Mooney, rushed to California. But his plan to again proceed on a purely legalistic basis was stopped most emphatically by Tom Mooney. himself.

No more star chamber methods! Only open hearings!

No confidence in capitalist courts!

This militant policy is the reason for Sapiro's deser-

The attempt on the part of the grand jury through a secret hearing to kill Callicotte's evidence was stopped. Callicotte will tell his story to a mass meeting of 15,000 in the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco on November 6. This great demonstration will not be devoted to respectable orations on the Mooney case and to warnings against "public excitement." It will be characterized by Mooney's own directives placing full confidence in the working class and its militancy.

The Communist Party calls upon the workers to rally to this demonstration.

The World Revolution is Advancing

That the world revolution is advancing rapidly and receiving greater support than ever, needs no better proof than the fact that on November 7 the 15th Anniversary of the Soviet Union, the First Anniversary of the Chinese Soviet Republic will also be celebrated.

Eighty more million workers and peasants are under the Red Banner. At this very moment the Chinese Red Army is closing in on the chief industrial city, Hankow.

The eyes of the world's working class are especially set on Germany and Poland, where the workers, under the leadership of the Community Party, are on the eve of decisive struggles for a workers and farmers government.

In England and Ireland, the pitched street battles of the past weeks, led by the Communist Party, show that draws important lessons in strike the workers are fast losing confidence in the treacherous strategy for all workers. Labor Party and the National. Coalition government.

In the United States the celebrations will have additional significance coming on the day prior to election. During the past year the workers have experienced our Party's leadership in the struggle for relief, in strikes against wage cuts, for Negro rights, and in the struggle against war. Despite the terror and persecution it is emerging stronger than ever.

The Communist victories throughout the capitalist world and great victories in the construction of socialism in the Soviet Union, will be an inspiration to hundreds of thousands to vote Communist, to support the Party that leads the fight in America.

Make November 7 a day of great demonstrations for The Defense of the Soviet Union!

The Defense of the Chinese People! A powerful Communist Vote!

The Real Thomas

"He's no socialist—he talked a lot but he didn't say anything." That was the prevailing sentiment among the several hundred workers who attended the Norman Thomas meetings in the west.

The Spokane Spokesman-Review, in an editorial full of praise for Thomas, says:

Earlier in the day, in opposing a proposal by a California delegate that the socialists declare for confiscation of property, Mr. Thomas declared that if such a proposal were adopted by the convention, he would refuse the nomination.

The editorial then lists the "socialist" planks and concludes "the program differs little if at all from that of President Hoover.'

Similarly the San Francisco News welcomed Ogden L. Mills, the multi-millionaire grandson of millionaires and member of the Hoover cabinet, who was Hoover's chief lieutenant in his fight against the bonus, unemployment insurance and even the La Follette-Costigan relief bill, the same day it welcomed Norman Thomas. The opening paragraph of their editorial titled "Two Americans," reads:

San Francisco welcomes today two typical and outstanding Americans in the persons of Ogden L. Mills, secretary of the treasury, and Norman Thomas, socialist candidate for president.

It is obvious from Thomas' every move that he is patterning his career on the model of Ramsay MacDonald in Great Britain.

The capitalist class applause for Norman Thomas should spur militant workers everywhere to help pile up a huge vote for William Z. Foster and James W. Ford, the only working class candidates, and the only real cham- er stations put in operation this cooking has become a branch of pions of socialism.

Lessons of the Colorado Beet Strike that despite our repeated attempts to get an analysis of the recent beet workers strike in Colorado, which involved 18,000 workers, from the comrades of Colorado, we have not yet received any.

It should be of interest not only to the beet workers, but it

When this letter was being drawn up the strike was still on.

The strike of 18,000 sugar beet workers in the Colorado fields is of great significance, affecting one of the most exploited and unorganized sections of the American workers, and points to very favorable conditions for work among the agricultural workers in Colorado and their willingness to struggle.

The fact that the T. U. U. L. ed the strike is of great importance, being a result of a period of conscious preparation, and therefore constitutes an achievement.

NEGATIVE FEATURES (a) RELIEF-Failed to take nto consideration that in preparing for strike of 30,000 workers working seasons and the majority being semi-dependent upon county relief, the question of relief should have been a major point. There was no actual relief work prior to the strike, and steps on the part of the W. I. R. for relief conferences, etc., were not taken until two weeks later, thereby neglecting it especially during the most decisive period of the strike. Due to this neglect of relief, there was a back to work movement during the early period, af-

Actually, greater bribery has been possible in England because the imperialist system was more widespread, more bloodsucking, and more corrupting than any other country in the world. And it was more difficult to organize the workers for militancy.

But now the British empire, in disintegration, cannot even balance its budget properly, much less buy patriotism. The British workers are waking up and so the I. N. S. reports that they are becoming "mob ugly." We quote from their dispatch of October 21: "While the crowd shouted 'we Both Washington and Tokio are busy denying preparations for war against each other. But we notice that the number of spy scares on the Pacific Coast have shown no sign of let-up.

Surely you have heard of Comrade Clara Zetkin! Well, hats off lads and lassies! There's a woman and a revolutionary! She's 75 years old this month.

If ever you get weary or you think your knees may bend from tiredness, just think of the courage, stamina and never quit spirit of this world famous Communist and working class leader, be shamed and take example from her. You probably heard of her when she opened the Reichstag at its last short lived session. The whole world press publicized her. And only a few papers, even capitalist papers, were low enough to sneer. For the rest they were awed by her colossal magnitude as an historic figure. But that Reichstag opening gave a slightly distorted picture. Many comrades, especially new comrades, may think that her fame and greatness is built upon a temporary moment in the spotlight of Germany's bourgeois parliament. This legislature, like all bourgeois bodies, is in the twilight of life. Clara Zetkin's greatness was built on years of bitter theoretical and practical struggle, under indescribable hardships with a loyalty to the revolution that makes one feel how small are the egotistical souls of the Trotzkyist renegades.

We had the wonderful experience of spending, together with a number of other comrades, Comrade Zetkin's 70th birthday with her. It was obvious that her strength was beginning to give way. But nothing missed She argued every question of Comintern policy with a keenness and alertness that would be a credit to brilliant thinkers of younger years. In the Women's Department of the Comintern, where we worked with her for awhile, she was acquainted with, and participated in every detail of the practical work. Although she did not have the strength to climb the rostrum at the meetings of the Communist International Executive Committee and had to b helped up, she yet fought with her last ounce of strength that the Party and the Comintern should move forward. If weakness is evidenced by doubts of our movement and discouragement because of difficulties, we think that Comrade Zetkin must never have
