SHEAR THE SHEEP

Literary Deeps-Ucks Get After the "Young Man."

BAIT FOR RAINBOW CHASERS.

The Chicago Daily News Must First Fix What Is To Be Done With Their Workers.

Many years ago a famous diplomatist of Europe whose name was Zinman was approached by a representative of the international socialist system. "Zinman," he said, "have you seen the sheep and the goats? You always say that the goats will follow the sheep. Why is this the case? And why do the sheep always follow the goats?"

SNAP SHOTS BY THE WAYIDE.

A boy under the age of eight was being fastened into a horse-drawn sleigh near the corner of Cottage and Pembroke streets. He was fastened into a harness and the harness was fastened to the sleigh. The boy was then being pulled by the horses. The horses were being driven by a man who was standing on the sleigh.

The boy was smiling and seemed to be enjoying the ride. He was holding onto the harness and looking back at the people who were watching him.

The boy was being taken for a ride by his parents, who were standing by the sleigh and watching him. They were both smiling and seemed to be enjoying the moment.

The boy's name was John and he was eight years old. He loved being out in the snow and his parents were always happy to take him for rides on the sleigh. They would often take him to different places in the city, such as the park and the zoo.

John's parents were both teachers and they loved spending time with their son. They were always looking for ways to make his childhood special and they loved taking him on these sleigh rides.

The boy's favorite part of the ride was when he got to wave his arms in the air and shout, "This is so much fun!"

The parents were always happy to hear him shout and they would laugh along with him.

John's ride ended when they reached their destination, the park. They spent the rest of the day playing in the snow and having fun.

The boy loved his sleigh ride and he couldn't wait to do it again next year. His parents promised to take him on even more sleigh rides in the future.

END OF SNAPSHOT.

THE RIGHTS OF WOMEN.

To be denied by the destruction of female domestic labor.

Household work is the principal occupation of women and their contributions to the family income cannot be overestimated. The value of women's work is not measured by the money they earn, but by the value of the goods and services they provide.

Women's contributions to the family income are invaluable and they should be respected and valued. Women should be allowed to continue their work and their contributions to the family income should be recognized and appreciated.

Women have the right to work and they should be able to continue to do so. The value of women's work should be acknowledged and respected.

The value of women's work should be recognized by society and by law. Women should be allowed to continue to do what they do best, and their contributions to the family income should be valued and respected.

Women have the right to work and they should be able to continue to do so. The value of women's work should be acknowledged and respected.

Estimates of the World-wide Struggle of the Peace-lovers for the Liberties

Mr. E. H. Gaskell has made a restate instance of the great extent to which the war is being carried on by the governments of the world. He says that in the last war the governments of the world were willing to do anything to prevent the outbreak of war. The war was not only carried on by the governments of the world, but it was carried on by the governments of the world in a very quiet manner. Socialist Labor Party of the United States.

PLATFOR\M.

The laboring classes are the owners of the earth, the producers of all wealth and the creators of civilization. They are therefore the owners of the means of production. The laboring classes have no personal wealth and are accordingly controlled by the capitalists. The Socialist Labor Party of the United States is the political organization of the laboring classes, which is called upon to act as a political party for the laboring classes, in order that they may control the government and the industrial enterprises. It is the duty of the Socialist Labor Party of the United States to wage a determined struggle against the capitalist system, in order that the laboring classes may be able to control the means of production and to live in peace and happiness.

Immediate Demands.

The Socialist Labor Party of the United States demands the immediate adoption of the following measures:

1. The establishment of a national system of health insurance for all workers.
2. The establishment of a national system of education for all children.
3. The establishment of a national system of old age pensions for all workers.
4. The establishment of a national system of unemployment insurance for all workers.
5. The establishment of a national system of housing for all workers.

The Socialist Labor Party of the United States also demands the immediate abolition of all forms of capital punishment.

ACROSS THE BORDER.

Socialist papers are published in London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna, and other cities of Europe. The Socialist Labor Party of the United States is the only socialist organization in the United States that is not controlled by the American capitalists.

Sane Socialism.

Sane Socialism is the only solution of the social problem. All other systems are either too theoretical or too radical. Socialism must be based upon the principles of common sense and practical politics. The Socialist Labor Party of the United States is the only socialist organization in the United States that is based upon the principles of common sense and practical politics.

THE PEOPLE.

The Socialist Labor Party of the United States is the only socialist organization in the United States that is based upon the principles of common sense and practical politics.
