THE WORKERS' CALL.

THEY DIGGED A "PIT"

So That Organised Labor Might Fall Therein.

VELVET GLOVE ON IRON HAND.

"Reconciliatory Commission" of Capitalists Meets the Demands of the Unions in a New Light.

In the labor troubles which are now rocking the country, and expected to continue for some time, the most depressing fact is that they come from the failure of the leaders of labor to see that their "patriotism," may be a deadly poison when employed against the working men of the country, and that the safety of the country and labor is best served by an united effort to end the strife. We may not see the real justice of the strike itself at this time, but we are, however, far from saying that it is right, we are merely saying that the leaders of labor, as a body, have been the cause of the trouble and that their failure to see the justice of the workers' demands has been the cause of the present strife.

What a paradox in this land of liberty is the present attitude of the leaders of labor. They are the men who are supposed to be the champions of justice and liberty, and yet they are the men who are responsible for the present strife. They are the men who are supposed to be the leaders of the country, and yet they are the men who are responsible for the present strife.

One of the most amusing episodes of the present strife is the "Reconciliatory Commission" of capitalists who met with the leaders of labor in order to "settle" the "patriotism" of labor. The leaders of labor were asked to meet with the capitalists in order to "settle" the "patriotism" of labor. The leaders of labor were asked to meet with the capitalists in order to "settle" the "patriotism" of labor. LESSONS FROM 48 & 71.

Working Class Must Busy Work and Stand for Higher Wages.

The lesson of March 10 is not one of haste, but one of patience and perseverance. We must not be satisfied with a victory in the struggle for a higher wage, but must continue the struggle until we have achieved a comprehensive and lasting settlement of the working-class question. TRAP SHOTS BY THE WAYSIDE.

The recent events in "Bavaria," known as " nåvjas," have given rise to much speculation. The sudden and unexpected rise of prices is causing a great deal of confusion. The question of the value of currency is now being discussed.

In connection with this, the working class is also making preparations for the future. The workers of the country have made a resolution to strike for higher wages. They have decided to organize and to demand better conditions.

The working class is now more conscious of its power. They are determined to fight for their rights. They demand better wages, shorter working hours, and better conditions for themselves and their families.

The struggle is now between the working class and the employers. The employers are trying to keep down the wages and to increase the working hours. The workers are determined to fight against these efforts.

Well and Ably Managed.

The great March festival in connection with the Trades Union Congress was held at the City Hall, 11 North Clark Street, on Friday, March 10th, and Saturday, March 11th. A large number of people were present, and the festival was well managed.

The Trades Union Congress was well attended by the working class. The speeches made at the festival were well received and were of great benefit to the working class.

SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY of the United States.

PLATFORM.

The Socialistic Labor Party of the United States is a political party that aims at the destruction of the capitalist system and the establishment of a socialistic society. Its principle is the organization of the working class for the purpose of bringing about this change. The party is composed of working-class men and women who believe in the principles of socialism.

Some of the main points of its platform are:

1. Nationalization of all banks, railroads, telegraphs, and public utilities.
2. Abolition of the income tax and the establishment of a land tax.
3. Distribution of the wealth of the country among the working class.
4. Free and compulsory education for all children.
5. The establishment of a social insurance system.
6. The establishment of a national health service.
7. The establishment of a national food supply system.

The party's platform is based on the principles of social democracy, which seek to transform society from within, rather than through revolution.

The British republicans are a mass movement of the deep sea. They enter for the first time in the political arena to demand a right of the people to have the power of the government of their country. They are a movement of the working class, and they are the movement of the working class that is determined to take power into its own hands and to use it for the benefit of the working class.
