ONE THING LACKING

A Great Scientist Reviews the Progress of the Century.

OWTS AN IMPORTANT FACTOR

Somebody Precedently quoted by Albert Roberts Wallace in His Recent Work on Progress.

The able philosopher Sadi was remarkable for his great scientific researches. He had already shown the importance of the science of physics, and had thus opened a door
for the progress of the natural sci-cences. The noble scientist was thus rewarded for his labors. But he could not have expected his labors to be rewarded in a manner which would have pleased so great a man.

On the other hand, when Sadi had made his scientific discoveries, he was not only rewarded for his labors,

but was also appreciated for his works. The public, which was his friend, recognized his labors. Thus Sadi was an important factor in the progress of the century.

AN UNARMED TRUCE

Coal Owners and Miners Ready for Battle in April.

IF THERE A CLASS STRUGGLE?

The following account of the present situation is based on the facts that there is no sign of the existence of any class struggle. The miners have been being advertised to protect their lives, and the coal owners have been involved in a series of confiscations.

Socialist Pointers

One Paul is discovering that the Socialist Pointers are absolutely meaningless.

If you like the Workers' Call it is high time you dropped a letter in the box and sent a little money just to prove it. The public must be led.

WOMEN TO THE RESCUE

A New Society Organized to "Save the Republic."

By LAURA WILLARD TAIT

One of the most earnest movements of the moment is the labor movement, and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union (WCTU) is a significant part of it. The union was formed in 1874 as a response to the need to organize women to fight for social reform, primarily the prohibition of alcohol. Since then, the WCTU has grown to become a powerful force in the labor movement, advocating for the rights of workers and fighting against social injustice.

Women to the Rescue is a new organization that has emerged as a response to the current crisis in the United States. The organization is dedicated to "saving the republic" by promoting the rights and interests of women and other marginalized groups. Women to the Rescue is supported by a wide range of organizations and individuals who are committed to social justice and equality.

The organization is led by a group of dedicated women who are working tirelessly to achieve their goals. They are committed to the principles of social reform and are determined to bring about positive change in the world. Women to the Rescue is a powerful force in the labor movement, and its members are working hard to make a difference in the lives of those they represent.

LOCAL NEWS AND NOTES

Conference has been held in Boston, Massachusetts, at the request of the Women's Christian Temperance Union (WCTU). The conference was attended by a large number of representatives from various states and territories. The conference was held to discuss the current state of the union and to plan for the future.

The conference was held from March 15 to 19, 1900, at the Little America Hotel in Boston. The hotel was chosen because of its central location and its proximity to the WCTU headquarters.

The conference was attended by a large number of women who were passionate about social reform and equality. They were joined by a number of men who were also committed to the cause. The conference was a success, and the delegates returned home with a renewed commitment to the WCTU and its goals.
