"Workingmen of all countries unite! You have nothing to lose but your chains; you have a world to gain."

THIRD YEAR - WHOLE No. 111
CHICAGO, Ill. SATURDAY, APRIL 9, 1881.
PRICE ONE CENT

"CIRCULAR NO. 17."
Corporation "Blue Laws" for the Guidance of Employees.

WHERE THEY GET THE POWER.
Authorizes to Regulate Personal Rights and
Employment of the Capitalist Class.

Perhaps one of the most various activities that cap" are ready to explain the new law to the nation, is the matter of this month.

The spot of public mention, which is an official publication, has

CIRCULAR NO. 17.

"CIRCULAR NO. 17."
Corporation "Blue Laws" for the Guidance of Employees.

WHERE THEY GET THE POWER.
Authorizes to Regulate Personal Rights and
Employment of the Capitalist Class.

Perhaps one of the most various activities that capitalistic enterprise can

[Image 0x0 to 1261x1025]
A PRESIDENTIAL INTEREST

The nomination of the labor people of the country for the presidential nominations has been eagerly awaited by the labor leaders for some time. The labor movement has been slow to develop, and one influential publication wrote of the "feverish" atmosphere of the "presidential" campaign that was developing.

The nominating convention was held on April 15, and it was reported that the delegates were assembled in a large hall and that the nominations were made by acclamation. The candidates for the presidency were Dr. Daniel De Leon, a long-time leader of the labor movement, and John L. Lewis, the president of the United Mine Workers.

A PRESIDENTIAL RIVALRY

The nomination of the labor people of the country for the presidential nominations has been eagerly awaited by the labor leaders for some time. The labor movement has been slow to develop, and one influential publication wrote of the "feverish" atmosphere of the "presidential" campaign that was developing.

The nominating convention was held on April 15, and it was reported that the delegates were assembled in a large hall and that the nominations were made by acclamation. The candidates for the presidency were Dr. Daniel De Leon, a long-time leader of the labor movement, and John L. Lewis, the president of the United Mine Workers.

A PROFESSIONAL Beggars

The profession of begging is becoming increasingly common. Many professional beggars have been seen in the streets, and they are often well-dressed and speak with an air of importance. Some of these beggars have even been known to carry money clips and watches.

The profession of begging is becoming increasingly common. Many professional beggars have been seen in the streets, and they are often well-dressed and speak with an air of importance. Some of these beggars have even been known to carry money clips and watches.

A PROFESSIONAL Beggars

The profession of begging is becoming increasingly common. Many professional beggars have been seen in the streets, and they are often well-dressed and speak with an air of importance. Some of these beggars have even been known to carry money clips and watches.

The profession of begging is becoming increasingly common. Many professional beggars have been seen in the streets, and they are often well-dressed and speak with an air of importance. Some of these beggars have even been known to carry money clips and watches.
As a Contractor Sees It

By Alfred R. Andrews.

The trouble of the paper industry is that it is not a paper industry at all. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to make paper, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the building industry. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to build buildings, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the banking industry. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to lend money, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the railroad industry. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to transport people and goods, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money.

One can see the same thing in the labor movement. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to make workers, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the government. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to govern people, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the education system. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to educate people, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money.

The trouble of the paper industry is that it is not a paper industry at all. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to make paper, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the building industry. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to build buildings, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the banking industry. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to lend money, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the railroad industry. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to transport people and goods, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money.

One can see the same thing in the labor movement. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to make workers, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the government. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to govern people, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the education system. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to educate people, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money.

The trouble of the paper industry is that it is not a paper industry at all. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to make paper, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the building industry. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to build buildings, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the banking industry. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to lend money, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the railroad industry. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to transport people and goods, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money.

One can see the same thing in the labor movement. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to make workers, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the government. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to govern people, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the education system. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to educate people, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money.

The trouble of the paper industry is that it is not a paper industry at all. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to make paper, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the building industry. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to build buildings, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the banking industry. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to lend money, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the railroad industry. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to transport people and goods, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money.

One can see the same thing in the labor movement. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to make workers, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the government. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to govern people, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the education system. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to educate people, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money.

The trouble of the paper industry is that it is not a paper industry at all. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to make paper, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the building industry. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to build buildings, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the banking industry. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to lend money, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the railroad industry. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to transport people and goods, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money.

One can see the same thing in the labor movement. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to make workers, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the government. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to govern people, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money. The same is true of the education system. After reading it one might imagine that it was a business undertaken in order to educate people, but the fact is that it was a business undertaken in order to make money.
IN GENTLE ACCENTS

THE SOCIALIST

THOMAS J. MORRISON, M.D.

300 WESTERN AVE.

WASHINGTON, D.C.

ENTERTAINMENT & Dance

WORLD'S FAIR LARGEST OF THE

SOCIALIST CONVENTION

JUNIOR SOCIALIST

FRIDAY, April 15th, 1933

5 P.M. The Terminus Hotel, Chicago

GRAND LECTURE WITH

STEREOSCOPE VIEWING

Sundays, April 15th, 1933, 9:30 p.m.

AT EDUCATIONAL HALL,

3200 S. PULASKI ROAD

CIGARS AND TOBACCO

SOCIETY 600 S. WESTERN AVE.

Socialist Party of Chicago Branch Directory

Chairman: Peter Van den Heuvel, 444 S. Dearborn St.

Vice-Chairman: J. W. Franklin, 220 S. Dearborn St.

Secretary: W. B. Egan, 220 S. Dearborn St.

Treasurer: E. W. Simms, 220 S. Dearborn St.

Executive Committee:

A. J. F. Brown, 220 S. Dearborn St.

J. W. Franklin, 220 S. Dearborn St.

W. B. Egan, 220 S. Dearborn St.

E. W. Simms, 220 S. Dearborn St.

Chicago Socialist Post, 220 S. Dearborn St.

Socialist Party of Chicago

Socialist Temple

120 S. Western Ave.

Chicago, Ill.

Kellogg Music School

120 S. Western Ave.

Chicago, Ill.

J. C. Appelles

Patents

120 S. Western Ave.

Chicago, Ill.

Cigars and Tobacco

Socialist Temple

120 S. Western Ave.

Chicago, Ill.

Peter Siessman

Attorney at Law

120 S. Western Ave.

Chicago, Ill.

J. J. Capelles

Public Ownership

300 Western Ave.

Washington, D.C.

Beverage

2,500 SOCIALIST LEAVES FOR $1.50

The Pocket Library of Socialism.

by Fredric Edelman

Pocket Books, Inc.

New York, 1933

SOCIALIST TEMPLE

120 S. Western Ave.

Chicago, Ill.

Kellogg Music School

120 S. Western Ave.

Chicago, Ill.

Cigars and Tobacco

Socialist Temple

120 S. Western Ave.

Chicago, Ill.

Peter Siessman

Attorney at Law

120 S. Western Ave.

Chicago, Ill.

J. J. Capelles

Public Ownership

300 Western Ave.

Washington, D.C.