"Workmen of all countries unite! You have nothing to lose but your chains; you have a world to gain."

"The Night School"

The school was held in the evening of every Monday and Thursday, in a room on the second floor of the Workers' Institute. The classes were free, and all were welcome to attend. The teacher, a skilled craftsman, taught the students how to read and write, and gave them an understanding of the principles of socialism.

"Roosevelt's Opening Speech at the Buffalo Exposition"

Roosevelt, in his opening speech, emphasized the importance of understanding and respecting the natural world. He spoke about the need to protect the environment, and the importance of sustainable practices. He also emphasized the role of technology in shaping the future of the country.

"A STRENUOUS FRAUD"

The article discusses the fraudulent practices of a company that was accused of overcharging customers. The article highlights the need for regulation and transparency in business practices.

"SYMPTOMS OF DEATH"

This article discusses the symptoms of death in the elderly population. It highlights the importance of recognizing the signs of end-stage illness and the need for end-of-life care.

"FUNGUS GROWTH ON SOCIETY"

The article explores the concept of fungus growth on society, drawing parallels between the growth of fungi and the spread of ideas. It emphasizes the importance of maintaining a healthy environment and preventing the spread of harmful ideas.

"The Workers' Call"

This issue of the Workers' Call highlights the importance of unity and solidarity. It features articles on the need for international solidarity and the role of the working class in shaping the future of society.
Socialist Pointers

Have you seen one of Bleyler's stage plays? If so, what did you think of it?

Bleyler was a renowned playwright whose works often tackled social and political issues with a unique perspective. The use of stage plays was a common form of entertainment in the early 20th century, providing audiences with a platform to discuss pressing concerns of the era.

---

Correspondence

From Comrade M. N. Yag.

702, Chicago, Illinois, February 5, 1902.

To Comrade T. J. O'Connor, Editor.

We have received a copy of the latest issue of The Socialist and are pleased to note that your paper is gaining in circulation and influence. We are confident that your efforts and contributions will help to further the cause of socialism in our country.

Yours sincerely,

Comrade M. N. Yag.

---

Making and Breaking

An illustration of the process of making and breaking...

The image shows a series of tools and materials used in the craft of making and breaking, possibly for the purpose of demonstrating the stages or techniques involved in creating or altering objects.

---

Money For Socialists

We have received a donation from Mr. A. B. Smith, a long-time supporter of socialist causes. His generous contribution will be used to support the activities of our local branch, enabling us to continue our educational work and further our goals.

Thank you, Mr. Smith, for your continued support.

---

Harmeny, Sweet Harmony

A poem by poet X. Y. Z.

In the quiet of the night, when the world is still,

Harmony, sweet harmony, doth dwell.

A melody that soothes the soul's delight,

With notes of hope and love and light.

It conquers all, o'er every strife and fear,

For harmony is the music of the year.

---

Flora Miss Thorne's Annual

Miss Thorne, a well-known socialite and philanthropist, has invited members of our socialist group to attend her annual birthday party. This event will provide an excellent opportunity to network and engage with a broader audience.

We hope to see you there.

---

Shap Shuts by the Waters

A dramatic production about the struggle for workers' rights.

The play explores the conflict between the employers and laborers, highlighting the importance of solidarity and unity in the face of oppression.

---

The Workers' Call

An article from the Workers' Call, a newspaper dedicated to the cause of labor rights and socialism.

The call for a united front against the forces of oppression is stronger than ever.

---

The Berry Hunt

A historical account of the berry hunt.

The berry hunt was a traditional event, celebrated by our forefathers for the purpose of gathering wild berries.

---

National Correspondence

From Comrade J. H.科技

123 Main Street, New York, February 4, 1902.

To Comrade W. H. Tech.

We are pleased to report that our efforts to establish a socialist chapter in New York are gaining momentum. The local community has shown great interest in our cause.

Yours sincerely,

Comrade J. H.科

---

The Workers' Call

An article from the Workers' Call, a newspaper dedicated to the cause of labor rights and socialism.

The call for a united front against the forces of oppression is stronger than ever.

---

The Berry Hunt

A historical account of the berry hunt.

The berry hunt was a traditional event, celebrated by our forefathers for the purpose of gathering wild berries.

---

National Correspondence

From Comrade J. H.科技

123 Main Street, New York, February 4, 1902.

To Comrade W. H. Tech.

We are pleased to report that our efforts to establish a socialist chapter in New York are gaining momentum. The local community has shown great interest in our cause.

Yours sincerely,

Comrade J. H.科

---

The Workers' Call

An article from the Workers' Call, a newspaper dedicated to the cause of labor rights and socialism.

The call for a united front against the forces of oppression is stronger than ever.

---

The Berry Hunt

A historical account of the berry hunt.

The berry hunt was a traditional event, celebrated by our forefathers for the purpose of gathering wild berries.

---

National Correspondence

From Comrade J. H.科技

123 Main Street, New York, February 4, 1902.

To Comrade W. H. Tech.

We are pleased to report that our efforts to establish a socialist chapter in New York are gaining momentum. The local community has shown great interest in our cause.

Yours sincerely,

Comrade J. H.科
Why We Are Not Anarchists.

From the Field.

(Continued from last week.)

The epoch-making development of recent years from the standpoint of the production of wealth has been the occurrence of a number of great social and economic changes which have taken place in the industrial world. These changes have affected the conditions under which work is done, the nature of the work itself, and the relations between employer and employee. They have also led to new forms of social organization which have been called anarcho-syndicalism, or, more generally, syndicalism.

Labor Items.

And Now From Twenty Union Journals and Syndicalists' Newspapers.

The annual report of the International Federation of Trade Unions, held at London last month, has been published. It contains a detailed report of the activities of the federation and its constituent organizations during the past year. The report also includes a summary of the labor movement in various countries, with particular reference to the growth of labor unions and the development of labor legislation.

Patriotism New and Old.

Men and Women of America, Have you been True to Your Country?

(Continued from page 1.)

It is all we know what patriotism means. In America, patriotism is not the love of country, but the love of power over others. It is not the desire to see the country free, but the desire to see it governed by a strong central government.

The Tyrant in Overalls.

A Study of the American Czar, from a Capitalist Point of View.

The following article, reprinted from the American Czar, is inserted in this issue as an introduction to the series of articles on the labor movement. The author of the article is a capitalist and his views are represented as those of the capitalist class.

The Blessings of Poverty.

The influence of poverty on the development of the labor movement is shown in the following article, which appears in the American Czar.

Will Make Discoveries.

Annual Outings of Laboring Classes in Various Interior Cities.

The following articles, reprinted from the American Czar, are inserted in this issue as an introduction to the series of articles on the labor movement. The author of the article is a capitalist and his views are represented as those of the capitalist class.
Dont Forget! THE WORKERS' CALL: PIC-NIC.

28th Ward SOCIALIST CLUB.

250 S. 17th St., Chicago.

Library: The Right to be Lazy

International Library Publishing Co.

"Socialism and Modern Science": An interesting, yet popular and

SPECIAL OFFER ON THE INTERNATIONAL SOCIALIST REVIEW.

THE SOCIALIST REVIEW.

International Library.

"SOCIALISM and MODERN SCIENCE": The Book of the Year.

Have You Read

DO OR BE DONE?

The Chicago School of Social Economy.

Join For The Second Course.