News of the Week
And its Philosophy.

Massachusetts representatives are far in advance of legislation in certain parts of the country has been the most striking feature of the session of the legislature, and the action of the state's radical wing in the above respect has produced some important changes in the state's laws. The radical wing of the legislature has been active in the introduction of legislation for the protection of labor, and has been successful in the passage of several important measures. The most notable of these is the bill providing for the establishment of a state commission on labor conditions, which has been signed into law by the governor.

News of the Movement

California will hold a state convention in December.

A delegation from the American Federation of Labor will be in the state in December to confer with the state labor officials and to discuss the possibility of organizing a state labor federation. The delegation will be headed by J. F. McLaughlin, general secretary of the international union, who will be accompanied by a number of leading labor leaders from other states.

Progress of Inventions

The electric motor is now the most important invention of the year. It is estimated that over a million electric motors are in use in the United States, and that the number is increasing at the rate of 50,000 per day. The electric motor is being used in all branches of industry, and is also finding its way into the home.

Propaganda Suggestions

Organization increases productivity. Don't forget to have a few things made. They can be made for you. They are not made for you. They are not of any importance. They can be made for you. They are not made for you. They are not of any importance.

A new invention on the market is a bottle of water that will not freeze. The water is contained in a special container that prevents the formation of ice crystals.

Will Build New Temple

Our issue on the Temple engine has been a great success. It is a distinct improvement over the old engine, and we are now on the way to building a new one. The new engine will be larger and more powerful than the old, and we expect to have it in operation by the end of the year.
