The Next Step: A Benevolent Feudalism

By W. J. Ghent

The Next Step in the State.—The organized dominance of two great classes with despotic power is the form of the future probably, actually, and the only form which the great masses of the people can obtain, if indeed they can obtain it at all. The more the working masses engage in modern factory organization, the more, I am convinced, they will be forced into a stricter feudalism. The masses are accustomed to accept authority, whether they like it or not. And in all such organizations, the masses accept the authority of the organization. The time is coming, I believe, when there will be no authority that the masses will not accept, if they are not forced to accept it.

Elements of Future Capitalism.

In the first place, the tremendous increase in the size of the working class will make it impossible to solve the problems of labor and property without the organization of labor. The great masses of the people are organized in the factory, and in the home, and in the factory organization, they must be able to accept the authority of the organization. The masses are accustomed to accept authority, whether they like it or not. And in all such organizations, the masses accept the authority of the organization. The time is coming, I believe, when there will be no authority that the masses will not accept, if they are not forced to accept it.

Democracy and Feudalism.

In the second place, the tremendous increase in the size of the working class will make it impossible to solve the problems of labor and property without the organization of labor. The great masses of the people are organized in the factory, and in the home, and in the factory organization, they must be able to accept the authority of the organization. The masses are accustomed to accept authority, whether they like it or not. And in all such organizations, the masses accept the authority of the organization. The time is coming, I believe, when there will be no authority that the masses will not accept, if they are not forced to accept it.

Conclusion.

In conclusion, I believe that the only solution of the labor and property problems of the future will be the organization of labor. The masses are accustomed to accept authority, whether they like it or not. And in all such organizations, the masses accept the authority of the organization. The time is coming, I believe, when there will be no authority that the masses will not accept, if they are not forced to accept it.

The Chicago Socialist.

"Workingmen of all countries unite! You have nothing to lose but your chains: you have a world to gain."

FOURTH YEAR.—WHOLE NO. 162.

CHICAGO, ILL., SATURDAY, APRIL 12, 1902.

PRICE TWO CENTS

Special Mayday Issue.

No. 164 of the Chicago Socialist will be a special Mayday paper. A cartoon by William Crane and a poem by Wm. R. Fox will adorn the front page, and special articles will be contributed by Edward K. Wood, Henry F. C. G. M. Blodgett, Paul D. Keeping, A. A. H. Hadley, Henry W. F. Everitt, and others. The Socialist will be printed on a new press, and will have a new type and style. The papers will be delivered to the public free of charge.

One Concession to the Workers.

In the next stage of the development of society, the workers will be given a limited measure of freedom. They will be allowed to organize and to elect their own representatives. In the future, the working class will be the ruling class in the country. The workers will have the power to control the government. The workers will be able to elect their own officials. They will have the power to vote on all questions. They will have the power to make their own laws. The workers will be able to decide the questions of labor and property. The workers will be able to solve the problems of labor and property without the organization of labor. The masses are accustomed to accept authority, whether they like it or not. And in all such organizations, the masses accept the authority of the organization. The time is coming, I believe, when there will be no authority that the masses will not accept, if they are not forced to accept it.

NAILING A LIE.

Our Prediction Verified.

That the vote of the American People in favor of the war will not be sustained.

The prediction made in our editorial on the 12th instant has been fully sustained by the results of the election. The American people have given their verdict against the war, and have declared their determination to hold firm to the principles of the Constitution, and to resist any effort to violate it.

HIRSCH SPARKS SPEAKERS.

Leader in the Holbrook Band, The Band of the United States.

Hirsch Hirsch, the speaker, said:—

"We cannot raise the question of the right of the American people to live in the United States without a struggle. The American people have the power to resist the wishes of the government, and to maintain their independence."

The recent election has shown the power of the American people to resist the government. The government has been compelled to yield to the will of the people, and to acknowledge the right of the people to live in the United States.
