Discussion on Platform and Tactics.

In his article on "Platform and Tactics," Dr. E. M. Engels, a disciple of Karl Marx, states that the working class is the only class which can destroy the capitalist system and establish a classless society. He argues that the working class must unite and organize in order to achieve this goal. Engels believes that the working class must take control of the government and use it to benefit the working class.

Illinois State Notes.

Rockford.

Local labor leaders have added to their list of demands the right to organize, to strike, and to picket. These demands have been met with resistance by the employers, who have threatened to fire workers who participate in these activities. However, the labor leaders are determined to fight for these rights.

Middle Grove.

The local labor leaders have called for a general strike to demand better working conditions and higher wages. The employers have threatened to close down the plant, but the workers are determined to fight for their rights.

Exploitation of Labor.

Judge Jenkins is showing above all else in the current Los Angeles strike. He has said that it is a fundamental issue of the capitalistic system.

Working on one of the mills will be about 15,000 of the workers. The strike is a general one, covering all industries in the city, including manufacturing, retail trade, transportation, and service industries.

Workers have been working without pay for months on end. They have been denied the basic rights of freedom, including the right to organize, to bargain collectively, and to have a voice in their workplace.

The strike is expected to continue for at least another week. Workers are demanding a living wage, safe working conditions, and the right to unionize.

The police have been called in to maintain order, but workers have vowed to continue their strike until their demands are met.

The strike is a major test of the capitalist system in the United States. It is a test of whether workers will be able to fight for their rights and to change the system that oppresses them.

The strike is also a test of the strength of the unions. It is a test of whether workers will be able to organize and to stand together against the power of the capitalists.

The strike is a test of the moral and ethical values of the capitalist system. It is a test of whether workers will be able to affirm their humanity and to resist the forces of exploitation.

The strike is a test of the future of the capitalist system. It is a test of whether workers will be able to build a new system that is based on justice, equality, and freedom.

The strike is a test of the future of the United States. It is a test of whether we will be able to build a country that is truly democratic, that is truly free, and that is truly just.
