CAPITALIST INFAMIES

By EUGENE V. DEBS

Youth to labor, to labor, to labor, in the words of a great leader—"reformers" of the labor movement tell us, the working man has the solution of all the difficulties of the world in his hands. And yet it is not the laboring man who is the reformer, but the capitalist who is the reformer. The capitalist is in the leadership of the whole movement, and the workers follow after him, never realizing that they are being led into the very jaws of the monster. The capitalist is the master of the working class, and he will not let it go, for the capitalist is the owner of the capital. And the owner of capital is the master of the working class.

The capitalist class is the master of the working class. The working class is the slave of the capitalist class. The capitalist class is the master of the working class. The working class is the slave of the capitalist class. The capitalist class is the master of the working class. The working class is the slave of the capitalist class.

The capitalist class is the master of the working class. The working class is the slave of the capitalist class. The capitalist class is the master of the working class. The working class is the slave of the capitalist class. The capitalist class is the master of the working class. The working class is the slave of the capitalist class.

The capitalist class is the master of the working class. The working class is the slave of the capitalist class. The capitalist class is the master of the working class. The working class is the slave of the capitalist class. The capitalist class is the master of the working class. The working class is the slave of the capitalist class.

POLITICAL EGOSMISM IN THE INTERSTATE CONGRESS.

By Charles L. Brooks.

The Socialist press and the trade union movement which has grown up with discussion about political egoism in the Interstate Congress, has a great deal to say about it. Many of the congressmen who are members of the Interstate Congress are elected on the Republican ticket, and they are supposed to be the representatives of the interests of the state which they represent.

But the Interstate Congress is not the only political body which has been subject to criticism for the way in which it has been conducted. The Democratic party has also been accused of political egoism. The Democratic party is not the only political party which has been subject to criticism, but it is the most prominent political party in the United States.

The state of political egoism in the Interstate Congress is a matter of great importance, because the Interstate Congress is the highest political body in the country. The Interstate Congress is the highest political body in the country, and it is the most important political body in the country. The Interstate Congress is the highest political body in the country, and it is the most important political body in the country.

A. L. U. HEADQUARTERS COMING TO CHICAGO.

The national headquarters of the American Labor Union will be in Chicago. By July 1 the large new building will be ready for occupancy. It is at the corner of Van Buren street and Wabash avenue, the most business section of the city. Every newspaper office and every large movement in the city will be within a block or two.

The number of clerical jobs in the city has increased greatly, and there are now more than 50,000 clerical positions. The building will be used exclusively for the purpose of providing work for the clerical workers.

DOTTING DASHES ON THE CLASS STRUGGLE.

BY HERB A. WRIGHT

After a struggle of more than three years, Beaux Dames' Union, Local 16, of the American Federation of Labor, has secured its recognition by the American Labor Union. This is the first time that a union has been recognized by the American Labor Union, but it is only the beginning of the movement.

The strike was initiated by the workers in the hat-making industry, who were dissatisfied with their working conditions. They demanded better wages, shorter hours, and better working conditions. The company refused to negotiate, and the strike began.

The strike lasted for three months, during which time the company tried to break the union by hiring scabs. But the workers were determined to remain united and to win their demands.

Finally, after a long struggle, the company agreed to negotiate with the union. The terms of the agreement included higher wages, shorter hours, and better working conditions.

The workers were now able to organize and to demand their rights. And they did not fail to do so. They demanded better wages, shorter hours, and better working conditions.

The company was forced to yield, and the workers were able to win their demands. The strike was a great victory for the workers, and it was a great victory for the American Labor Union.

The American Labor Union has now moved into its new headquarters, and it is ready for business.
