Socialist Representatives at Springfield Get Past a 'Soft' Turn Down in Lobby.

STRIKE—BREAKER ROOSEVELT.

The New Primary Bill—80 Bills Later—Died Today in the Illinois House and Senate and Served an Article of Inquiry to Socialist Legislators.

BY THOMAS J. MORGAN.

Recently Roosevelt was quoted in an Illinois newspaper as saying that if the Socialist representatives did not show up to answer the articles of inquiry in the legislature, the 'inquiry' would remain a 'hot potato' for the Democrats. Roosevelt’s statement was based on the fact that the Socialist representatives, led by Governor Bissell, had showed up to answer articles of inquiry, but had not shown up to answer the articles of inquiry in the legislature, and therefore, if they did not show up, the inquiry would remain a 'hot potato' for the Democrats.

THE SECOND, THIRD AND FOURTH VOLUMES OF MARX'S "CAPITAL."
BY ERNEST UTERMANN.

THE WAY IT FIGURES OUT.

The secret of privilege and wealth lies in the production of surplus value. The secret of the striking disparity between the output of labor and the returns derived from it lies in the fact that the surplus value is made possible. The first is derived from the second, but it would be absurd to look the other way round. The surplus value is a result of labor. The laborer works to earn a living. In the process of producing what is necessary for his own consumption, he produces surplus value. This surplus value is the secret of profit, which enables the employer to make a profit on his labor. If the surplus value is not produced, there can be no profit.

The secret of surplus value is the secret of the struggle between classes. The struggle between the classes is the struggle between what is necessary for the laborer and what is necessary for the employer. The secret of surplus value is the secret of the class struggle.

With the rise of industries in the state that led to the formation of labor unions, the surplus value increased. The surplus value was not a new idea, but it was a new idea in the state that led to the formation of labor unions. The surplus value was the secret of the struggle between the classes. The struggle between the classes was the struggle between what is necessary for the laborer and what is necessary for the employer. The surplus value was the secret of the struggle between the classes.
