The Progress of the Movement

In the Chicago Socialists there are some radical changes in our policies, the Chicago Socialists having adopted a new platform.

The old platform of the Chicago Socialists was based on the principle of free speech. The new platform is based on the principle of free thought. The old platform was limited to the protection of the right of speech. The new platform is unlimited in its scope. The old platform was limited to the protection of the right of speech, and in that respect it was limited in its scope. The new platform is unlimited in its scope. THE PEWSMISTIC PRESENT.

PURPOSE TWO.

It is not the intention of this writer to be critical toward the present, nor to suggest that the present is inferior to the past. The purpose is to bring to each of our readers the recognition that the present is a time of change, of uncertainty, of flux. The present is not only the time of our own lives, but also the time of the world in which we live. The present is a time of transition, of struggle, of hope.

In the present, there is a need for understanding, for patience, for tolerance. The present is a time of challenge, of test, of opportunity. The present is a time of possibility, of growth, of evolution.

In the present, there is a need for vision, for imagination, for creativity. The present is a time of growth, of change, of progress. The present is a time of potential, of promise, of hope.

In the present, there is a need for action, for courage, for determination. The present is a time of trial, of challenge, of test. The present is a time of courage, of strength, of will.

In the present, there is a need for understanding, for compassion, for empathy. The present is a time of pain, of suffering, of struggle. The present is a time of sorrow, of loss, of challenge.

In the present, there is a need for inspiration, for guidance, for direction. The present is a time of hope, of faith, of reason. The present is a time of guidance, of hope, of confidence.

In the present, there is a need for community, for solidarity, for togetherness. The present is a time of division, of conflict, of opposition. The present is a time of separation, of division, of estrangement.

In the present, there is a need for hope, for optimism, for confidence. The present is a time of despair, of fear, of doubt. The present is a time of fear, of doubt, of uncertainty.

In the present, there is a need for understanding, for empathy, for compassion. The present is a time of pain, of suffering, of struggle. The present is a time of sorrow, of loss, of challenge.
