AN EMERGENCY CALL.

The very act in trenching with the present Emergency is an act of aggression and subversion of the democratic institutions of the country. In organizing the American Federation of Labor, Congress has acceded to the demands of the socialist movement, and the Socialist party is now in possession of a squarely and firmly organized mass movement in the country. It is not necessary to call upon the people to vote, for the socialists are already in control of all the political machinery. The socialist movement is not a revolutionary movement, but a movement of the working classes for the purpose of establishing a new order of society in which the working classes shall be in control, and in which they shall have all the rights of citizenship. The socialist movement is not a revolution, but a peaceful and orderly movement of the working classes for the purpose of establishing a new order of society in which the working classes shall be in control, and in which they shall have all the rights of citizenship.
