THE MISUSE OF WEALTH.

Some Facts that Should Set the Wealth Producers to Thinking—Wealth Unrest in Abundance, but the Wealth Creators

Am Uninwardly in Grade!

By CLEVELAND REPORTER IN ACCORDANCE FOR JANUARY.

Mr. Washington, how are you doing?

Well, I am doing well, thank you. How are you?

I am doing well, too. What are you working on now?

I am working on a story about the misuse of wealth. Some facts that should set the wealth producers to thinking. The wealth unrest in abundance, but the wealth creators are uninterestedly in grade.

We are the greatest people in the world. The wealthiest people in the world. The richest people in the world. But we are not using our wealth as it should be used. We are not putting it to the best possible use. Our wealth is being wasted and misused.

We are spending millions, billions, trillions of dollars. We are building grand mansions, luxury yachts, private planes. We are wasting our wealth on unnecessary luxuries. We are not using it to improve the living conditions of the working class.

Our wealth is not being used to build schools, hospitals, roads, bridges. It is not being used to provide decent housing for the working class. It is not being used to provide education for the children.

We are not using our wealth to improve the living conditions of the working class. We are not using our wealth to provide opportunity for the working class. We are not using our wealth to provide hope for the working class.

The wealth unrest is in abundance, but the wealth creators are uninterestedly in grade. They are not putting their wealth to the best possible use. They are not using it to improve the living conditions of the working class.

We should be ashamed of ourselves. We should be ashamed of our wealth. We should be ashamed of our misuse of wealth. We should be ashamed of our uninterestedness in grade.

We should use our wealth to improve the living conditions of the working class. We should use our wealth to provide opportunity for the working class. We should use our wealth to provide hope for the working class.

We should be a people of action. We should be a people of purpose. We should be a people of wealth. We should be a people of the working class.
REVOLUTIONS, PAST AND PRESENT.

(The material by W. Nasser for the Australian Socialist Review.)

The world is changing, and revolutionary forces are at work in every country. It is easy to foresee certain developments that will take place within the next few years, and in which the professional socialist will have a part to play.

In many countries, the middle class is finding itself in a new position, and in which the professional socialist will have a part to play.

AND IN CHICAGO AT THAT.

A most remarkable thing happened in Chicago last week. The other day, a thing that looked like a revolution. The whole thing is very complicated and involves the lives of millions of people. It is difficult to understand it all, but it is a real revolution. The whole thing is very complicated and involves the lives of millions of people. Class Juries in a Republic

By Seymour Stedman

The theory of the law of Illinois is that a State law is not in force unless the jury has sworn to adhere to it. This has been true for years, and it will continue to be true until the 20th century. The jury is a body of citizens who are selected by lot, and it must be composed of men who have no interest in the case. The jury's function is to decide the facts of the case, and it must be free from bias and prejudice. The law of Illinois requires that the jury must be impartial and conscientious, and that it must be able to render a just verdict. The jury is the final arbiter of the law, and it is the only body that can determine the guilt or innocence of a defendant. The jury system is the cornerstone of the American justice system, and it is a system that has stood the test of time. The jury system is a system that is based on the principle of equality, and it is a system that is designed to protect the rights of the individual. The jury system is a system that is designed to ensure that justice is done, and it is a system that is designed to protect the rights of all people. The jury system is a system that is based on the principle of habeas corpus, and it is a system that is designed to ensure that a person is not held in prison without justification. The jury system is a system that is designed to ensure that a person is not held in prison without habeas corpus, and it is a system that is designed to ensure that a person is not held in prison without habeas corpus.
