THE CHICAGO SOCIALIST, JUNE 23, 1906.

THE BIG EDITION A SUCCESS.

The special editions of the Chicago Socialists at the World's Fair and the Socialist at the Pan-American Exposition are now being published with the same success as ever.

We have received a large number of orders for them from all parts of the country.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

An address to the public was made by Mr. F. R. B. Haines, President of the Chicago Socialists, at the World's Fair, June 20.

The address was well received and the visitors were much interested in the questions raised by the Socialist, who said that the American people were not getting a fair deal from the government, that the government was not doing its work, and that the Socialists were ready to take it over.

THE SOCIALIST A NEWSPAPER.

The Socialist is a new newspaper, and it is now being published in the United States.

It is a daily paper, and it is published every day except Sunday.

THE INTERNATIONAL SOCIALIST.

The International Socialist is published every Monday, and it is now being published in the United States.

It is a monthly paper, and it is published every month.
