Capitalism has solved production; Socialism will solve distribution.

THE CHICAGO SOCIALIST
VOL. VI. CHICAGO, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1906
NO. 405

"ABOLISH PARTIES!" RUIN SOCIALISTS

Reformers Will Not Have the Eagle, the Boaster, or the Strong Arm of Labor on City Ballots.

The Socialist Party is not a party of 'bulls' ere, or 'eagles' ere, or 'boasters', ere, but a party of honest men, who believe in and advocate the solution of the labor question by the establishment of a government, or a form of government, under which labor shall be the master and not the slave of capital; under which the worker shall be able to organize and manage his own business, and not be compelled to sell his labor for starvation wages to a small clique of owners of capital.

THE PANTHER PARTY.

In the late Chicago, said the Pantograph, 'no honest man should support a party that advocates the overthrow of the State by force or violence. Socialism is a sound philosophy, but it is not a party philosophy. It is not a party that advocates the overthrow of the State by force or violence. It is not a party that advocates the overthrow of the State by force or violence. It is not a party that advocates the overthrow of the State by force or violence. It is not a party that advocates the overthrow of the State by force or violence. It is not a party that advocates the overthrow of the State by force or violence. It is not a party that advocates the overthrow of the State by force or violence. It is not a party that advocates the overthrow of the State by force or violence. It is not a party that advocates the overthrow of the State by force or violence.'

SHEA CASE Furnishes Another Sensation

Albert Young betray his fellow workers to Capitalist Court for Revenus.

Last month there was a great deal of talk about the Shea Case furnishing another sensation. The case was a big one, and the attention of the public was focused on it. The defendant was charged with having given false information to the government, and the evidence against him was strong. However, the judge ruled that there was not sufficient evidence to support the charges, and the defendant was acquitted. The case had been watched by the public, and the acquittal was hailed as a victory for justice.

GREETING ITCHING POLITICAL PALM

Chicago's Garbage is used to Oil Political Machines Before Making Toilet Soap.

Greasing the political palm is a thriving business, and Chicago has its share of the trade. The city has a large supply of garbage, which is used to oil the machines of the political parties. The garbage is collected and cleaned, and then it is used to make toilet soap. This soap is sold at a price that is high enough to make a profit for the political parties, and it is a nice way to get some money out of the people.

CHINESE IN THE TRANSVAAL.

Conditions of Coolie Labor in South Africa.

The conditions of coolie labor in South Africa are very bad. The coolies are treated very harshly, and their wages are very low. The government of the Transvaal has been very cruel to the coolies, and they have been forced to work long hours for very little pay. The coolies have been treated very unfairly, and it is a shame that they have been allowed to work under such conditions.

RAILWAY UNION TURNS SOCIALIST.

British Labor Clubs Class Party and Makes Amazing Progress.

The British Railway Unions have turned socialist, and they are making amazing progress. The unions have been very active, and they have been able to win some very important victories. The workers have been able to get better wages and better working conditions, and they have been able to force the companies to treat them fairly. The unions have been very strong, and they have been able to win some very important victories.
THE CAPITALIST TREASON
BY H. W. B. MACKAY

A deplorable trend in the United States is the increasing tendency of the government to interfere in the affairs of the individual. This trend has been accelerated as a result of the recent economic depression, which has made it necessary for the government to become more active in order to prevent the breakdown of the economy.

The government has taken over the control of various industries, and has implemented regulations and policies that affect the lives of individuals. This has led to a loss of personal freedom and autonomy, which are essential for a healthy society.

We must resist these trends and work towards a society in which the government plays a more limited role, allowing individuals to make their own choices and live their lives without undue interference.
President Roosevelt's Solution of the Labor Problem

In all the long list of letters sent by presidents of the United States to Congress, Roosevelt's stands unique in the attention given to the labor problem. Roosevelt's tireless devotion to this subject is thus all the more extraordinary.

In the words of a recent biographer of Roosevelt: "The solution that he has given to these problems is a result of his deep conviction that the problems of the laboring man are essentially those of the whole nation. He has emphasized this in his messages to Congress, and in his speeches and writings. It is not only true that the laboring man is the backbone of the nation, but also that his problems are the problems of all of us."

The labor problem is one of the most important and urgent problems of our time. It is a question of the well-being of the nation as a whole, and the welfare of every individual in it. The labor problem is not merely a question of wages and hours, but it involves the whole question of the relationship between capital and labor, the distribution of wealth, and the protection of the rights of workers.

In his message to Congress, President Roosevelt said: "The labor problem is not merely a question of wages and hours, but it involves the whole question of the relationship between capital and labor, the distribution of wealth, and the protection of the rights of workers. It is a question of the well-being of the nation as a whole, and the welfare of every individual in it."

The labor problem is one that requires the attention and support of all of us. It is a question that affects every individual in this country, and it is a question that can be solved only by the cooperation of all of us.

The labor problem is one of the most important and urgent problems of our time. It is a question of the well-being of the nation as a whole, and the welfare of every individual in it. The labor problem is not merely a question of wages and hours, but it involves the whole question of the relationship between capital and labor, the distribution of wealth, and the protection of the rights of workers.

In his message to Congress, President Roosevelt said: "The labor problem is not merely a question of wages and hours, but it involves the whole question of the relationship between capital and labor, the distribution of wealth, and the protection of the rights of workers. It is a question of the well-being of the nation as a whole, and the welfare of every individual in it."

The labor problem is one that requires the attention and support of all of us. It is a question that affects every individual in this country, and it is a question that can be solved only by the cooperation of all of us.

The labor problem is one of the most important and urgent problems of our time. It is a question of the well-being of the nation as a whole, and the welfare of every individual in it. The labor problem is not merely a question of wages and hours, but it involves the whole question of the relationship between capital and labor, the distribution of wealth, and the protection of the rights of workers.

In his message to Congress, President Roosevelt said: "The labor problem is not merely a question of wages and hours, but it involves the whole question of the relationship between capital and labor, the distribution of wealth, and the protection of the rights of workers. It is a question of the well-being of the nation as a whole, and the welfare of every individual in it."

The labor problem is one that requires the attention and support of all of us. It is a question that affects every individual in this country, and it is a question that can be solved only by the cooperation of all of us.