GERMANY AWAITS ELECTION JOYFULLY

Manifest of Workers' Party
Rings and Royalty and Reactionaries Trouble

Berlin. Dec. 21—All Germany, awaimes, is stirred by the manifestos of the Social Democratic Party. It is beginning to look like a struggle between the classes.

The Manifesto, which was distributed today, is the product of the Social Democratic Party. It is a document which has been in the making for some time. The party is divided into two factions, the Revisionists and the Radicals. The Revisionists are more conservative and want to maintain the status quo. The Radicals are more radical and want to bring about social change.

The Manifesto calls for a revolution, and states that the party will support any action that will bring about the downfall of the ruling class. The party is calling for a general strike, and is encouraging workers to take to the streets.

The Manifesto ends with the following words: "We will not rest until we have achieved our goal. We will fight until the end. We will not yield to any power."

CHICAGO'S NEW CHARTER

Allied Unions Endure Protest

Chicago, Dec. 21—The Chicago City Council has passed a new charter for the city, which will go into effect on January 1st. The charter was the result of several years of debate and controversy.

The charter includes provisions for a stronger mayor, a reorganized council, and increased citizen participation in city government.

The charter was opposed by many in the city, particularly the labor unions. The Allied Unions, a group of 13 unions, have been actively opposed to the charter, arguing that it would weaken their influence.

PILOT TO "MAKE" LAW IS MATERIALIZING

Employers, Alased By Judges, Would-Judges Agitators or Exhast-Union Funds.

Chicago, Dec. 21—A pilot project to "make" law has been proposed in Chicago, which would allow judges to make decisions that could be binding on employers. The project is opposed by the employers, who fear that it would lead to"law without lawmaking."
The Old Year and the New

RING-OUT THE OLD, RING IN THE NEW

Many more years have been marked by the years of an already decrepit civilization. These twelve months have been packed with crises and responses, with publications and consolidations, with the formation of ever larger conspiracies, with the welding of our accelerating speed of social and cultural evolution, with a growing sense of solidarity among the workers, with the increasing working-class consciousness of the need for an organised and conscious attack on the causes of our distress. It is a period of progress and of growth, of change and of struggle, with a clearer definition of the needs and struggles, with a greater understanding of the problems of the proletariat.

We are now at the end of this year. This is no time for complacency. The present state of the world is not the end of the old year's troubles, but the beginning of a new and more serious period. The struggles of the coming year will be more intense and more decisive. The old year has shown us what must be done; the new year must show us how to do it.

Let us say that the old year is now over. At the end of every year we seem to be standing on the threshold of a new era. We are not just starting a new year, but starting a new phase in the struggle for a new world. This is the year of action, the year of decision.

Every year that passes means that we are just one step closer to the cooperative commonwealth. The old year has shown us the way. Let us use it as a stepping stone to the future.

The New Year is coming. Let us be ready. Let us be strong. Let us be united. Let us be determined. Let us be ready to fight for the future. Let us be ready to build a new world. Let us be ready to make the New Year the year of revolution.

Business Administration

The capitalist press of this city is saying that the one thing needed in the upper government of Chicago last year was a "business administration." But most of the government's actions were taken by "business men" every problem would be solved with business methods.

We might suggest that there are other interests that need attention besides the "business" ones. There are the workers, the farmers, the intellectuals, the artists, and the creative thinkers who are the真正动力 of society.

These are the people who are the real problem in this country today. The "business" philosophy is not the solution. We need a new administration that will work for the good of all people, not just for the "business" ones.

What Do Socialists Want?

This is a question that is asked frequently. Sometimes it is asked as if it were a question of a teacher who has no answer to give. Sometimes it is asked in a way that is designed to ridicule the socialist movement and to make it appear foolish.

This is a question that can only be answered by those who know the socialist movement. It is a question that can only be answered by those who have studied the socialist movement and have a deep understanding of its aims and objectives. It is a question that can only be answered by those who have a clear vision of the future and a firm belief in the possibility of a better world.

The question is a challenge to the socialist movement. It is a challenge to show the world what socialism can do. It is a challenge to demonstrate the power of the socialist movement to change the world. It is a challenge to show the world that socialism is the only way to true freedom and happiness.
