The Poor Man in the Courts

The problem of the People on the 36th Ward is not an isolated one. In fact, it is a problem that affects all of us. In this ward, as in others, the rich and the powerful have used their influence to control the system of justice, and this has resulted in a system where the poor and the powerless are often ignored.

One of the main issues in this case is the lack of access to legal representation for those who cannot afford it. The poor are often forced to represent themselves in court, and this can lead to unfair outcomes. The system is set up in such a way that those who have money have more access to justice, while those who do not have money are at a disadvantage.

Another issue is the lack of resources in the legal system. Courtrooms are often understaffed, and judges are often overworked. This can lead to delays in justice, and sometimes to errors in判决.

In this case, the poor man has been denied the opportunity to present his case fairly. He has been unable to hire a lawyer, and he has been forced to represent himself in court. This has resulted in a decision that is unfair and unjust.

The poor man is calling on all of us to stand with him in this struggle for justice. We must demand that the system of justice be reformed so that it truly serves all people, regardless of their wealth or status.
MINE OWNERS TRY TO CONTROL SHERIFF

Cripple Creek Criminals are Started When the New Sheriff Refused to Obey Orders

Cripple Creek, Colo., Feb. 10.—The decision of Judge H. S. T. Blanding of Colorado, who has been appointed sheriff by Gov. Hiram E. Love, to bring to justice certain mine operators who are charged with murder and assault, has created a lot of bitterness among the mine interests in this district.

The mine owners, it is learned, are endeavoring to get the new sheriff removed from office. They claim that he is too hard on the mine operators and that he is not doing enough to protect the interests of the employers.

The new sheriff has refused to be bullied by the mine operators and has said that he would do his duty as best he could. He has promised to do everything in his power to bring the criminals to justice and to protect the interests of the employees.

The mine owners, it is reported, are now attempting to organize a new sheriff, and the matter is expected to be settled at an early date.

Civic Federation Imports English Scholar to "Best" Socialism in Colleges

New York, Feb. 15.—The Civic Fed- eration of New York has arranged for the arrival of a well-known English scholar, who is a proponent of socialism, to give lectures in the colleges of this city.

The scholar, who is coming from England, is expected to give lectures on the principles of socialism and to discuss the merits of the socialist movement.

The Civic Federation has arranged for the scholar to give lectures in the colleges of this city, and it is expected that a large number of students will attend these lectures.

A Common Story

So, for our girl, the choice was not so easy as for her brother. She was torn between two sets of values. Her parents were strict, and they wanted her to marry a man of their choice. But she was attracted to a man who was different from her family. She was not sure whether she should follow her parents' wishes or her own heart.

The Struggle for Existence

WALTER THOMAS MILLS, A. M.
A Trusted Educational System

The gift of $50,000,000 to the National Educational Board marks a new step in the process of establishing a trust-endowed system of education in cooperation with the public schools and universities.

'Those commissions will be owned equally by the same bodies that now own the industrial machinery.

But these extensions to the school will be fulfilled when it is remembered that the total sum expended annually for education in the United States is about two hundred million dollars.

This influence sometimes makes itself apparent in dramatic effects as these just quoted. Commonly it works in a more insidious way.

Under the direction of the late President Harper, Nicholas Murray Butler (the educational agent of J. Pierpont Morgan) and others, (formerly of New York University) a scheme was worked out by which the functions of the National Educational Association were in whole and half dimes in the institution of that body, and thereby the former functions of the latter were transferred to the former.

The scheme was approved by the American Board of Education and was defeated largely through the efforts of the members of the Chicago Teachers' Federation.

Herein lies the crime that this scheme has been given up.

The size of the Standard Oil Gal is great permeability in accordance with the demand for national education.

It is a fact that there is a current of thought about the need for educational reforms and the demand for educational changes is to be found everywhere.

In the study of education, it is not difficult to study the present-day system of education, its faults and failures.

The establishment of this good work is to be found in the spirit of the people, in the willingness to support and to give to what they believe in the right and helpful work of the Standard Oil Gal.

IS FAIRLY SAFE TO SAY THAT THESE TRUSTEES WILL NOT BE ATTACHED WITH SPECIAL FAVOR TO ANY PARTY DUE TO THE RADICAL POSITION OF ITS TEACHING STAFF?

This control will be exercised in another and perhaps more subtle way.

THE GIFTS TO THIS FUND WILL NEARLY ALWAYS BE ATTACHED TO SPECIFIC CONDITIONS.

In this respect, the Chicago Teachers' Federation is in a position to do much in the way of helping to improve the system of education.

Education always favors freedom, and in our present society, which favors for Socialism, Chicago University is already a hot-bed of Socialists.

Every Carnegie Hoover will create Socialists in spite of the influence of its former.

The Tamining of the Grey Wolves

"There are few stronger striking features of the educational question than the recent changes in the system of education in the United States. These changes are closely related to the so-called "grey wolves," as they are sometimes called.

These changes have the aim of eliminating the worst aspects of the old system, and at the same time of developing new and better systems.

The power of the "grey wolf" is in the fact that it is able to influence the minds of the people in such a way as to make them believe that their own interests are best served by the old system.

The influence of the "grey wolf" is so strong that it is difficult to resist its power.

The state of the world during the past month, the humblest observer cannot fail to notice.

THE KING BEE

Carnegie Hall was jammed to overflowing with the well-dressed throng, the average attendance being about 2,000,000. The majority of these were not present to listen to the fine music, but to gain the benefit of the good news.

The King Bee was the great feature of the evening, and he was loudly cheered and applauded by the audience.

There was a great deal of wisecracking and humorous remarks, but the audience was not slowed down in its admiration of the King Bee. There were many who thought that the King Bee was not up to his usual form, but he showed that he had not lost his power by making the audience laugh heartily.

Our Fatherland

A group of our boys and girls were present at the meeting, and they were much interested in the proceedings. They were not present to hear the speeches of the politicians, but to enjoy the jokes and the entertainment of the King Bee.

The King Bee was the great feature of the evening, and he was loudly cheered and applauded by the audience.

Two Trials and the Press

Two degenerate specimens of our present ruling class, chartered for life and leased for death, came to life and left death.

Because the killer and the killer promised millions eloped from the premises of the world, the home of the newspapers, and a new breed of America is rearing in the filthy details of the affair.

Page after page of these papers that cater to and sustain the unthinking mob spirit—the spirit which is blind, credulous and inert—have ennobled and exalted over the adventures of the actors in this disgusting tragedy.

This is no great procedure involved in this trial.

No fundamental institution will be disturbed by its决定. No one except the miserable degenerates directly concerned have anything to take at the result.

Another trial is taking place in this country.

In 1907, over a year ago, the trial of two men by the combined forces of two States and the most powerful aggregation of capital in the world is in progress.

In its progress up to the present issue this trial has involved questions for which men have been fighting for more than four centuries.

It has awakened the rights for which literally millions of men have laid down their lives.

It has exposed the highest court in the United States to allegiance to fundamental legal barriers that were reared at the foundation of this government to protect the persons and property of the individual citizens.

This trial will be held for a short hearing on the first of next March. The representatives of millions of the working class have declared their belief in the innocence of the men on trial, and have assumed that an attempt was being made to militarily banish the accused persons in order that the profit-taking class may be secure in its misfeasance.

Thousands of meetings have been held by the workers of the United States, as well as by millions of the laboring classes who believe that their interests are involved in this trial.

Who is Hartrn?n

When I. Pierce Morgan was at the height of his power, a few years ago, H. Gaylord Welborn expressed in his opinion of the editors recently published in book form that Morgan was really the man who ruled the country. This comment was justified by the facts and events of the time.

Morgan was the man who really controlled the financial system of the country. His influence was so great that it was impossible to ignore his wishes and desires.

Morgan's power was so great that even the President of the United States was afraid to oppose him. He was the man who really controlled the country's finances and was able to control the actions of all the other men.
