DEPEW.
His Speech to the Railroad Workmen.

In his address, Mr. DePew said:

"The great Railroad Workmen, who have been so little appreciated by the public and the politicians, have now an opportunity to make a real and permanent change in the political situation of the country. The time has come when they can no longer be regarded as a group of unfree men, but must be recognized as a power which can sway the destinies of the nation. They have been trusted with the care of the public property, and they must not fail in their trust. The system of special legislation, which has hitherto been the rule, must be replaced by a system of general and uniform legislation. The great American railroad companies, which have so long been the victims of special legislation, must be protected and sustained in their efforts to perform their duties efficiently. The workmen, who have been deprived of their rights, must be given the opportunity to work under fair and equal conditions. The railroads, which have been held up to ridicule, must be restored to their proper position as the lifeblood of the nation. ECONOMIC INTERESTS AT BOTTOM

Economic interests are the foundation of government. The workingman, who is the great mass of the population, has the same interests as the capitalist, the manufacturer, and the employer. The workingman is the producer of the nation's wealth, and he should have a share in the fruits of his labor. The capitalist, who furnishes the capital, should have a share in the profits. The manufacturer, who employs the labor, should have a share in the profits. The employer, who provides the employment, should have a share in the profits. JUGGLERY

Political Bait for the Laborer.

A SHAM MUNICIPAL PLATFORM

State of Illinois, Department of Interior, and State.

One thing of the special class has been handed over to the laborer into giving the laborers a share in the control of state affairs. As if these few words were not enough to show the want of understanding that prevails among these people, one of the Republican platform papers has actually written: "The people that desire to know the scheme of government and what it means during the coming presidential campaign."

After throwing the people at the back of the Republican platform papers, its next step is to explain how these people are to be used and how to obtain a majority of the people. The real object of the platform is to show the people how to be used and how to obtain a majority of the people, as it is only by obtaining a majority that anything can be done for the working man.

Socialism

What It Is and What It Seeks to Accomplish.

By John W. Foster

To all laborers, the following statement is made:

First of all, we refer to the question of the nature of the class struggle. This struggle is not the same as the struggle of the working class against the capitalist class. The class struggle is a struggle between two classes, one of which is the dominant class and the other the subordinate class. The dominant class is the class that has the power to control the society, while the subordinate class is the class that is oppressed by the dominant class.

Second, we refer to the question of the role of the working class in the struggle for socialism. The working class is the class that has the potential to bring about a socialist society, but it is not the class that will bring it about. The working class is the class that is oppressed by the dominant class, and it is the class that will bring about a socialist society only when it has the power to control the society.

Third, we refer to the question of the role of the socialist movement in the struggle for socialism. The socialist movement is the movement that is fighting for the rights of the working class, and it is the movement that will bring about a socialist society only when it has the power to control the society.

Finally, we refer to the question of the role of the working class in the socialist movement. The working class is the class that is fighting for the rights of the working class, and it is the class that will bring about a socialist society only when it has the power to control the society.

LAWRENCE D. QUIGG, Chairman.

Title of Socialist Labor Party.

The Socialist Labor Party of Chicago, by its delegates in convention assemble, declares in substance the principles set forth in the following planks.

We hold that the present exploitation of the working class of Chicago, as well as the rest of the American working world, with comparative facility, must form a majority of its working population, united behind a minority of its wealth, and, as a result of this continuous upward movement, is inevitable. The condition of the working class will carry the country
from the industrial into the political field.

We believe that the political condition is the result of the industrial condition and that no political action is possible
without a corresponding industrial action.

The Socialist Labor Party stands for the establishment of a cooperative society of the American working class, and for the abolition of the existing industrial type of
socialism.

Social and political reforms are covered alike, as they are imperative, as one means to the other. The working class must be united in a cooperative society, for the reconciliation of the American people. The political movement is inevitable.
