A Little Reasoning Together With the Workers.

SOMETHING YOU SHOULD READ

How do you get your beef? How do you get your bread? How do you get your clothing? How do you get your electric light? It is not enough to go up against this. We all do our work very much less than you think. If you are really taking an interest in the working classes, you have got to work something that is not being done to-day. The average man is doing a great deal less work to-day than he was ten years ago.

These are some very important words. You are not now doing anything to the efficiency of the working classes. I am going to ask you a question. Are you interested in the working classes? Yes, sir! And I am going to ask you another question. Are you interested in the efficiency of the working classes? Yes, sir! That is the question.

The truth is, you are doing something to make the working classes inefficient. You are not doing enough to improve the efficiency of the working classes.

If you are interested in the working classes, you must do something to improve their efficiency. If you are not interested in the working classes, you must do something to improve their efficiency.

It is not enough to say that you are interested in the working classes. You must do something to improve their efficiency. It is not enough to say that you are interested in the working classes. You must do something to improve their efficiency.

You must do something to improve the efficiency of the working classes.

If you are interested in the working classes, you must do something to improve their efficiency. If you are not interested in the working classes, you must do something to improve their efficiency.

The working classes are doing a great deal less work to-day than they were ten years ago. You are doing something to make the working classes inefficient. If you are interested in the working classes, you must do something to improve their efficiency.

Snap Shuts by the Wayside.

For women at all times the wage-earner, 'whether of the brow or of the brain,' has done as much of the construction of the social order as she has done of the household economy. She will have paid out of each of her earnings the necessary cost of her own support and that of her family, and will have paid in her labor and her work, her contributions toward the support of the public schools and the public highways and the public parks, and the receipt of her own earnings will have paid the necessary cost of the public utility to which she belongs. If she had been educated, she will have paid out of her earnings the cost of her education, and will have paid in her labor and her work, her contributions toward the support of the universities, and the receipt of her earnings will have paid the necessary cost of the educational institution to which she belongs. If she had been a member of a religious denomination, she will have paid out of her earnings the necessary cost of her religious education, and will have paid in her labor and her work, her contributions toward the support of the churches and the religious institutions, and the receipt of her earnings will have paid the necessary cost of the religious institution to which she belongs. If she had been a member of a political party, she will have paid out of her earnings the necessary cost of her political education, and will have paid in her labor and her work, her contributions toward the support of the political parties, and the receipt of her earnings will have paid the necessary cost of the political party to which she belongs. If she had been a member of a charitable society, she will have paid out of her earnings the necessary cost of her charitable education, and will have paid in her labor and her work, her contributions toward the support of the charitable societies, and the receipt of her earnings will have paid the necessary cost of the charitable society to which she belongs.

A New Feature.

We would call special attention to the new feature of our business called "First Day." It is the first day of a new year, of a new week, of a new month, of a new quarter, of a new biennium, of a new century, of a new millennium, of a new eon of history, of a new human age of the new world order of things. It is the first day of the new world order of things. It is the first day of the new world order of things. It is the first day of the new world order of things. It is the first day of the new world order of things.

Cheap Labor.

When making a speech in front of the Washington Club, Mr. Eugene Debs, the Socialist, said that it was the duty of the United States government to make the United States a great nation. He said that it was the duty of the United States government to make the United States a great nation. He said that it was the duty of the United States government to make the United States a great nation. The Polish Entertainment.

The Polish entertainment held last week in the People's Institute at 600 South Clark Street was one of the most successful events of its kind ever held in Chicago. The program was completely sold out and the house was packed to the doors. The entertainment consisted of a variety program followed by a Polish dance. The Polish dance was conducted by Mr. J. S. Pavlick, and the music was furnished by the Polonia Orchestra. The program included a variety of songs, dances, and recitations, all of which were well received by the audience. The Polish dance was especially enjoyed and was the highlight of the entire evening.

Chicago Branches, Attention.

There will be a meeting of the Chicago Branches of the American Federation of Labor this evening at 8 o'clock in the Union Labor Temple, 219 west Monroe Street. All members are requested to be present. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the current labor problems and to plan for future activities. The officers of the union will be in attendance and will report on the progress of the various branches.

The Superintendents of the Schools.

The superintendents of the schools of Chicago will have something to say about the education of the children in their care. They will be giving a talk on the importance of education and the need for improving the schools. They will also be discussing the current educational problems and the need for reform in the school system.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The following extract from the report of the International Congress of the Working Class in America of Women will be of interest to working women everywhere.

"The congress..." (Continued from last week)

Women's Department.

Women's Economic Society.

In addition to the usual monthly meeting, the Women's Economic Society of the Chicago branch met recently to discuss the question of women's economic status. The meeting was addressed by a prominent woman economist who discussed the problems of wage labor and the need for reforms in the work conditions of women.

USE ALL FORCES.

A call for women to rally themselves to the battle of the class conscious. The view of the proletariat for power, the very life of the proletariat for prosperity, is the view of the working class. To achieve this, an alliance of all workers must be formed, not only those who are employed in factories and mills, but also those who are employed in other sectors of the economy.

With these words of encouragement, the Women's Economic Society calls upon all working women to participate in the fight for a better life. Together, we can change the world for the better. Let us join forces and use all the resources at our disposal to fight for a brighter future.

Congresswoman Hobbs.

When President Roosevelt addressed Congress recently, one of his key points was the need for cooperation between the workers and the employers. In this speech, he emphasized the importance of understanding each other's perspectives and working towards a common goal.

The Women's Economic Society wholeheartedly agrees with this approach. By coming together and working as a team, we can achieve greater success and make a positive impact.

Mrs. Mary J. O'Keefe

"Employer and employee must understand each other's position if the interests of both parties are to be served. Cooperation and understanding are the key to a stable and prosperous society. Let us all strive for these goals and create a better future for all.

THE WORKERS' CALCHICAGO, I11., OCTOBER 14, 1929."
Freedom of Labor

The late Robert Spence, a member of the labor movement, was killed in a labor dispute. The cause of the dispute was the refusal of the employer to recognize the union. The workers had put in several months of hard work, only to be met with resistance from management. The union had attempted to negotiate with the employer, but their efforts were met with indifference and hostility. The workers were left with no choice but to strike, which led to the tragic outcome.
