THE WORKERS’ CALL

Vol. 1.—No. 41.

Chicago, Ill., December 16, 1892.

The United States

The Best Example of the Socialist Philosophy of History.

HISTORY OF CLASS STRUGGLES

How the Class Line Was First Drawn in the History of America—The Causes at the Base of Political Revolutions

The revolution theory of the evolution of society is in the main accepted by the modern socialist. Since the beginning of history, society has been divided into two classes, the ruling and the ruled, the owners and the workers. Under such conditions of social existence, society has no other course open to it than to achieve the greater social equality and to strive for the greater equality of social conditions. For the sake of the greater social equality, the ruling class must be deposed and the worker class must be reorganized and formed into a stronger social group. The organization of the working class is the first condition of the victory of social revolution.

The working class has contained within itself elements which the nature of the revolution demands. It has grown in size and strength, and has been able to throw off the chains of exploitation and oppression. The working class has contended with the capitalist class in a series of conflicts and struggles, and has been able to win its way through the obstacles in its path. It has developed greater power to overthrow the domination of the capitalist class, and has a greater chance of realizing the socialist ideal.

The working class has grown in size and strength, and is able to throw off the chains of exploitation and oppression. It has contended with the capitalist class in a series of conflicts and struggles, and has been able to win its way through the obstacles in its path. It has developed greater power to overthrow the domination of the capitalist class, and has a greater chance of realizing the socialist ideal.
Socialist View of Ethics.

MAY WOOD SIMONE.

Socialism is an economic and social philosophy based on the belief in the replacement of private ownership of the means of production by public, cooperative, or collective ownership. The aim of Socialism is to eliminate exploitation and inequality by ensuring that the means of production are owned by the community as a whole, rather than by individuals or corporations. This would lead to a distribution of resources and wealth that is more equal and fair, as well as the opportunity for all individuals to have access to the means of production and participate in the decision-making process. Socialism seeks to create a society in which people work together for the common good, rather than for the benefit of a few. This philosophy is often contrasted with Capitalism, which is characterized by private ownership and the pursuit of profit as the driving force. Socialism provides an alternative vision of how society can be organized and governed, emphasizing the importance of collective action, cooperation, and the well-being of all members of the community. The principles of Socialism can be applied in various forms, such as Democratic Socialism, Social Democratic parties, and various types of workers' co-operatives and unions.
Socialist Labor Party of the United States.

PLANTON.
The Socialist Labor Party of the United States is not a money-making institution, nor is it a commercial enterprise. It is a party of the people, and its labor is for the people. It is governed by the principle of the unity of men and women, and the unity of all classes of men.

December is the time when, if ever, a Socialist party must show itself. The Socialist party is not a mere collection of individuals, but a united force for progress and reform. We are not satisfied with the mere existence of the Socialist party; we want to make it strong and powerful. We want to make it the instrument of the people, and to bring about a real change in the conditions of society.

PLANTON.
The Socialist Labor Party of the United States is the embodiment of the ideals of the working class. It is the result of a long struggle, and it is the expression of the will of the masses. It is the party of the people, and it is the party of the future. It is the party of the laboring classes, and it is the party of the oppressed.

December is the time when, if ever, a Socialist party must show itself. The Socialist party is not a mere collection of individuals, but a united force for progress and reform. We are not satisfied with the mere existence of the Socialist party; we want to make it strong and powerful. We want to make it the instrument of the people, and to bring about a real change in the conditions of society.

Books for Socialists

Longfellow's "The Song of Hiawatha" is a poem of Indian life and Indian spirit. It is a poem of the past, of the primitive, of the simple. It is the song of the Indian, and it is the song of the race.

December is the time when, if ever, a Socialist party must show itself. The Socialist party is not a mere collection of individuals, but a united force for progress and reform. We are not satisfied with the mere existence of the Socialist party; we want to make it strong and powerful. We want to make it the instrument of the people, and to bring about a real change in the conditions of society.

ENTERTAINMENT AND BALL

by Section Chicago, S. L. P., assisted by the Socialist Sangerbund.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF

THE WORKERS' CALL.

URBACH'S HALL, 27 N. Clark St.

Afternoon and Evening, December 24th, 1899.

All readers of The Workers' Call and their friends are urged to be present. Tickets are limited to this occasion, and a limited supply of tickets will be given in one week's time. The tickets will be sold at both offices.

Admission 25 Cents Per Person.

THE PEOPLE

Unfurling advocate of Labor's Rights.

With the publication of this great monthly journal, the Socialist Labor Party of the United States will be able to carry on its work of agitation and education more effectively than ever before. The journal will be a powerful weapon in the hands of the working class, and it will be a powerful instrument for the advancement of social justice.

Do you know anyone whom you think would be interested in this great cause? Let them know about the Socialist Labor Party of the United States, and let them read the People.

THE PEOPLE

151 WILLIAM STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

THOMAS J. MORGAN, LAWYER.

We esteem it a privilege to address ourselves to the laboring classes of this city.

We recommend the weekly periodical "The People," and we do so with the assurance that it will do more to advance the interests of the working class than any other journal of a like character.

DO YOU READ

The Class Struggle?

"ARBEJDEREN."

Six Pages. Seven Columns.

ARBEJDEREN.

20 North Clark Street, Chicago.

Send for example 15 cents, or subscribe for 50 cents a year.

With Workers Call we issue 60 cts.

SAN FRANCISCO - CAL.

"ARBEJDEREN."

Always remember that the main body of the working men. When you are in darkness only a small part of the people you can do as you please to show them the way.

J. J. CAPPES, President.

Cigars and Tobacco.

(Sealed Paper)