CONGRESSMEN PLANNING NEW PEACE-TIME GAG LAW

SPEECH FREE ONLY TO SUPPORTERS OF CAPITALISM

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The special session of Congress has convinced and the usual lot of bills and a variety of color that have been dumped into the legislative hopper. The machinery having started, the folks back home will soon be regaled with the flowery eloquence of their chosen representatives as they endeavor to continue the empty boasts of the chamber of their loyalty to the welfare of the dear "peeple." In the meantime the forces of austerity and privilege will be howling little articles on paper in the Record but doing much that would make more interesting reading than Senator Bank's idea of the flag and our "sacred duty" to defend it.

One of the first attacks on the rights of the people will be a new anti-Bolshevik gag law, as under the tutelage of Major Hume of the infamous Overman Committee. This bill has been presented by Representative Edwin H. Easter of Pennsylvania, for the purpose of putting gag law, which the so-called "peace" advocates now propose to make a matter of principle, as a matter of law. All persons suspected of harboring progressive thought would be in danger of its penalties and intelligent looking people would be made "enemies" directly on the streets. These laws are a terrible threat to the liberties of the people. The sponsors of this silence move seem to rely upon the anti-Bolsh- avist, anti-labor propaganda of the past few months as a basis for poison gas screen to enable them to get in their foul work before labor wakes up. Andrew Furuseth of the International Seamen's Union, just returned from Europe and recently expressed himself as being greatly alarmed at the danger that free speech and free press would be permanently strangled in America. His word was for labor to lose no time in demanding the blotting out of the law.

K . C. JEWS PREPARE HUGE PROTEST AGAINST POLISH MASSACRES

POGROMS INSTITUTED BY REICHSMARSDENK MINISTRY

Next Sunday afternoons at 1 P.M., the K. C. Jewish Federation of Kansas City will come together in a large protest against the pogroms in Poland. There are approximately 25,000 Jews in the City of Kansas City, Missouri, and it is believed that a large proportion will attend.

The meetings will be held at the Masonic Temple in Kansas City, and will start promptly at two o'clock. The audience will be composed of Jews from every part of the country. The speakers will be members of the Jewish Community and will cover a wide range of topics. The meetings will be open to the public and will be free of charge.

The pogroms in Poland have caused great concern among Jews worldwide. The Polish government has been accused of instigating the pogroms to suppress Jewish resistance to their policies. The K.C. Jewish Federation is taking a stand against these pogroms and will be organizing a large protest to show solidarity with the Jewish community in Poland.

ewer!
THE CASE AGAINST WINCHUCK

ATTENTION BEING MADE TO OUTLAW

SOCIALIST PROPAGANDA

United States Department of Labor.

In answering, refer to No. 54616.183.

Mr. Nancy Sullivan

Washington, May 17, 1919.

Attorney-General,

Kansas City, Mo.

Dear Sir:

(1) Your telegram of the 12th inst. addressed to Hon. Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, concerning one Joe Winchuck, has been referred to this Bureau for consideration.

(2) In reply thereto, I desire to advise you that under date of May 11 it was learned of certain facts, based on the above named alien, on the grounds that he advocated the overthrow of the Government as well as the suppression of the peace in the state and that he is a member, or affiliated with, an organization that entertains a belief in the overthrow of the government and the destruction of the government of the United States. You will be accorded the hearing under this warrant, the record of which will be forwarded to you upon request.

When a decision is reached in this matter you will be advised.
It is suggested, however, that you be present.

Very truly yours,

Alfred Hampton,
Assistant Commissioner General.

THE WORLD

ELLA REEVES BLOOR

Kansas City has just been awakened by one of the most powerful and interesting personalities in the Socialist and Labor movement. Ella Reeves Bloor has been an active worker for twenty-five years, during which time she has been an organizer, she has walked the picket-line for many months in St. Louis, New York, in Kentucky, and other places in the East. She has been an executive of the Socialist Party in New York, Ohio, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey; has been a party candidate for office on numerous occasions, the last time running for Lieutenant-Governor of New York. She is one of the Board of Managers of the Band of Brothers, a society which has raised six children, and is proud of the fact that they are all socialists.

One of her children is in the profession of music. It was while her daughter was finishing her musical education in Vienna and Budapest that Mrs. Bloor went to Europe and became well acquainted with the movement there and in England.

Most of Mother Bloor's labor and socialist activities have been in the coal and machine industries. She has a worker in the great copper strike in Michigan, and in the Ohio coal strike which lasted a year. In between strikes, she worked her way through a college education; has found time to write, and has written several books for children.

One of the most interesting episodes in her life was when she collected evidence for the Hoover Commission which investigated the packing industry in Chicago. She went into the packinghouses to work, and furnished the first-hand evidence which finally called the establishment of inspection service.

Mother Bloor has been invited to return to Kansas City to spend a few weeks here. In the City she will be glad glad to know the

A copy of John Reed's Great Book

"Ten Days That Shook the World" is going to be given to the person who brings in the largest number of subscribers to The Workers World during the month of May.

One yearly subscription will count as the same as two-half-year subscriptions. Demand your "credits."
LEWISITE
By JOHN DE QUER

As nearly all my time is taken up with writing, I cannot at present give you a more detailed report than the following:

The state of the Mexican War was for some time quite quiet. The government had sent a large force of troops to the border, and the people were not apprehensive of any immediate danger. However, the situation was far from tranquil, and the peace was only temporary. The government was unable to maintain order and discipline in the border region. The people were restless, and the prospects of war were not far away.

At the end of the month, a mutiny broke out among the troops stationed at the border. The mutiny was led by a group of disaffected officers who were dissatisfied with the way the government was handling the situation. The mutiny quickly spread, and the government was forced to act quickly to suppress it. The troops were put down by force, and the mutineers were arrested and tried for mutiny.

The mutiny was a serious blow to the government's prestige, and it further weakened its ability to deal with the border situation. The government was forced to admit that it had failed to maintain order and discipline in the border region. The public was deeply concerned, and the government was under pressure to take action.

In the meantime, the war with Mexico continued. The government had sent a large force of troops to the border, and the people were not apprehensive of any immediate danger. However, the situation was far from tranquil, and the peace was only temporary. The government was unable to maintain order and discipline in the border region. The people were restless, and the prospects of war were not far away.

At the end of the month, a mutiny broke out among the troops stationed at the border. The mutiny was led by a group of disaffected officers who were dissatisfied with the way the government was handling the situation. The mutiny quickly spread, and the government was forced to act quickly to suppress it. The troops were put down by force, and the mutineers were arrested and tried for mutiny.

The mutiny was a serious blow to the government's prestige, and it further weakened its ability to deal with the border situation. The government was forced to admit that it had failed to maintain order and discipline in the border region. The public was deeply concerned, and the government was under pressure to take action.

In the meantime, the war with Mexico continued. The government had sent a large force of troops to the border, and the people were not apprehensive of any immediate danger. However, the situation was far from tranquil, and the peace was only temporary. The government was unable to maintain order and discipline in the border region. The people were restless, and the prospects of war were not far away.

At the end of the month, a mutiny broke out among the troops stationed at the border. The mutiny was led by a group of disaffected officers who were dissatisfied with the way the government was handling the situation. The mutiny quickly spread, and the government was forced to act quickly to suppress it. The troops were put down by force, and the mutineers were arrested and tried for mutiny.

The mutiny was a serious blow to the government's prestige, and it further weakened its ability to deal with the border situation. The government was forced to admit that it had failed to maintain order and discipline in the border region. The public was deeply concerned, and the government was under pressure to take action.

In the meantime, the war with Mexico continued. The government had sent a large force of troops to the border, and the people were not apprehensive of any immediate danger. However, the situation was far from tranquil, and the peace was only temporary. The government was unable to maintain order and discipline in the border region. The people were restless, and the prospects of war were not far away.

At the end of the month, a mutiny broke out among the troops stationed at the border. The mutiny was led by a group of disaffected officers who were dissatisfied with the way the government was handling the situation. The mutiny quickly spread, and the government was forced to act quickly to suppress it. The troops were put down by force, and the mutineers were arrested and tried for mutiny.

The mutiny was a serious blow to the government's prestige, and it further weakened its ability to deal with the border situation. The government was forced to admit that it had failed to maintain order and discipline in the border region. The public was deeply concerned, and the government was under pressure to take action.

In the meantime, the war with Mexico continued. The government had sent a large force of troops to the border, and the people were not apprehensive of any immediate danger. However, the situation was far from tranquil, and the peace was only temporary. The government was unable to maintain order and discipline in the border region. The people were restless, and the prospects of war were not far away.

At the end of the month, a mutiny broke out among the troops stationed at the border. The mutiny was led by a group of disaffected officers who were dissatisfied with the way the government was handling the situation. The mutiny quickly spread, and the government was forced to act quickly to suppress it. The troops were put down by force, and the mutineers were arrested and tried for mutiny.

The mutiny was a serious blow to the government's prestige, and it further weakened its ability to deal with the border situation. The government was forced to admit that it had failed to maintain order and discipline in the border region. The public was deeply concerned, and the government was under pressure to take action.
WHAT DOES SOCIALISM MEAN TO YOU?

In a land where the hovels of the egalitarian Rastafari movement are the state, where unemployment is the norm, and where working days are long and hard, the commitment to socialist ideals is stronger than ever.

Socialism is, in essence, a vision of a future where the means of production are owned and controlled by the working class. It is a belief in the idea that the wealth generated by society should be shared equally among all its members, and that the state should act as a mediator between the interests of the individual and the collective.

Socialism is a philosophy that seeks to address the inequalities and injustices that are inherent in capitalist societies. It is a movement that has inspired millions of people around the world to work towards a more equitable and just society.

The belief in socialism is not just a political ideology, but a way of life. It is a commitment to the ideals of equality, justice, and freedom, and a recognition of the need for collective action to achieve these goals.

In this context, the commitment to socialism is a powerful force, and a source of hope and inspiration for those who strive to build a better world.

THE SITUATION IN CANADA

News dispatches tell us of the spread of the socialist movement in Canada, where the working class is increasingly taking control of the state and the economy.

In recent weeks, workers have taken over several factories and mines, and have established new councils to govern the workplace. The socialist movement has gained significant traction in urban centers across the country, with support from a wide range of unions and community groups.

The socialist movement in Canada is not only about economic liberation, but also about social justice. It is a movement that seeks to address the inequalities and injustices that are inherent in capitalist societies. It is a movement that seeks to build a more equitable and just society for all.

THE WORKERS' WORLD

In this issue of the Workers' World, we bring you the latest news and analysis from the socialist movement around the world, as well as features on specific issues and challenges facing workers today.

Join the socialist movement today, and help build a world where everyone has a say in the decisions that affect their lives.