MINERS AND THE I.W.W.

Executive Board of Kansas District Denounces Wamea Frame-up and Gives Assent for Defense of Prisoners.

A heavy blow was dealt to the plans of the Oil trust last week, when a group of the oil men, who had secured the aid of 3,000 strong, adopted resolutions demanding a fair trial for the men charged with murder at Wamea, Kansas. Workers have been sealed in the Kansas dungeons for over twenty months without trial. The resolutions of protest were coupled with the giving of a voluntary assessment of ten cents per member for the legal defense of the prosecuted oil workers.

This action, coming from the most powerful organization of labor of the state, created a sensation in political circles and is said by observers of the strike to indicate that a part of the leaders, especially for the I. W. W. men to trial for a period of twenty months and its later abolition, if either..."...

The Cossacks at Work

Used on Side of Employes to Break Strike at Boske, N. Y.

Although the law will not interfere with the use of the term "cossacks" on the part of the employer, it was demonstrated to the strikers that the term does not have the same meaning as the term "cossacks" used in the Russian empire. The strikers, however, were not satisfied with the explanation and continued to use the term."

(Confédération Générale du Travail), the most important labor union in France."

Here is the Resolution of United Mine Workers Demanding Fair Play for the I. W. W.

ON TO MEXICO!

Everyone should do his patriotic bit to help along the proposed war with Mexico. The time is now. Then, too, he knows the ways and means of our enemies. Let us be guided by the decisions of the financial interests. It brings tears to our eyes when we see how much these people have thrown away their lives in the war, and we must do our best to stop it. We are not afraid of the war, as we know that many lives are lost in it. We have no sympathy with the men who are killed in the battle of the lives of men as a game of hide-and-seek.

Then comes the newspapers. Their cartoonists are already on the battlefields, the headlines are mobilized and the heart of the people is caught. We are ready to give the war for the sake of how many lives are ended at the end of the war. We have no sympathy with the men who are killed in the battle of the lives of men as a game of hide-and-seek.

BAIL THE KANSAS MINERS!
The action of the Kansas coal miners in demanding a fair wage from their employers and a reasonable wage for their work is an example to all of the causes that are struggling for the solidarity of labor. It will strengthen the confidence and determination of the thousands of our comrades who suffer in prison today. The miners of Kansas are organized men and they are fighting for their rights. The miners are fighting for the solidarity of labor. It will strengthen the confidence and determination of the thousands of our comrades who suffer in prison today.

The movement is a great success, and the miners and the district are making large strides in the improvement of the solidarity of labor. It is a fine and generous act for the miners to stretch the hand of friendship across the line of battle, just as they do to stretch the hand of friendship across the line of battle. It is a fine and generous act for the miners to stretch the hand of friendship across the line of battle.
