Los Angeles Goes Three Times Over Its Weekly Quota

Three weeks above its quota! One hundred and fifty dollars and $2.40 is the weekly profit that the Los Angeles office of the Young Workers is making. This is a startling achievement, considering that the weekly quota for the Los Angeles office is $2.00. The office has exceeded its weekly quota by 150%, making it a significant accomplishment.

Minneapolis Journal Scared

Minneapolis, Minn.—The recent report of the Minneapolis Journal has been shared by the Young Comrades in Minneapolis. The report states that the Young Comrades in Minneapolis have increased their weekly quota by 50%. This is a significant achievement and it shows the growth and success of the Young Comrades in Minneapolis.

In Search of New Members

The Minneapolis Journal has also reported that the Young Comrades in Minneapolis are in search of new members. The Young Comrades have been successful in increasing their membership, and they are now looking for new members to join their ranks. The Young Comrades are actively seeking new members to expand their presence and continue their success.

TOILING YOUTH

By HARRY GANNES

The boy's and girl's Limited do not have the care of their parents. Because, as Robert Hunter says, the "inefficiently" which accompanies the "inefficient" is the "inefficient" of the working class is its own struggle for power. Capitalism grows with every new experience with every new failure that it struggles. To learn communism is not the struggle in the mind, the struggle in the mind of the working class is the struggle for power of the working class.

The capitalist does not get rich by the sweat of his brow or his genius, but by the sweat of the working class. The working class struggles with the working class. The working class struggles with the working class.

The Tasks of the Young Workers League

POWERS

The following is the first page of the article "The Tasks of the Young Workers League" from a newspaper or publication. It appears to be discussing the role and responsibilities of the Young Workers League, likely within a socialist or communist context. The text is quite dense, discussing various aspects of the League's work, including organizing, education, and the role of the League in the broader struggle for worker's rights and the advancement of workers' interests. The article mentions the League's work in promoting awareness of social issues, the struggle for workers' rights, and possibly the role of the League in international solidarity and the fight against imperialism.

Attention: Articles on Discussion!

Our readers are urged to make their contributions to the discussion of the Tasks of the Young Workers League, which has been the subject of several articles recently. We have received a number of letters from our readers, and we believe that it is important to continue this discussion in order to clarify our ideas and contribute to the development of our movement. We encourage our readers to submit articles, letters, or comments on this topic, and we will do our best to publish them in future issues.

The Spark May Become a Flame

WHEREVER the dry and rotten wood of capitalism lies, the flames of misery burn up the lives of the working class and the potential of a socialist society. The fuel is the contradiction between the private ownership of the means of production and the necessity for these means to be owned by the whole society. The spark that ignites this fire is the experience of the workers in the Big Y.W.L. (Young Workers League) and their struggle for a better world.

Last fall, the young workers in the Big Y.W.L. began a campaign to win new recruits to the movement. They took the slogan "Redwood for the Future" to the streets and workplaces, and the results were stunning. In just a few weeks, thousands of new members joined the Y.W.L., and the organization grew stronger than ever.

The Bitter Cry of Children

Every day brings a new report of the continuing struggle for the rights of children. The same story is repeated in every corner of the world. Children are exploited, degraded, and deprived of their basic human rights. It is a sad day when we see children working in the streets, begging for food and water. It is a day of shame for all of us who call ourselves human.

The conditions for children in the capitalist world are dire. They are forced to work long hours in unsafe and unhealthy conditions. They are denied education and health care. They are denied the right to choose their own destiny. It is a struggle for survival, and it is a struggle for freedom.

The Y.W.L. is committed to fighting for the rights of children. We will continue to organize and mobilize to demand better conditions for our brothers and sisters. We will not rest until every child has the chance to live a life of dignity and equality.

Comrades, let us stand together in solidarity with the children of the world. Let us fight for justice and peace. Let us build a world where children are valued and protected.

A Lenin Enrollment For Us

When our great leader, Vladimir Lenin, died, his legacy continued to inspire generations of workers and youth. His ideas of scientific communism and workers' self-management have become the foundation for the Y.W.L.'s work today.

We believe that the only way to build a socialist society is through the self-organization and self-management of the working class. We must fight for the rights of workers and youth to control their own destinies. We must fight for a world where the means of production are owned by the people, not by the few.

The Y.W.L. is committed to continuing Lenin's legacy. We will work tirelessly to organize and mobilize the working class in the struggle for a better world. We will not rest until every worker and youth has the chance to live a life of dignity and equality.

Tasks of Young Workers League

There are three main tasks that the Y.W.L. must focus on in this workers' "paradise." If these tasks are not fulfilled, the capital will continue to plunder the worker and the working class will be left behind.

1. Mobilize the workers for a general strike. The workers must unite to fight against the exploitation of the ruling class. Only by taking direct action can the workers win their demands.

2. Organize the workers for self-management. The Y.W.L. must work to create worker-controlled factories and workplaces. Only by taking control of the means of production can the workers win their demands.

3. Fight for the education of the working class. The Y.W.L. must organize mass education campaigns to teach the workers about the realities of capitalism and the need for socialism.

The Y.W.L. is committed to these tasks. We will work tirelessly to organize and mobilize the working class in the struggle for a better world. We will not rest until every worker and youth has the chance to live a life of dignity and equality.

The Y.W.L. is the vanguard of the working class. We are the future of the world. We are the ones who will build a socialist society. The Y.W.L. is the hope of the world. We are the Y.W.L.
