Protest Against Brutal Sentence of Young Communist Soldiers

By All Units of the League

The arrest, imprisonment and court martial of the eight members of the Communist League, because of their present arrest and brutal attack upon the industrial workers, is not just. The workers built and fought, who made the labor movement and who are fighting it, are not a band of criminals to be put into prison, but workers, who are fighting for their lives, for the future of humanity.

The workers have been arrested because they formed the Communist League. The Communist League has been formed to organize the working class for the revolutionary struggle. The workers have been organized, they have been united, they have formed a political party, and they are fighting.

The workers have been arrested because they are fighting for the workers' rights. They are fighting for the right to organize, the right to strike, the right to be paid a living wage, the right to a fair chance in life. They are fighting for the workers' rights, and they are fighting for the workers' future.

The workers have been arrested because they are fighting against the capitalist system. They are fighting against the exploitation of the workers, they are fighting against the inequality of the capitalist society. They are fighting against the capitalist system, and they are fighting for a new society, a society where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power.

The workers have been arrested because they are fighting for a better world. They are fighting for a world where there is no more poverty, no more suffering, no more war. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power.

The workers have been arrested because they are fighting for a new world, a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power.

The workers have been arrested because they are fighting for a better world. They are fighting for a world where there is no more poverty, no more suffering, no more war. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power.

The workers have been arrested because they are fighting for a new society, a society where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power. They are fighting for a world where the workers are free, where the workers are equal, where the workers have the power.
Negro Miners Stand Solidly with Left Wing

Reject Race Appeal Made by Fakers

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 8.—The Negro miners in this city, who are engaged in the Pittsburgh Steel Strike, have rejected an appeal made by Negro officials to join the Strike. The chairman of the Negro miners' executive, Charles A. Davenport, said yesterday that the Negro miners would not join the Strike.

The Negro miners are now in the second week of the Strike, which was called by the United Mine Workers of America. The Strike is in protest against the blacklisting of Negro miners by the Pittsburgh Steel Company.

New Resignation Falls

A Negro miner, John Johnson, who had been a member of the executive committee of the Negro miners, has resigned. He was one of the three Negro miners who were arrested last week for striking.

The strike is in its second week, and the Negro miners have shown no inclination to quit. They have been supported by a large number of Negro citizens, who have contributed money and food to the strikers.

Young Workers' Correspondence

CORRESPONDENTS, NOTICE

Our correspondent in New York has sent us the following report of the current events among Negro workers. He would like to know if there are any Negro miners in the city who are interested in discussing the problems of the Strike.

The correspondence is as follows:

"Dear Correspondent,

I am a Negro miner in the Strike, and I would like to discuss the problems of the Strike with you. I believe that the Strike is a just cause, and I would like to learn more about the tactics of the Strike, as well as the strategies of the Strike leaders.

I would be grateful if you could arrange a meeting with me at your convenience. I am available at any time, and I would be happy to discuss the Strike with you.

Sincerely yours,

John Jones"

---

Young Workers' Correspondence

LIFE UNDER KING COAL

Have you ever seen a coal miner's life as close to the heart of the earth? Have you ever seen how the coal miners live, work, and play? Have you ever seen how the coal miners face the daily struggles of life in the coal mines?

I have. I have seen these things, and I have learned a great deal from them. I have learned that the coal miner is a hard-working, strong, and devoted man. He is a man who works long, hard hours, and who endures great physical strain.

I have learned that the coal miner is a man who is deeply religious. He is a man who prays before he goes to work, and who praises God for the blessings of life. He is a man who is devoted to his family, and who loves his children.

I have learned that the coal miner is a man who is loyal to his country. He is a man who loves his country, and who is willing to fight for it.

I have learned that the coal miner is a man who is proud of his work. He is a man who is proud of the coal that he mines, and who is proud of the country that he serves.

I have learned that the coal miner is a man who is noble. He is a man who has a noble spirit, and who is capable of great things.

I have learned that the coal miner is a man who is human. He is a man who is a human being, and who is capable of love, joy, and sorrow. He is a man who is a part of the human race, and who is a part of the world.

I have learned that the coal miner is a man who is strong. He is a man who is strong in body and in spirit. He is a man who is able to meet life's challenges, and who is able to overcome its dangers.

I have learned that the coal miner is a man who is proud. He is a man who is proud of his work, and who is proud of his country. He is a man who is proud of his family, and who is proud of his heritage.

I have learned that the coal miner is a man who is noble. He is a man who is noble in his spirit, and who is noble in his deeds. He is a man who is capable of great things, and who is capable of changing the world.

I have learned that the coal miner is a man who is human. He is a man who is a human being, and who is capable of love, joy, and sorrow. He is a man who is a part of the human race, and who is a part of the world.

He is a man who is strong. He is a man who is strong in body and in spirit. He is a man who is able to meet life's challenges, and who is able to overcome its dangers.

He is a man who is proud. He is a man who is proud of his work, and who is proud of his country. He is a man who is proud of his family, and who is proud of his heritage.

He is a man who is noble. He is a man who is noble in his spirit, and who is noble in his deeds. He is a man who is capable of great things, and who is capable of changing the world.

He is a man who is human. He is a man who is a human being, and who is capable of love, joy, and sorrow. He is a man who is a part of the human race, and who is a part of the world.

Charles A. Davenport, Chairman

New Resignation Falls

A Negro miner, John Johnson, who had been a member of the executive committee of the Negro miners, has resigned. He was one of the three Negro miners who were arrested last week for striking.

The strike is in its second week, and the Negro miners have shown no inclination to quit. They have been supported by a large number of Negro citizens, who have contributed money and food to the strikers.

Young Workers' Correspondence

"Dear Correspondent,

I am a Negro miner in the Strike, and I would like to discuss the problems of the Strike with you. I believe that the Strike is a just cause, and I would like to learn more about the tactics of the Strike, as well as the strategies of the Strike leaders.

I would be grateful if you could arrange a meeting with me at your convenience. I am available at any time, and I would be happy to discuss the Strike with you.

Sincerely yours,

John Jones"
Which League Will Get There First!

Chicago Still Leads Race for Banner!

Chicago, Ills. — Chicago still leads the race for the league championship. The White Sox have a 13-game lead over the second-place team, the St. Louis Cardinals, and are well on the way to capturing the league championship. The Sox have a record of 95-37 and are two games ahead of the Cubs, who are in third place. The Sox have a record of 87-45, while the Cubs are at 85-47. The Cardinals are in fourth place with a record of 78-55. The Sox have won 26 of their last 30 games, including a 6-3 victory over the Cardinals on Friday night. The Sox are now just a game away from clinching the league championship. The Sox have a record of 28-16 this month, and have scored 30 or more runs in six of their last seven games. The Sox are now just a game away from clinching the league championship. The Sox are now just a game away from clinching the league championship.
YOU NGER WORKER

Sports and Working Class Youth

Saturday, April 18, 1929

---

Gaging Teachers in Ohio

In Ohio, hundreds of teachers are launching a drive to cleanse the public schools of all radicals, professionals and incompetents. The drive will be based on the local and state school authorities, and is expected to do much to improve the quality of education in the state. The teachers are demanding that only qualified and competent teachers be employed, and that all who are not up to standard be removed from the rolls. This drive is part of a nationwide movement to improve the quality of education across the country. (Original source: Workers Monthly; page 4)

---

The Negro in American Industry

The struggle for oil

Michael Grossberg

Till this struggle for oil in the Near East continues unabated, the struggle for the rights of the Negro between the French and British interests is settling down to the worst type of political warfare. The situation is intense, and the struggle is on. The struggle is one of the most important in the history of the Negro race.

(Michael Grossberg, Workers Monthly; page 5)

---

Morgan Does All the Thinking!

Having learned from physicians and sanitary experts that same color, same race, and the same class of workers had more often been the victims of the invisible disease, the doctors then turned to Morgan's new invention, the invisible disease machine, to test its effectiveness.

(Michael Grossberg, Workers Monthly; page 6)

---

That Which Is Not Communist Education

By OLIVER CARLSON

The article attempts to explain the nature of education in the United States and how it differs from Communist education. It discusses the concept of patriotism and the role of the state in education. The author argues that education in the United States is not communist because it promotes the values of the capitalist system, whereas education in the Soviet Union is communist because it promotes the values of the socialist system.

(Oliver Carlson, Workers Monthly; page 7)

---

Why CAL Coolidge Is So Silent!

The article comments on President Coolidge's silence on major issues, such as the Treaty of Versailles and the Dawes Plan. It suggests thatCoolidge's lack of public statements on these issues is due to his desire to maintain a balanced approach to foreign policy.

(Oliver Carlson, Workers Monthly; page 8)

---

An Article on the Communist League of America

The article discusses the activities of the Communist League of America and its role in the labor movement. It describes the League's efforts to organize and educate workers, and its work in promoting the Socialist cause.

(Oliver Carlson, Workers Monthly; page 9)

---

The Future of the Working Class Youth

The article discusses the future of the working class youth in the United States. It argues that the working class youth must fight for their rights and organize to fight against capitalism. It also discusses the importance of education and the role of the Communist party in providing education to the working class youth.

(Oliver Carlson, Workers Monthly; page 10)