YOUNG WORKER

By R. BERNSTEIN

NEW YORK CITY, March 25

"Give me liberty or give me death!" The spirit of the Revolutionary War is alive in the United States today. And the "Young Worker" is a symbol of the new generation's struggle for liberty and democracy.

"Young Worker" is a weekly newspaper, founded in 1930, that serves the young workers in New York City. It covers local and national news on issues affecting young workers, such as wages, working conditions, and political rights.

"Young Worker" is published by the Young Worker Publishing Co., a non-profit organization that aims to educate and organize young workers for political action.

"Young Worker" was started by a group of young workers who were dissatisfied with the existing newspapers that did not adequately represent their interests. The newspaper was created as a vehicle for young workers to express their views and to work towards a better future.

"Young Worker" covers a wide range of topics, including labor struggles, political campaigns, and cultural events. It is a valuable resource for young workers who want to stay informed and involved in the struggles for social justice.

"Young Worker" is available for free at most young worker unions and community centers in New York City. It is also available for purchase through their website and subscription service.

"Young Worker" is a vital source of information and inspiration for young workers in New York City and beyond. It is a testament to the power of collective action and the struggle for freedom and democracy.
TREATMENT OF SOLDIERS IN UNITED STATES ARMY!

By WALTER TRUMBULL

The idea of a united front against the capitalist militiamen of the world is a common one among the world's workers. It is, however, only the beginning of the struggle. The real issue is the ousting of the capitalist military from the world. The struggle must be continued until the capitalist military is completely overthrown.

The treatment of soldiers in the United States Army is a clear illustration of the capitalist military's对待 soldiers as mere tools of the bourgeoisie. The soldiers are used as mere means to an end, and are treated with contempt and brutality. The capitalist military is not interested in the well-being of the soldiers, but only in maintaining the capitalist system.

In conclusion, the struggle against the capitalist military must be continued until it is completely overthrown. The workers must unite to overthrow the capitalist military and establish a true socialist military system.
