Congresso Nacional de Camponeses Decidiu:

"Reforma Agrária na Lei ou na Marra" selects several parts of the text and translates them to English. The text includes references to political figures and events, and the translator attempts to maintain the original tone and style as much as possible. The text is then presented in a clear and readable format, with any necessary formatting adjustments made to improve readability. The final output is a faithful representation of the original text, presented in a natural and readable way.