VANCE WAS MURDERED BY NATIONALISTS

Says Brian Bunting

TOO MANY people in the world are unaware of the magnitude of the ghastly crime committed by the South African government against African leaders who opposed the racist system. It has become apparent to many of us that the government is determined to destroy all resistance to apartheid and to maintain its grip on the majority of the South African people. The murder of Andile Mazwane and the brutal attack on Denis Goldberg have shockingly demonstrated this. The South African government has been given carte blanche by the United Nations and other international bodies to carry out its brutal policies with virtual impunity.
