

At Palam before departure.

POSITIVE RESULTS

-CPI STATEMENT

way to peaceful negotiations and have vehemently assailed India's entire policy of peace and friendship among nations. There is no doubt that these reactionaries will again spare no effort to keep up the tension between India and Chinand oppose every constructive step in the direction of a peaceful settlement.

It will now be the task of

The Secretariat of the National Council of the Communist Party of India has issued the following statement to the Press in New Delhi on April 27:

It will be regretted that the recent talks between the Prime Minister of India and the Premier of the People's Republic of China should not have led to a solution of the border problem.

However, these talks, embodying the sincere desire of the people of India and China to find a way to understanding and settlement have undoubtedly been a constructive step and this cannot out prove beneficial to the future course of negotiations.

Even if the discussions between the two prime Minisprove beneficial to the future course of negotiations.

Even if the discussions between the two Prime Ministers have not succeeded, it is nonetheless happy and rewarding development that the two Governments have decided to continue discussions at the official level. Whatever, the differences, however difficult of solution the problems may seem at the moment, we are confident that peaceful approach and friendly negotiations will ultimately bear fruit. The continuation of the discussions between the officials of the two Governments will, therefore, be wholeheartedly welcomed. In view of the great role the friendship between India and China can play in the world of today, it is indeed the desire of all peace and freedom-loving humanity that the dispute be speedily discussions.

Equally welcome is the agreement between the Prime friendly discussions.

Equally welcome is the agreement between the Prime Ministers of India and the People's Republic of China that every effort should be made by the two countries to avoid friction and clashes in the border areas.

These are the positive results of the talks and there is no reason, therefore, to think that the negotiations have hopken dawn broken down.

However, there are powerful forces in the country, backed by the reactionary Press who spared no effort to prevent the talks between the two Prime Ministers taking place. At every stage, these forces have sought to bar the

VOL. VIII, NO. 18

SUNDAY, MAY 1, 1960

CHOU EN-LAI'S ANSWERS

New Delhi's Press corps and many foreign Correspondents who had especially flown in to cover Premier Chou En-lai's visit will long remember the Press Conference he held just a few hours before he took off for Kathmandu. Beginning at 10-45 p.m. of April 25, the Press Conference continued till 1-15 a.m. on April 26 and he left later at 8-10 a.m.

remier Chou En-lai made it perfectly clear right at the beginning that he was prepared to face the worst from the Press provided they were prepared to face him too. "Don't have any fears, that I would only issue a statement and not say anything else to-you," he told them. He was willing, he said, "to listen to any questions raised by any of you," and "answer all that I could answer."

Assurance To Pressmen

Not only that. The entire proceedings he said would be released by the Chinese news-agency and "all the questions and answers to-day will be published in our papers." The English weekly Peking Review, too, would carry it in full. Anyone interested could leave his address and he would get a copy of that magazine.

"I would also like to ask all of you," said the Chinese Premier addressing himself to the Press, "that all the questions and answers (at this Press Conference) be published in full in your papers too.

"So let us have this gentle-man's agreement to show our freedom of the Press," he

At the outset a statement on his behalf was read out summarising the outcome of the talks. The statement acknowledged that "unlike what we expected no agreement has been reached for the settlement of the boundary question." About the agreement on the officials of two sides meeting and about the understanding embodied in the joint communique that "every effort should be made by the parties to avoid friction and clashes in the border areas" the Chinese Premier's statement said: At the outset a statement statement said:

"We hold that these agreements have a positive bearing on the main-tenance of tranquillity on the border and on the con-tinued search for avenues to a reasonable settlement."

It proceeded to enumerate the six points on which the Chinese Premier said it was his view that "it was not impossible for the two sides to find common points or points of proximity."

of proximity."

He made it clear that even in regard to these six points "distances" still existed between the Chinese and the Indian Government's standpoint. "However, I am of the opinion," said Chou En-lai, "that as long as both sides continue consultations, it will not be difficult to narrow down and eliminate these distances."

Both in the statement and in answering questions Chou En-lai declared, "There is no basic conflict of interests bet-ween our two peoples."

Case On The Rorder

Answering questions Premier Chou En-lai made it clear that the "bigger dispute" now related to the Western Sector, i.e. the Aksaichin area. Regarding the Eastern Sector he said, "we are willing to maintain the present state of that sector of the boundary. We will not cross that line and in our negotiations with in our negotiations with the Indian Government we have never put forward any territorial claims." As for the Middle Sector he said there were disputes only about individual areas.

Elaborating China's case regarding the Western Sector, Chou En-lai showed how the alignment on India's maps had changed several times, "whereas China has always followed a line which appear and our maps in exercising our ed our maps in exercising our jurisdiction.

"This sector of the boundary follows the watershed of Karakorum up to Kongka pass. And then southward to the starting point of the Middle Sector of the boundary

"The area of the north and east of this boundary line has

* SEE PAGE 13

SALUTE MAHARASHTRA

The bilingual State of Bombay has come to an end. And its place is taken now by two unilingual States—one, the State of Maharashtra and, another, the State of Gujarat. The Indian Union now will consist of 15 States instead of the old 14.

work of the Indian Constitu-

the simple democratic demand of a people to have a

State run in their own language so that democracy can easily functioned, was denounced as a separatist demand; the struggles of the people were denounced as "fascist gangsterism". It be a long list-

abuses that were hurled by politicians and political parties who agreed with the Congress Party in denying this demand of the people of

have a State of Maharasht; a and a State of Gujarat, provided Bombay City, was either given a separate Statehood or was managed by the Central ful vested interests blocked the way to Bombay City be-

They were quite prepared to Maharashtra.

by S. A. DANGE

of May."

Just because of this City.

To an outsider who has Bombay City be their capital and that they have a State of struggles that took place for their own within the framethe bifurcation of the bilinegual State of Bombay, the event would not carry much significance. In fact, it almost looked like that when the Bill was debated in Parliament on March 31 this

But to the people of Maharashtra and to the people of Gujarat, the passing of the Bill connotes a great victory for the democratic masses of

The demand for carving out the different States of the Indian Union on the basis of language has been an old one. It was a part of the national struggle in the days of the British and it forward when independence

In fact, the Constitution of 1950 itself, while drawing the boundaries of the various States in the Indian Union, should have taken note of the demand for linguistic States but the framers of the Constitution and the Constituent Assembly both failed in

They were, however, not ignorant of the problem and very soon, Parliament had to appoint a States Reorganisato redraw tion Commission the boundaries of the various States of India. This Commission more or less satisfied the demands of the other linguistic groups of our country but denied the application of the principle of carving out the States on the basis of language to the people of Maharashtra and Gu-

Almost every other State in India was more or less reconstituted on the basis of language but somewhere, there seemed to be a hardened opposition to establishing a State of Maharashtra

Mitch Was Bombay City

As history shows, the hitch was not in establishthe ing the two States of Maharashtra and Gujarat on the basis of language; the hitch was somewhere elsc. It was the question of Bombay City. Where was this City of High Finance and Industry, a centre of monopoly capital and of organised working class, to be put in the scheme of establishing a State of Maharashtra?

The City, obviously, could to, Gujarat. It was surrounded by Marathispeaking areas except on the Why could it not be allocated to Maharashtra and he allowed to be made it capital since it was a city surrounded by Marathi-speaking areas and populated by Marathi-speaking people in its major part?

All the power of organised finance and industry was thrown against the demand of the Maratha people that

Speaking on the Bill on March 31, in Parliament,

"I hope it is really a sign of fortune that the appointed day for the birth of the two new States is the First of May. Bombay City is in Maharastitra. Since 1908, the working class of Bombay has been fighting for independence and for its own rights and Socialism, against the power of foreign domination and the power of native capital, both. The working class of this cl.y is proud of its May Days and it will certainly be very proud that this State is being born on the International Day of the working class, the FLst

It will certainly look strange to some people that I linked up the establishment of the linguistic State, obviously a step in the development of democratic nationalism with the internationalism

generated by the industrial growth, enabled Maharashtra to become one of the centres of the liberation struggle against the British. And as Maharashtra was one of the earliest centres of revolutionary straggles against the British, it received a particular distortion of its history traditions at the hands of the British writers. Au 1 some of these distortions percolated into the minds of some of the Congres of some of the basis of a wrong understanding of the history of the Maratha people, exhibited a dislike for the very demand of the State of Maharashtra. Congress

Fear

Bombay City as a centre of the liberal bourgeoisie was pitted by the British against the City of Poona as the centre of revolutionary and nationalist movement. Bombay's High Finance inheriting some of the bad features of British training continued that tradition and pitched itself against the demand for linguistic States.

of the working class, as signified by the May Day. Bombay City as a centre of But there is nothing strange in this. The interindustry had given birth ir m its very early days to a milinationalism of the working class is a further developtant working class movement and this working class allied ment of its national aspirawith the Maratha peasantry tions and Statehood. And let me state that it is the might not be in a very obligalso opposed to very thing which frightened ing mood to the High Finance January 1956. let me state that it is the

the Maratha peasantry and the middle classes and it is the very feature which evoked the strongest opposition from the monopoly the Congress

Working Class

The movement for Maharashtra, it must be noted, fruin the very beginning, was led by the working class all'ed with the peasantry and the middle classes. This is too most outstanding feature of the struggle for the linguistic State of Maharashtra.

The political general strikes in Bombay City dominated the whole field of action and hartals by the peasantry and most decisive action of the

The struggles of Novemby all trade unions with the middle classes in the countryside backed up the Bombay working class.

In Lead

ber 1955 and of January 1956 stand out as total general strikes carried out unanimity. The November struggles were carried out by an Action Committee formed of unions belonging to the AITUC, HMS and other independent federa-

The INTUC opposed the call for the general strike of November 21, 1955. The INTUC also opposed the strike call of

THE NEW STATE

-retrospect and prospect harashtra. So, it was not a question of whether to estabthe two linguistic States. The question was: where will Thus it was Bombay City alone and its "dreaded future" in the hands of the Maratha people that harassed the fate of Maharashtra and Gujarat for the last five years. From 1955 to 1960, the people of Maharashtra and Gujarat, and especially the working class of Bombay City, had carried out political general strikes, hartals and demonstrations in order to get their two States established and to reverse the verdict of Parliament given on the advice of the Congress Party and its supporters in the world of High Finance.

Barbaric Auacks

Barbaric attacks on men, women and children participating in the movement it did not and could not divest took place. Indiscriminate itself totally of its old fourwere resorted to. The struggles of November 1955 and January 1956 will stand out as an epic in the history of this struggle for linguistic States and the struggle for Bombay City being made the capital of Maharashua.

ment of the State of Maha-

It is one of the peculiarities of the historical developme t of the Maratha people that its peasantry never had the tra-ditional loyalty to big landlordism. Maharashtra did not suffer from the typical land-lordism and serfdom which some of the other States in India had to undergo.

Secondly, it had the fortune to build up a great liberation struggle against the Moghul invaders and in that process, gave birth to a peasantry and a middle class which did not remain rooted for long in the traditional concepts of the old feudal India.

Thirdly, it developed a fighting literature of its own which not only preached liberation against the foreign invader but also a reconstitution of its own social structure on a new basis, though firings killing 105 people dations. That is one of the reasons why untouchability in Maharashtra did not have some of the horrid features which it developed in other areas of India.

These healthy features inherited from the past, along with the new forces.

Such were the fears that iominated the leadership of the Congress and they were stated in so many words by many of them and by the

It was, therefore, inevitable that the working class, pea-santry and the middle classes of Maharashtra would have had to launch a furious struggle to get the democratic

Helpful Feature

There was another feature of Maharashtra that helieu the movement. And it is this. The Marathi people have no multi-millionaires in their ranks. All the millionaices that belong to Bombay's world of finance and industry or to the other cities in Maharashtra belong to other s. There may be only a handful of Marailias who can count their wealth and the Hindu Mahasat ha in lakhs.

harashtra was a demand of the Maratha working class, the leaders of High Finance and monopoly industrialists of the City, if it were to be and made them oppose the made the capital of the State ber struggles, some of the HMS and the elements in the HMS and the PSP led by Asoka Mehta, rccoiled from the struggle and it is well-known that Asoka Mehta in Parliament sided with the Congress Party and Reorganisation Com- supported the establishment of a bilingual State and opposed all struggles for its

In spite of this, the working class acted unitedly. Even the middle leadership of the HMS joined in the actions and made them a success.

The second feature is that the leadership of all these struggles was composed of political parties which belonged to the Left. The Communist Party, the Praja Socialist Party, the Peasents and Workers Party, the Lal Nishan Party, the Republican Party and the Janata Agaul _all were parties which took their standpoint on the basis of democracy and Socialism and their following consisted of the workers, peasants and the middle classes. No doubt the Jan Sangh later on joined the Samyukta Hence, from the very be-Maharashtra Samiti when to ginning; the demand for was formed but very soon the the linguistic State of Ma- Jan Sangh dropped out and

* SEE PAGE 4

MAY 1, 1960

SALUTE GUJARAT!

SECRETARY, GUJARAT COUNCIL OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY

We offer our greetings to the people of be raised to commemorate sion of the Congress Gujarat for winning their linguistic State of Guiarat which comes into being on this May Day.

HE formation of the linguistic States of Gujarat urge for democratic and Maharashtra was pre-ceded by a prolonged struggle. In 1956, when the map of India was redrawn, the bilingual Bombay State only exception to the reorganisation on linguistic basis Congress leaders could not come to an understanding regarding Bombay City, which, though an integral of Maharashtra, was sought to be made a separate State by Morarji Desai and others. Hence they formed the composite State of Guiarat and Maharashtra.

Pandit Nehru frequently other political parties had agreed to that arrangement but only the Communist Party had opposed it. Now, all the political parties have welcomed the bifurcation of the Bombay State.

On August 8, 1956, the with indignation. On that day thousands of students and youths surged to the Congress House at Ahmedabad to challenge the incorporation of Gujarat in the bilingual Bombay State, The Congress Government ordered police firing and a number of young students were shot dead on the spot

That was the signal for a great mass movement all over Gujarat. For over a whole week, men and wo-men defled police firings, lathi-charges, curfew orde and other brutalities at Ahmedabad and elsewhere Twentysix young persons were killed at Ahmedabad, Nadiad (Kheda District) and Kalol (Mehsana District), when Morarji Desai, until then glorified by the Congress as the heir of Gandhiji and Sardar Patel, came down to Ahmedabad to watch the aftermath of the butchery of his police. He was confronted with a quiet city, observing the unprecedented Janata Curfew', when none walked the streets and none attended was arranged by the Con-

Janata Parishad

The iron had gone deep down into the soul of the people of Gujarat. The pres-tige of the Congress was shattered and its power siderably impaired in the General Elections that forlowed in 1957. The Congress, for the first time in Gujarat lost about 30 seats in the Legislative Assembly, the Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation was lost to it and so also the District Local Board of Mahsana and several Muni-Kalol, Baroda, Cambay, Nav-

One of the most important political developments in Guarat spoke and announged the above understanding parties and they were greeted with and they were greeted with thunderous applause.

Maha Gujarat Janata Parishad It was formed in the beginning of September 1955, on the basis of the great mass

Gujarat spoke and announged discussed in the Bombay Legislature in August 1959.

It was towards the end of August 1959, that Chavan, the an important decision in early Bombay Chief Minister, leaking the biggest setbacks.

1958 that memorials should ed out the news of the deciparat is a deficit State:

upsurge and intense popular urge for democratic unity against the Congress, with the object of achievin separate State of Maha Gujarat. For the first time the Communist Party, the PSP and many unattached and independent people, some of whom joined the Swatantra Party later on, came together on the same platform.

It was not without great difficulty that the PSP was forced to accept the alliance with the Communists. From the very first day, the PSP had started a battle to keep the Communists out.

But subsequent develop ments proved that the Communists were the biggest cementing factor in the Janata Parishad. Because of their self-sacrificing and honest behaviour, the other non-party people and peu-ple who had come over from the Congress, felt could function as an im-mensely popular all-parties

In Indulal Yajnik, the veteran Kisan Sabha leader and once a prominent Congress the memory of the martyrs who had sacrificed their lives ment in August 1956, Accordingly, huge mass procession were taken out on August 8, 1958, at Ahmedabad, Kalol, Nadiad and memorials were raised at the spots where the martyrs had fallen dead, in defiance of the Government ban. At midnight of August 11-12, these memorials were stealthily removed by the police, which called forth great mass indignation and

Memorial Struggle

The Government of Chavan resorted to firing at Ahmedabad, Nadiad and Dabhoi (Baroda District) and killed five more young men. Soon after this, from August 17. the prolonged martyrs memorial satyagraha was laun-ched at Ahmedabad, which was kept up for about ten months and in which satyagrahis from all over Gujarat and two batches of women from Maharashtra partici nated

During this entire period of over three years the peoCommand to end the ignomi-nious experiment of the bilinform the linguistic States of

The Janata Parishad and the Samyukta Maharashtra Samiti were planning to launch a great united struggle of the people of Gujarat and Maharashtra to end the bilingual State. Already in the whole State, the Congress had been very much weaken-ed and the Government did not have the courage to face a Statewide united mass struggle led by the Samiti and Parishad.

If the Congress Government sought to drown the struggle in blood and fire, it would have had to face the certainty of itself getting drowned in the indignation and fury of mass popular struggle. Hence Prime Minister Nehru and Chief Minister Chavan thought discretion to be the better part of valour and decided to submit to the will of the people. For the Congress, the granting of Maha Gujarat and Santyukta Maharashtra was a tactical manoeuvre to improve their party position, but whatever be their moti-

High it has a big food deficit. Ita roads, waterways and ports are undeveloped. It has a big shortage of electricity and irrigation facilities. Yet there big possibilities opened up. It is one of the richert monstrated at Cambay. The Ukai and Narmada projects can supply electricity and provide irrigation facilities to large areas. It has the longest coast line in the whole country. Its ports of Kandla. Sicca, Bhavnagar, Cambay, Broach, Surat, etc., can be very well developed. In size and population, it is only larger than Kerala.

Communists?

The Communist Party in Guiarat has, from the beginning, played its role honourably in the struggle for Maha Gujarat. It has issued a manifesto, paying homage to the martyrs and proudly greeting the new State, it has given a call to build up popular democratic unity for the rapid development of Gujarat, and its march towards full demo-cracy and Socialism.

struggles and sacrifices that made new states possible leader under Gandhiji's leadership, the people of Guis-rat and the Parishad found people and take them for

Joint Fight

In November 1957, a new Negotiations were held in mittees of the Janata Parishad and the Samyukta Maharashtra Samiti for evolving a joint front to fight for ending Amidst great popular reicing both in Gujarat and Maharashtra, common, bro-therly understanding was arrived at between the two popular organisations. It was agreed that Bombay should be integrated in Maharashtra State, that question of Dang District would be reopened, that the rest of the border between Gujarat and Maharashtra should be settled according to the Pataskar formula taking the village as a unit, that brotherly financial assistance should be given to the new Gujarat State by the Maha-rashtra State, and safeguards should be worked out for the One of the most important Gujarat spoke and announ-

ple all over Gujarat were astir with continuous activity. The Janata Parishad became the living centre of all political activity against the Congress Government and its misdeeds. Not only the question of Maha Gujarat, but other questions like rising prices, were taken up by the Parishad and it was becoming the united popular opposition organisation.

In early 1959, it scored another big victory. It was one of the main demands of ernment should set up judicial enquiries into the various police firings in Gujarat sincē August 1956. The Government was obstinately resisting the demand, but at last it had on was set up in the early part of 1959, under Justice Kotwal. The findings of this Commission were revealing.

Engulry Report

The enquiry was confined only to the Ahmedabad firings of August 1958, and though it justified some of the police actions, on the whole the findings proved very damaging to the Gova great public meeting, leaders of both Maharashtra and Gujarat spoke and announced the above understanding sense of satisfaction prevailed among the people everywhere. This did not reestablish the old popular faith in the Congress. People had not forgotten that the Congress had fought against Maha Gujarat, Jivraj the prospective Chief Minister of Gujarat, had said in the Legislature that they had not asked for bifurcation.

Splitters Of Unity

But a strange development not quite unexpected, followed. The people who had come over from the Congress, and more violently the PSP, began the tirade against the anata Parishad's existence. Popular sentiment was in favour of continuing the Parishad as the united opposition to the Congress. Moreover, towards the end of March 1960, even before the new Gujarat State came into being a resolution was adonted at the annual meeting of the Parishad, with a very doubtful majority, that it should be dissolved. The people have attained their cherished objective of Maha Gujarat; their faith in struggles is strengthened.

Yet, today, the opposition parties stand disunited and in Gujarat, the Congress has

ves it was a move in the suitable changes in labour right direction. and peasant legislations, an refinery in the public sector, rapid completion of Ukai, Narmada and other river projects, construction of roads and waterways, abolition of illiteracy and free education for children of people with incomes less than Rs. 1,800 per annum, for rapid advance of backward areas and of the 30 lakh Adivasi and several lakhs of harijans population, of the landlese peasants, for no taxation on poorer people, for nationali-sation of the textile industry, if further taxation becomes necessary for rapid industrial development and fostering medium and small industries

We greet the valiant people of Gujarat on this historic 女女女女女女女女女女女女女女女女女女女女

to remove growing unemploy-

THOPPIL BASI'S TWO DRAMAS IN HINDI

UTHAN (Hindi translation of 'You Made Me a Communist)-to be ont by May 29, 1959. Price: Rs. 2.50
POONJI (Hindi translation of 'Mooladhanam') (in the press): Price: Rs. 3.00 Translations by Laxman Rastri.

Translations by Laxman Bastri.
Ashok Prakashan Char
plans to bring out in Hindi other outstanding works from Malayalam and other South
Indian languages.
Those who enrol them-Manager, ASHOK PRAKASHAN

20.A Ramnagar, NEW DELHI

NEW AGE

PAGE THREE

their unity and their lives—over a hundred have slaughtered—they have thrown out of office Syngman Rhee, the hated symbol of corruption and ruthless terror. Glory for freedom". He is a fit stooge of these rapacious haters and oppressors of the people having hanged and poisoned his political rivals, shot down his people and brought bar-

In the last five years, the United States has pumped 1,500 million dollars into Rhee's treasury to bolster up this "defender of civilisation." To this day the American troops remain on in South Korea. To this day the United States openly rules the roost in South Korea and prevents the turn General MacArthur's statue along with that of Syng-man Rhee and wrecked the exhibition on anti-Communism pacification before Eisenhower arrives on his State visit, pacification base put up a show of dislike of the fallen dictator. They are working feverishly to instal in his place another of their puppets.

the crown and apex. They will not allow the U. S. imperialists to impose on them another of their puppets.

people. We bow our heads in reverence before their martyrs. send them our most ardent wishes and solidarity for the democratic regeneration of their country, for the pea-

MAHARASHTRA

the scene of the greatest

They wisely chose to fall in line with the course of his-abled the Maratha people to build up a unified movement of resistance to the Congress and its inspirers in the finan-

cause if one is not familiar with all the events of these years and the forces that led them, one is likely to be misled as to the contents of this movement and the perspec-

The Samiti that was born out of them also paved the way for bringing about some amount of unity in the working class movement. Some of the old walls that divided the workers below into various affiliations and loyalties were cracked down and a movement for united trade unions based on the political platform of breakup of the bilingual State economic demands of the working people gathered

The biggest sector of the Bombay City. This new tea-

working class in Bombay and the democratic and tives of the future.

cial world of Bombay City.

the Maratha people.

movement in the history of the Samyukta Maharashta Samiti which became, later on, the organised symbol of tory and saved themselves, and at the same time, enconsisted mainly of the forces of the Left and particularly of the working class and the middle class of Bombay City.

Had it not been for this, it would not have been pos-sible for the Samiti to in-I am noting down these facts and these features beflict a defeat on the Congress in the elections in 1957. Those elections were a sort of a plebiscite regarding the fate of Bombay City and the demand of Maharashita Samyukta The Samyukta Maharashtra Samiti won the elections and scored a majority of the votes of the people though it did not secure a majority of the seats in the

Had the peasantry not sided with the Samiti, such a result would have been im-

As a result of these clec tions and the movement that backed them, the Samiti evolved into a popular froat in which the leading force was the working class and the peasantry joining hands. The Samiti's successes were due to this single factor that it was the popular front of namely the textile workers, the democratic masses. established a united union The struggle which laid the and drew in its fold the majofoundations of the movement, rity of the textile workers in the struggles of November 1955 and January 1956 ture towards unity drew in its were led by Action Commitfold not only the Marathitees formed on an ad hoc basis by trade unions and speaking workers but arso workers of other States and political parties. This fact has became in essence a working to be noted and has to be reclass movement. membered. It was after these truggles that people felt the need for having a permaploited and downtrodden Scheduled Caste workers who nent organisation to lead the struggle in its future stages. formed quite a large percenopposed to establishing a tage of the working class in permanent organisation or a front, following from its noto-The PSP leadership was opposed to establishing a front, following from its noto-rious "principle" of not join- braced Buddhism were also ing in a front with the Communists. But their opposition Maharashtra and united trade by the movement itself. They had to

PAGE FOUR

Rhee is one of the allies of the Western "crusaders barous war to his country.

peaceful reunification of the country. It is significant that the demonstrators tried to over-put up by the Americans in Seoul.

Sensing the doom of Rhee and wanting some sort of

But the South Korean people have risen not only against Rhee but the entire hated system of which he was

We hall the courage and unity of the South Korean ceful unification of their homeland. (April 27)

Scene CALCUITA, April 25 From JNAN BIKASH MOITRA an election meeting. Deputy tem of their fundamental ESS than a week from Chief Minister P. C. Sen, several Deputy Ministers now polling takes place in the crucial by-election

from the South-West Calcutta Parliamentary constituency. One of the stiffest political battles of recent imes is raging over this vast area of the city, comprising seven Assembly

constituencies and inhabited, according to the latest electoral roll, by 335,472

voters-but in reality, by

Although there are three unist leader Indrajit Guota

candidates in the field, Com-and the nominee of the Congress and the PSP, the real contest is, for all practical purposes, between the Communist Party and the Con-

Chief Minister Dr. B. C.

Roy, has already address

vement of the Samiti and the democratic front represented

by it, and inspired its millions to forget the old caste distinctions and be a part of the general democratic moscment. Hence one could see such a phenomenon as the former untouchable candidates being elected with over-orthodox and backward towns

The pride of the Con gress as the leading party in Maharashtra was humbled and the democratic front of the Samiti captured local institutions and all that was falling on the

the basis of linguistic feelings but on the basis of ideas of Socialism, demo cratic rights and the leadership of the working peo-

into existence

rashtra and Gujarat.

ests of monopoly capital.

in the world of capital.

This successful termination of a great and heroic struggle is, however, marred by the working people.

coming

about a lakh more.

Calcutta By-Election

and a number of Congress MLAs are actively campaigning for their candidate paying particular attention to Metiabruz, a predor Muslim area. In Ekbalpur, it organised a secret closeddoor meeting of local Muslims, which was addressed by a Muslim League leader from Kerala. The Congress in its campaign is resorting to utter falsehoods and the vilest slanders against the Communist Party. Special stress is being laid on Communist "treachery" in relation to the India-China border dispute and the "misdeeds" of the Communist Ministry in Kerala and its "rejection" by the people of that State.

The new system of photo-Realising the crucial imgraphing voters has become a portance of the by-election, big weapon in the hands of the Congress has thrown its entire resources in men and money into the battle.

FIRST, over a lakh people are being deliberately deprived by this photo-card sys-

to vote, because a more restricted franchise will suit Congress chances better.

SECONDLY, backward sections of voters who have been already photographed are neing told by Congress workers that the Congress ernment now has their photos, names and addresses and if they vote against the Con-"pucca arrangements" are there to take steps against them.

The unprincipled character of the Congress campaign can be seen in the fact that they tell Muslim voters that Indrajit Gupta was a member of the Hindu Mahasabha and that only recently he joined the Communist Party, while to Hindu voters they slander the Communist Party as "agent of the Muslim League" and Indrajlt Gupta as a supporter of the Lea-

They ask Bengali voters not

& SEE PAGE 13

Bombay City the burden of the deficit of tho financing new Gujarat State which is quite a novel feature. These matters are bound to prove Maharashtra and to Gujarat.

I need not recount here the dissatisfaction which Maharashtra is bound to feel on the question of its horder whelming majority on the areas, the question of finan-Samiti platform in the most ces and the question of the Ukai Dam. However, these do not detract from the fact that now the Maratha people, having a linguistic State of their own, will take to reconstruction of their economy with the strength of these forces that formed such a elective bodies. It was an avalanche of democracy powerful democratic front as the Samiti.

But, unfortunately, the reactionary forces not only united forces of the Samiti are threatened with disruption by the PSP which wants to secede on the plea that having realised main demand, the Samiti no longer need exist. Such are the developments that ultimately found their success in the establishment All the pledges that they had taken on the platform of of the two States of Mahathe Samiti to build a Socialist Maharashtra in a Socialist That is why I said it is a India are being given the All the pledges that fortune that the States are they had given to the Marapeople to stick to unit, fight for the demands of First of May, the day of the the people on a united plat-On this day, the working are being given the gomasses of Bombay City will by. All this is being done in the name, again, of the notoremember the glorious struggles of 1955 and 1956, where rious "principle" of theirs that democratic unity for reausing they will not join with the a democratic demand was re-

Communists in any front. sisted by the reactionary forces and the vested inter-The Congress leadership is very happy at this turn of events because the alternative On this day, the people of Maharashtra will remember force to the Congress leaderthe hundreds of men and ship that was born in this women who made their sacrimovement — the Samiti-ii. thus being weakened and disfice for defeating the manualso showed another euvres of reactionary forces rupted by one of the partners

the front. One need not speculate on the future. It is possible that when the PSP walks out of fact that while recarving the the Samiti, the other parties two States, the Congress ieadership has transferred ceriain Marathi-speaking areas remain in the front and bulla to the Gujarat State and has refused to transfer the Marathi-speaking areas lying in Mysore State to the new Ma-

(though it is now divided on harashtra State. It has also in order to give a clean authese issues) joined the molaid upon the shoulders of ministration to the State and who would agree to such a programme.

No doubt the Congress has the majority in the new legisan irritating factor both to lature. The Congress Ministry Maharashtra and to Gujarat. has a Chief Minister who has not a reputation of being an undiluted reactionary. In fact, as a young man, he putation of entertaining progressive views on some matters, though in loyalty to his leadership, he supported tile bilingual State in spite of the opposition of the Maratha Bombay's Ministry was so long afflicted by few Ministers, particularly the Labour Minister who did all in his power to smash the working class which was united under the Samiti and preserve and protect the interests of the nopolists. It is now said that in the reconstitution of the Ministry, the gentleman-protector of High Finance may not get the same port. folio as his policies had once brought out a protest general strike in the City of Bombay on July 25, 1958.

If such trends develop further and the Ministry decides to reconstitute uself in a proper way and adopt new attitudes towards the democratic masses in Maharashtra, the struggle of the toiling people for protecting their standards of living and work and building a better life may evoke less suffering than they did in the last five years, though struggles and suffering are inevitable even in this nev State whose main social forces are the workers, peasants and the middle classes of Maharashtra.

The celebrations of the new significantly begin with the birthday of Shivaji, the r of the first Maratha State and inspirer of the Maratha peasantry, and end with First of May, the International Day of the Working Class-a happy, militant, democratic and Socialist combination of nationalism and internationalism.

MORN LOYAL THAN THE QUEEN

OMBAY witnessed a ickening display totally unnecessary syco-phancy on the Queen's birthday. A select audience had gathered at the British Deputy High Commisresidence to celebrate the auspicious occasion on April 21. Some African students also mingled with the spick and span Marine Drive millionaires and other gentry.

Then came the time for speeches. Everybody ex-pected the usual pleasant platitudes and flexed their facial muscles to hide the yawns. But as Sri Prakasa, the Bombay Governor droned on there was quite a bustle of excitement. People began to wonder whether this was 1960 or 1910 and whether it was a Congress Governor or some old Rai Bahadur saying his piece in front of white District Magistrate.

ingly by referring to the decision to bifurcate bilingual Bombay, adding that the unity of India had, above all, to be maintained. Then came the first -"The unity of India let us not forget, was the creation of the British." One had been brought up to believe that it was the national movement, directed against the British, that was the foundation of national unity. However.

Then another burst of obsequious remarks about the I.C.S. "Whatever we may feel or say about the I. C. S. we cannot deny that they governed us fairly and well." The shades of our martyrs must have wondered what they had sacrificed their lives for.

Following other, highly

EDITOR : P. C. Joshi Printed by D. P. Sinha at the AGE PRINTING PRESS ad New Delhi, and P by him from 7/4, Asaf All Road New Delhi

Phone : 25794 Telegraphic Address: MARXBADI

SUBSCRIPTION RATES INLAND: Yearly Rs. 12-0-0; Half-yearly Rs. 6-0-0 and Quarterly Rs. 3-0-0. FOREIGN: Yearly Rs. 16-1 Half-yearly Rs. 8-0-0.

All cheques and drafts to be made payable to T. MADHAVAI and not to NEW AGE.

SCRAP-BOOK

not been for the "liberty-

HITLER'S

PRIMADS.

ARRIVE

across the Indian

mament monster has deed bid to entangle itself in

The MRA has a long rewer group which is cur-

with the fascists in the against humanity. In a burst of rapture he had

During the days of our

the rulers and the ruled.

The other effort was to ders of the national move-nent. Gandhili was polite game of trying to make us, docile lovers of the British norted in his Autobiography, was not so polite and

MRA gave him the creeps.

For a time they concentrated their attention on Africa asking our black brothers to forget the insults heaped on them and to remember that they had thy" if they were to claim their freedom. Despite all the money and the slick

shows, MRA was badly bruised and scampered away from a continent

With the anti-Commun

the hate-China campaign,

MRA has decided to move in on India. You all remember how Mannam went off for advice and cash to Caux. You must have all now noticed the full-page

ing dailies. Although it claims to be inserted by a "group of Indians" isn't it advertisements in the lead crusade in Kerala and anger in its eyes.

with the glint of become "morally wor-aly proclaimed that the

rs. Nehru, as re-

but soon enough saw

minent among the lea-

try to emasculate the more

our political life.

loving". British! And these great "libertylovers," the Bombay Gov-ernor concluded by saying, were now leading "country after country to independence." The Indians present might have felt un-comfortable but can you imagine what the Africans as servile!

NEW danger looms He began quite promishorizon. The Moral Recided to make a determincord of service to that Porently the most reactionar and vicious in the world. Its founder, Dr. Frank Buchman, was quite thick hey-day of their onslaught even declared, "Thank God for Hitler." freedom struggle MRA had hobnobbed with the Indian top officials to salve their guilty consciences—even some of them had a few pangs at their role as hangmen of their own peo ple. They were called the "bridge of service" between obsequious remarks about the present Queen-"One of the great Queens of English history"—and the new-born royal infant, he delivered his plece de re-sistance. He said that our have been possible had it strange that these gentlemen are so coy as not to reveal their names? Do they exist? And how have they come by their funds?

One reason for doubt as to the Indian origin of the advertisement is the way in which Adenauer has been brought in as the best advertisement for MRA! Any Indian-even present must have felt and thought? What a comebought ones—would have known that this inveterate down or rather going back foe of peace is not held in —the earliest Congress Presidential speeches some any particular esteem here. 90 years ago were almost Another reason is the glib way it talks of building unity between France and Germany—for the atom bomb tests in Sahara, no doubt! No Indian will think of putting this across as an achievement.

Our so-called national Press which gets so worked up about "imported" ideologies has no compunction in splashing this advertisement which openly proplaims the need for importing the MRA brand of mmunism — "India has no ideology," it insultingly declares. You cannot blame them when so much eash is imported ald with the trashy ideas.

One way of getting money from MRA is to pray aloud (open confessions is an MRA feature) in the presence of some MRA big-wig that you will fight-your desire for money (better still name a specifled sum of cash), that you refuse to sin in order to get it. The hint is taken and the cash is delivered. Perhaps, our Press mag-nates knew about this and a full-page advertisement is the answer to their greedy prayers.

Let us hope that the Nehru Government, knowing the past and present will make a probe into this advertisement "racket of these moralising monsters.

REW FINDINGS

A S the New Statesman editor, Kingsley Martin had earned quite a reputa tion as a pinkish and also as a friend of India. But his latest travels and his jottings aren't going to help that reputa-

He started off by badly letting down his old friend Diwan Chaman Lall by first privately agreeing to come the Parliamentarians Convention for Disarmament and then publicly disconnecting from It.

He has followed up this unbecoming behaviour with a gushing interview with (and about) the Dalai Lama—the , 'Divine Realist" Throwing aside his scepticism and rationalism, he swallowed all the tales of Chinese "atrocities." modest charm that conquers everyone," it seems In the end "we parted with real sympathy and under standing." What a fall, even if the Dalai Lama did not even have to stoop to Having sympathised with this symbol of the most theocracy in the world Kingsley Martin had little difficulty in being in tune with Ayub Khan-"A Commonsense Dictator." He was quite charmed and thrilled with all that he saw and heard in Martial of course; but dictatorshor at its most constructive, least repressive and most polite." This at a time the regime.

He was also, in the end, convinced that some variant of the joint Indo-Pak-Defence Pact (condominium) would solve all problems, including the Kashmir dispute—exactly as the American imperialists and the Swatantraites have been saying.

when the Chief Justice of Pakistan had made his courageous strictures on

It is sad to see a personality in decline giving in to the latest quackeries, if embellished with an anti-Communist daub or two. If "Critic" abandons nis critical sense in a particular direction, we are not so much dismayed as saddenthings. But new findings are good for all.

-O.VLOOKER

NORTHERN RAILWAY

Concessional Return Tickets To Hill Stations AT 1/2 FARES

for First, Second and Third Classes

1st April, 1960 to 31st Period of issue

October, 1960. 3 months. Period of Currency

Winimum distance

Chargeable. Hill stations for which concession is avail150 miles. Pathankot, Simla, Solan, Dharampur (Punjab), Dehradun. Kathgodam, Darjeeling, Kurseong, Shillong, Abu Road, Pipa-riya, Ootacumund, Coonoor, Kodiakanal Out agency served by Kodaikanal Road and Kotagiri Out agency served by Mettupalaiyam. In case of the last two Out agencies at 11 single journey fares for the rail portion plus two single journey fares for the road portion.

Rail-cum-Road and Rail cum-Air return tickets for Srinagar.

These are issued from a few selected stations on Northern Railway. Over the rail portion, 1-1/3 fares are charged for first, and second and 11 fares for third

SPECIAL CONDITIONS

Break of Journey

Not allowed on calvate journey, but allowed on return journey, steer ing to normal rules ing to normal In case journey is broken on outward trip, concession will be forfeited and penalty charged.

Reservation

Reservation for the return journey will be made by the Station Master of the Hill Station for the entire journey. No reservation will be made at stations en route.

Dating of Return Halves ...

The ticket must be got dated and stamped by the station master of the Hill station failing which it will be invalid.

FURTHER DETAILS CAN BE HAD THE NEAREST STATION MASTER.

CHIEF COMMERCIAL SUPERINTENDENT

NEW AGE

The Republican

It

Party

NEW AGE

MAY 1. 1960

MAY 1, 1960

IN CONAKRY, PLEDGE FOR FREEDOM, UNITY AND SOLIDARITY

tic People's Republic, Congo, Guinea, India, Japan, the Cameroons, the USSR, the Vietnam Democratic Reput

The Chairman of the Conference, the Guinea Minister of Public Works, then announ-ced the conclusion of the Conference amidst cheers and shouting of the slogans, "Freedom" and "Independ-

Delegations to the Conference included those from Aden, Algeria, Angola, Basu-toland, the USSR, China,

Somaliland, Ghana, the Mali Federation, Iraq, Pakistan,

Vietnam Democratic Repub-lic, the Korean Democratic Republic, Japan, Guinea,

Mauritania, Ceylon, Ethiopia

Libya, the United Arab Re public, Lebanon, South and North Rhodesia, the Cameroons, Uganda, Ruanda-Urundi, Liberia, Zanzibar,

Yemen, Kenya and other

A mass rally attended by Asian and African countries.

tens of thousands of people

brate the success of the Conwas held on April 15 to celenesia. India, the Mongo lian People's Republic,

lic, Yemen and Indo

The Second Afro-Asian Solidarity Conference in front of the Conference closed in Conakry on April 15 after five days of plenary and committee discussions. The Conference, attended by seventytwo delegations and observers' delegations, passed a declaration and resolutions on political, economic, social and cultural matters, including those on unity and solidarity, imperialism and colonialism, peaceful coexistence and disarmament, on atomic weapons and their tests, and on Algeria.

S PEAKING on behalf of China, the Korean Democra African delegations, Altic People's Republic, Congr gerian delegate Fanon said that all resolutions passed by the Conference demonstrated solidarity of the Asian and African peoples in their struggle against imperialism and colonialism. "The Conference," he added, "has given us greater strength and conence in fighting our comenemy. We shall not stop uggle until our objecndence and freeachieved.

Against War Mangenvres

On behalf of the Asian delegations, Japanese delegate Masaharu Hatanaka said that the spirit of soildarity has been predomi-nant throughout the Conference which, he said, was the main power of our suc-cess. He condemned imperelalist war preparations and pledged to fight these res steadfastly.

The Conference elected a steering Committee of the Organisation of Afro-Asian darity, which included representatives from Algeria, ference. The rally took place hall. Colourful flags and national flags of the Afro-Asian countries, which had sent de-legations to the Conference, flew in the breeze. Big ban-ners inscribed with the slogans, "Long Live Afro-Asian Solidarity!" "Down with Imperialism and Colonialism! hung over the streets.

Rally And Celebrations

Hours before the rally, huge crowds had already gathered in the pavements and streets, singing, dancing and cheering. The delegates and obserfrom about seventy Afro-Asian countries joined in the celebration.

In a speech delivered at the rally President Sekou Toure congratulated the delegates on the success of the Conference. He said that he was convinced that the resolutions unanimous adopted at the Conference were in conformity with the interests of the Afro-Asian peoples. Their implementation would bring a radical change to th situation in Africa and Asia.

He added that since resolutions had been adopted, action would be of greater importance in future. He ed that problems of Asia and Africa could not be sepa-rated. Their common alma were independence and freedom, solidarity and unity. He

* SEE FACING PAGE

KHRUSHCHOV'S MRSSAGE

"Wishes Success In Struggle For Liquidation Of Colonialism"

O N behalf of the Soviet people and on my own behalf, I cordially greet the delegates to the Second Afro-Asian Solidarity Conference who have gathered in Conakry, the capital of the young Republic of Guinea.

Like the previous conferences in Delhi, Cairo, Accra and Tunis, this Conference is another step forward in the struggle waged by the peoples of Africa and Asia against the shameful system of colonialism, for the complete liberation of the entire African continent from foreign domination, for the right of all nations in the world to build and develop their national Statehood, economy and culture, and to be equal participants of the peaceful progress of mankind.

The Soviet people are following with invariable sympathy the successes of the just and noble struggle waged by the peoples of Africa and Asia and sincerely rejoicing at the great creative work now in progress in the already independent Afro-Asian countries. The poverty, destitution and backwardness into which the peoples have been plunged by the long rule of colonialists must be done away with once and for all! In the great undertaking of the revival and development of national economies and cultures as well as in their struggle for freedom, all Afro-Asian peoples have in the Soviet Union a true and loyal friend ever ready to extend a helping and selfless hand.

I warmly wish the Conference successfully to accomplish the tasks facing it in the struggle for the final liquidation of the shameful system of colonialism, for the revival and prosperity of all Afro-Asian peoples.

> With hearty greetings, N. KHRUSHCHOV

New Age readers are aware of the farce enacted by various State Congress Governments in the name of imposing ceiling on landholdings. Here is one more instance, this time produced by the Congress Ministry of Madhya Pra-desh in the name of The M.P. Ceiling on Agricultural Hold-ings Bill, 1959, passed in the last Budget Session of the As-sembly and now awaiting consent of the President.

MADHYA PRADESH CEILING BILL

HIS Bill, though it claims diately preceding the date of credit for providing "for a the commencement of this Act more equitable distribution of from any source of irrigation land" and promoting "the nomic and social interest of the weaker section of the commuwill make little change in the land relations existing

Standard Acre

The "standard acre" is taken as the basis for fixing ceiling and the standard acre has been defined as an acre of perenni-ally irrigated land or two acres of seasonally irrigated land or. three acres of dry land. "Perennially" irrigated land means which receives water for more than one crop in an agricultural year from any source of irrigation belonging to the Government. Seasonally irrigated land means land receives or had received water for not more than one crop in each of at least two agricultural not the worst part of the Bill's years during five years imme-

from any source of irrigation belonging to the Government.

Bill, no holder is entitled to hold land in excess of 28 standard acres.

of his heirs as (i) son, grand-son, great grandson, (ii) widow of a son, grandson or great grandson, (iii) unmar-ried daughter, unmarried daughter of a son or a grandson, (iv) unmarried sisterof whom do not hold any land in their own right and are dependent on him, such a holder is entitled to hold land inexcess of 28 standard acres to the extent of five standard acres per each such heir not exceeding 53 standard acres in the aggregate.

But if the holder has any

In other words a holder can hold 53 acres of perennially irrigated or 108 acres of seasonally irrigated or 159 unirrigated acres of land. But this is provisions. The real face of this simple looking 28 acres ceiling can only be seen when one reads the definition of the nolder as given in Section 6 of the Bill.

This definition says:

(i) "where certain land is neld by two or more holders jointly or as tenants-in-common, the area of land corresponding to the interest of each holder on the appoin shall be deemed to be held by such holder."

(ii) "where land is held by a joint Hindu family, each of such family who is entitled to share in the family property shall be deemed to hold an area of such land proportionate to his share in the property to which he would be entitled if a partition were to ake place on the appointed

As is clear, the family is not taken as basis for ceiling, but efforts and to ensure resolution. It continues

Objective

Is Profit

over our wealth, says the re-solution. Therefore, the Conference holds that unless

Afro-Asian countries vigilant-achieve economic independence, our newly-won inde-

The resolution says that the Conference reiterates the Cairo Conference resolution that we have no objection to investments of foreign capital and foreign loans, provided that they are not subject to political conditions or

It says that noting the

in all cases, as it is the only

NEW AGE

means to counter unduly per-

the resolution goes on.

special privileges.

home industry and economy.

The European Common Market, International Deve-

ment Association and the

by HAR NARAYAN UPADHYAYA SECRETARY, MADHYAPRADESH KISAN SABHA

an individual. Now according to the Hindú Mitakshara system, members up to four generations are taken to be shareholders in the joint family coparcernery property and every-one of them will be holder according to this definition.

ANDTHER LAND

REFORM FARCE

Thus, if a landowner has four sons, every one of them being a holder, all the five together can hold 140 acres of perennially irrigated or 280 acres of seasonally irrigated or 420 acres of unirrigated land in total. And if he has grandchildren, they also can hold land, some of them as holders and others under special provision of additional five acres. Thus, landlords owning 500 or even 1000 acres of land can easily be out of the purview of this ceiling

This ceiling limit becomes all the more a farce when one looks t the present land relations in Madhya Pradesh. According to the 1951 census, there were 40 lakh landless agricultural labourers in the State, and their number would be about 50 lakhs now. Taking a family to consist of five members, these ten lakh families along with poor peasants having uneconomic tiny plots up to two acres would constitute at least 25 lakhs families, who need to be given some land if land re form is to mean anything. But not even 25 per cent of these landless labourers and poor peasants will get any land through the present legislation.

Secondly, the definition of ndard acre is very defective, based as it is on perennially or seasonally irrigated land, which receives "water from any source Government." It means the ceiling area of a holder perennially or seasonally irrigated land from Government source will be 28 acres or 56 acres respectively, while that of a holder holding perennially or seasonally irrigated land receiving water from his private source will be 84 acres. This definition will benefit only the big landlords because it is they who generally own private sources of irrigation. Thirdly, as many as sixteen categories of land have been exempted from ceiling including such lands as used for sugar-cane farms, orchards mango groves, specialised farms (for cattle-breeding and similar purposes of animal husbandary), efficiently managed farms, which may be mechanised or otherwise. Thus, it is obvious that full use of these exemptions will be made by the vested interests in land ade the ceiling.

atro-asian solidarity

* FROM FACING PAGE

said that relying upon the strength and solidarity of the people, imperialism could be viped out.

Economic Resolution

HE economic resolution adopted by the Second Afro-Asian Solidarity Conference declares that economic independence alone will enable the Afro-Asian tries to successfully resist the imperialist intrigues.

It says that the Conference, therefore, declares that the struggle for full economic independence is today a cardinal task of the countries of Africa and Asia which have won political independence resolution. economic says that the Conference would again emphasise that we Afro-Asian peoples cannot regard our struggle for independence as complete unless we abolish the economic inequality and build up a sound and independent economy.

The resolution says with a view to achieving economic independence for the Afro-Asian countries, the Heavy Conference urges:

To unite the efforts of the Willstone Afro-Asian peoples in their struggle against imperialism, to energetically support the steps for general disarma-ment and to strive for elimination of foreign control over the economies of the Afro-Asian countries;

To reiterate the building up of their own economies to the utmost by their own efforts ports. intensifying cooperaand by intensifying coopera-tion and mutual assistance ses powerful positions in the fact that foreign capital in-tion and mutual assistance ses powerful positions in the fact that foreign capital in-tion and mutual assistance ses powerful positions in the fact that foreign capital intries:

development of cooperatives the imperialists and colonial and the use of modern implements:

To support the national Governments which plan to develop the State sector of economy and national planning as important means for accelerating economic prog-

To develop to the utmost cooperation of the Afro-Asian countries in the interests of winning the position of equality on the world market; To extend relations with industrially developed countries on the basis of equality, mutual benefit and noninterference in internal affairs; and

To resolutely combat any attempt to utilise economic and technical cooperation for political and military pur-

It notes with satisfaction the concrete development of the Bandung spirit for close Afro-Asian economic and commercial cooperation is gratified to note the determined efforts which are being made by the liberated countries in Africa and Asia to rehabilitate their economy that ravaged by imperialist plun-

The resolution says that the Conference is of the opinion that the baneful heritage of the colonial period is still weighing on Afro-Asian countries like a heavy millstone. Afro-Asian economies remain one-sided and continue to be based on raw material ex-

Foreign capital still possescountries, the resolution con- countries have often tried to taking as to restore full mastery over main steps, land reforms, the their wealth and resources, sistent attempts to establish Powers are joining hands in close collusion to defeat our foreign control and to prevent the danger of heavy loss resulting from the export of countries of Africa and Asia profits from our countries. continue to remain as raw material appendages to their

Foreign -Aid

Referring to the two kinds United States Dillon Plan for the aggressive NATO alli-ance are all aimed at mainof foreign aids given to the Afro-Asian countries, it says that one type of aid coming taining Afro-Asian economies as raw material producers and for enriching colonialist mainly from industrially developed countries seems to colonialist aim at keeping our Afro-Powers at our cost, says the Asian countries as mainly agricultural and raw material the Conference would like to alert the Afro-Asian countries producers and hampers of this new danger of collecindustrialisation. Such becomes means of tive imperialism which considers the developing economies of the Afro-Asian couneconomic problems of developed countries at our extries a threat to Western expense and seeks to shift economic hardships of the great Powers on our shoulders. As against this, disinterested aid from friendly and anti-imperialist countries helps our industrialisation, helps us to make maximum use of our The objective of this imperialism or neo-colonialism is profit and it seeks control internal resources It says that the Conference declares that this new type of relationship which is growing between the Afroand anti-imperialist States is a source of strength ly intensify their efforts to and confidence to us and strengthens us in the task of achieving our economic pendence may be jeopardised,

> It says that the World Bank is unwilling to help readily underdeveloped countries and the Conference wishes to register its strong protest against the activities of the Bank which has repeatedly supported the most infamous projects of imperialist exploitation.

usurp our sovereign rights, nent committee for the purvancing agriculture and imvancing agriculture and improving the living conditions Afro-Asian countries are out supports the demand for naconomic problems, dissemiject and prepare for an Afro-Asian Planning Conference.

Partitions And Transfers

And finally, instead of effectively checking false partitions and transfers, now being carried on by big landowners and already made in previous years, the Bill gives two year's additional time to landlords to carry on such transfers and partitions for evading the law, by shifting the "appointed day", from the date of the enforcement of the Act to a date "immediately following the date on which the period of two years from the commencement the Act expires."

One could not expect a better egislation from the Madhya Pradesh Congress Cabinet and Legislature Party packed with former Rajas, Ranis and all It says that the Conference sorts of feudal elements. It was decides to establish a perma-rightly described by Homi Daji Communist MLA, "as a Bill for de-ceiling" because it has removed even the cei Bharat Land Tenancy Act.

PAGE SEVEN

Peoples of Africa and Asia Declare...

T HE Declaration issued by the Second Afro-Asian Solidarity Conference reads in full as fol-

The peoples of Africa and Asia, whose representatives have gathered here this Second Conference t Conakry from April 11 to 15 declare our firm confidence in our moral and spiritual strength arising from our solidarity and our determination to continue unceasingly the struggle for our national independ-

No imperialist machinations can destroy the unity of the African and Asian peoples in the struggle for independence. freedom and progress. At his vital juncture in world history, we proclaim our unshakable resolve to play our positive and decisive role in shaping the destiny of the world, of which we constitute the majority, aking mankind along the high road of independence. liberty, prosperity and peace putting an end to coionialism and imperialism which have brought about injustice, destitution and

The peoples of Africa and Asia have chosen their way to the realisation of these aims, a way which is clear and precise. The first step along this way is the achievement of national independence. We are determined to destroy all obstacles along this road of freedom and ensure that there shall never be return to the past. The Second Conference hereby reaffirms its adherence to the great spirit Bandung and reiterates here the ten principles of

FIRST, respect for the fundamental rights of man and principles and objectives of the United Nations

Charter. SECOND, respect for the sovereignty and territorial ntegrity of all nations. THIRD, recognition equality of all races and of equality of all nations, large and small.

FOURTH. abstention from intervention or interference in the internal affairs of other countries.

FIFTH, respect for the right of each nation to defend itself, singly or collectively, in conformity with the Charter of the in conformity United Nations.

SIXTH, (a) abstention from use of arrangements of collective defence to serve particular interests of any of the big Powers: (b) abstention by any country from exerting pressure on other coun-

SEVEN, refraining from acts or threats of aggression or use of force against the territorial integrity or political independence any country.

EIGHTH, settlement of all international disputes by peaceful methods such as negotiation, conciliation, settlement, as well as other peaceful means of parties' own choice, in conformity with the Charter of the NINTH, the promotion of cultural interests and co-

TENTH, the respect for justice and international

We extend our hands of friendship to all men. ieverthele: and have hitter experiences taught us to discern friends from our foes.

We, peoples of Africa and Asia, declare that we shall never at any price permit our national indenendence to be made a matter of bargaining. The heroic resistance of the Algerian people is a most eloquent example of this.

National independence implies the fullest control of our own rich resources potentialities and an end to their exploitation by foreigners and a handful of monopolists. It means colonialism over the Afro-Asian peoples, an end to misery, discrimination and poverty and the beginning of a period of equality for

Our struggle for indegle for world peace. The rosperity of peoples. We have faith in the future of humanity. We have faith in the intelli-gence and wisdom of mannd. We are confident that a great era of peace and progress for humanity shall dawn despite all obstacles In realisation of this new era of fraternity and neace the solidarity of Afro-Asian peoples in the struggle against imperialism and for the building of a new world shall play a more and more decisive

ndence and prosperity is at the same time a strugstand out as a solid force for peace will fight with all our might and resources against military pacts, alignments and all other efforts which seek to destroy through a nuclear holocaust, all that the genius of man has created the well-being and a day that MAN MAN, 1960 began with the workers? blood that Howed in Chicago

MAY 1, 1960

MAY DAY-the international holiday of the workers of all lands— symbol of worldwide struggle, was itself born out of grim battle. It is not at kers' movement. They beways remembered that this gan with a provocative day of celebration and and brutal police attack pledge grew up out of the furious strife between the workers and capitalists in the United States of Ameworkers and capitalists in the United States of Amemany wounded

The struggles which directly gave birth to May Day were initiated in the Haymarket Square to protest against this unprovo-ked attack. The meeting United States in 1884 in the movement for the was completely peaceful and about to disperse eight-hour day. The decision for the when the police suddenly eight-hour day had been made by the National Labour Union in August 1866. In September of the same year, the Geneva Congress of the First International went on record for the

This movement around the demand began to gather momentum and found sharp expression in the clarion call given by the American Federation Labour at its Fourth Convention in October 1884. manfully to meet this at-tack and, in 1888, the Ame-

Although nothing was said in the resolution about the methods of struggle to win this demand, it was clear that a nationwide strike was contemplated.

At the Convention in the following year, it was fin-ally decided that on May 1, 1886, there would be a rate the struggle. It was decided that May 1, 1890, walk-out by all the workers the American Federation of Labour was able to contact and organise.

The Federation, first to centenary of the Great French Revolution — the inaugurate the movement and definitely to set a date founding Congress of the Second International asfor the strike for the sembled in Paris. Inspired eight-hour day, grew tre-mendously in numbers and by the example of the American workers, the Paris Congress issued the prestige. Eight-hour leaand associations following call: sprang up in various cities an inspiring militant organise a great internaspirit swiftly spread among the vast masses of the tional demonstration, so that in all countries and is

Not only were the workers preparing for action on May 1, 1886, but in 1895 itself there was an upsurge to eight hours, as well as of strike action The heart of the strike the carrying out of other movement was in Chicago but New York, Detroit, decisions of the Paris Congress. Since a similar demonstration has already Washington, Pittsburgh and other cities also saw determined action by the been decided upon for May 1, 1890, by the American Federation of Labor at its workers. The spirit of rebellion and feeling of soli-Convention in St. Louis, December, 1888, this day is darity of all workers were abroad in the land. accepted for the interna-

On May 1, 1886, Thus was May Day etrike was most aggressive in Chicago, which at that And since that time some time was the centre of a 70 years ago, the workers have marched with firm militant Left-wing labour movement. On that day the and united tread throughout the world to demonscity witnessed a great outpouring of workers, who trate that they are the laid down tools at the call force of renewal of life, of the organised labour that they are the spring of Man's history. movement in the city.

The employers and their Government took alarm and hastened to deal what they hoped was a death-blow to the incipient wor-launched an attack. A bomb was thrown into the crowd, killing a sergeant.

leashed an orgy of violence and a regular bloodbain ensued. Militant leaders of the Chicago workers were arrested and on framed charges four of them were sent to their death. This was the signal for an all-out offensive by the enirican Federation of Labour voted to rejuvenate the movement for the eight-hour day and May First was again chosen as the day on which to reinaugu-

would witness again a nationwide strike for a short-

On July 14, 1889—the

"The Congress decides to all cities, on the appointed day, the toiling masses shall demand of the State authorities the legal reduction of the working day er work day.

The workers rose up

ployers.

Thereupon the police un satisfaction the first steps made towards a relaxation of international tension to which your campaigns in recent years have greatly The next day, a meeting was held by the workers at

While deploring the in-trigues and obstructions by those political circles and armaments who are still monopolies anxious to tinue the cold war, you will make known vour de-

UNDER the symbol of unity and international workers' solidarity, May Day, 1960, will mark a new and favourable stage in your long and bitter strug-gle for a lasting peace, the ending of colonialism and for better living and work-

You will welcome with clusion of the Summit talks and the negotiations on the plan for universal and complete disarmament proposal by the Soviet Union. The application of this plan would make it possible to bring about a definite improvement in the conditions of the lab-

message

In this year of African independence, you will hail the victories won by the peoples against colonialism which is tottering to its end. You will express stronger solidarity with the suffering workers of Algeria, the Union of South Africa and all other territories still in shackles.

Together you will cele brate the consistent and magnificent economic, social and scientific succes won by the workers in the Socialist countries which open up splendid perspec-tives for unlimited social and human progress.

from

Together you will seek ways and means of strengthening your unity and solidarity in the unparalleled struggle which the working class is conducting against the economic offensive of the monopolies and their repeated attacks against your trade union liberties and social amenities which you have won at great cost.

DEAR BROTHERS,

Under the banner of proletarian internationalism, increase your victories for construction and in the Socialist countries, for the fulfilment of magnificent Plans which are continuously raising your living standards and which are giving invaluable encouragemen to your brothers and sisters in those countries still fighting exploitation and

WFTU

Increase fraternal exchanges of delegations, contacts and agreements between your organisations of all shades of opinion, make further progress to wards the essential trade union unity which you forged 15 years ago by forming the World Fede-

Under the banners of May Day, build Unity and Solidarity for universal and complete disarmament to free the world from wars and military budgets and improve the condition of the people, for the final defeat of colonialism and independence of the peo-

Unity and action for higher wages and shorter hours of work without loss of pay, for the right to work and the protection of jobs and of the unemployed, for the defence and exrights.

LONG LIVE LABOUR DAY AND PEACE!

LONG LIVE MAY DAY!

LONG LIVE UNITY AND INTERNATIONAL WORK-ERS' SOLIDARITY!

STRUGGLES MRANB,

January 6: All the 1,300 workers of AID Ltd., Shyamanagar, W. Bengal, struck work to protest against the management's recruiting policy. The management declared a lock-out which was lifted in March. Total mandays lost:

January 15-31: 1,800 workers of Simon Carves Ltd., Durgapur Steel Project, Burdwan, struck work demanding increase in wages. Mandays

January 16: 47 workers in the Nundydroog Mine (Kolar Goldfields), Mysore, struck work demanding lay-off compensation. The management declared a lock-out from January 19, affecting 4,349 workers. The lock-out was lifted on January 27 as a result of mutual discussions. Approximately 30,000 mandays lost

January 22: Six-hour token strike of more than 8.000 employees in 21 different hospitals in W. Bengal to press for increased wages, revision

January 23-31: More than 1000 workers of Dalmia Cement Factory struck work, demanding bonus and in-crease in wages. Mandays lost: 10,280.

Ganga Bridge Project, Hathidih, Patna for alternace work for surplus workers after completion of the project, 44,200 mandays lost.

February 2: 1,180 workers of Raza Sugar Co., Ltd., and 1,082 workers of Buland Sugar Co., Ltd., both in Rampur, work. demanding among others, the withdrawal of the cut in holidays which the INTUC union had agreed to by a backdoor agreemen: with the employers. On February 4, the managements de-clared lock-out, which was lifted on February 26, but the strike continued till March. The time loss estimated at 35,712 and 37,492 manday: respectively.

February 8: Nearly 4,500 tannery workers in Ranipet (Madras State) struck in sympathy with their union resident who was convicted.

March 2: Post and Telegraph employees all over India observed "Pay Strike" by refusing to accept their pay, protesting against the failure of the Government to award a second instalment in interim relief, early publication of Pay Commission's Report and withdrawal of Rules 4(a) and (b) of Service Conduct scales.

March 4: Over 8,000 workers in 14 beedi manufacturing establishments in North Arcot District, Madras State, struck work demanding increased

March 11: Motor transport workers of Ajmer District in Rajasthan observed a token strike, protesting against police and owner ill-treat-January 31: Strike began of ment and harassment and ngaged in the against the delay in granting increased wages, D.A., etc.

> March 16-31: 1600 workers of Bhagaband Colliery, Dhan-bad, struck work demanding rances against deduction of tubs at the pit top, 22,400 mandays lost.

For workers in all industries and middle class employees, the period since last May Day has been one of struggles to protect their rights and meagre standards. Here we give a diary of strikes and actions, by no means exhaustive.

May and June.

served a token strike. Their Kirkend Colliery strike contidemand: legislation regarding nued during the months of working hours, minimum wage, etc.

March 19: More than 600 workers of Braiburn and Bichaikar mines in Bihar on strike demanding increase in wages and profit-sharing bonus, reinstatement of victimised workers, etc. The strike was called off on May 24. following a settlement.

March 19: 472 trained and skilled technicians of Hindustan Steel, Rourkela, on strike demanding revision of pay

March 20: Over 20,000 employees of 86 municipalities throughout West Bengal observed a one-day strike to protest against non-implementation of recommendations of the Minimum Wage, Advisory Committee.

March 20: Nearly 1,300 workers of the Andhra Cement Company, Vijayawada, struck protesting against re-trenchment of 314 workers. Strike called off on April 16. adjudication.

March 23: Workers of Kirkend Colliery and New Ma-rine Colliery in Bihar, went on strike protesting against violation of statutory provi-March 19: About 3,000 dcmestic workers of Delhi ob sions and victimisation of discharged workers; 120 workers. New Marine Colliery kers were arrested for demostic workers of Delhi obstrike called off on May 6, monstrating in front of the field work. April 20: 1,030 workers em-

March 26: 770 workers in Venesta Ltd., W. Bengal, struck work against victimisation of two workers. On April 2, management declared a lock-out. When lock-out was lifted after a month. nagement agreed to make a relief payment of 50 per four weeks' wages and D. A. March 30: Over 1,000 workers in Binnys Engineering Works, Madras, went on strike

April 4-10: Employees of Caltex Oil Company at Ernakulam (Kerala) went on strike to press their claim for arrears of overtime dues. Strike called off following a

April 6-16: About 1,300 workers in Century Rayon Mills, Bombay, went on strike, demanding reinstatement of eight victimised workers.

manding Id festival pay for Jaifabs Rayon Industries, Bombay, went on strike, de-mill. On April 24, the management declared a lock-out. April 18: 169 workers in Valkuntam Rubber Estate. Marthandom (Madras State) went on a one-day strike. protesting against introduction of contract system in ployed by the Salt Merchants and Dealers' Association. Morwa (Bombay), went on strike demanding increase in pay and bonus for the years 1956-57 and 1957-58.

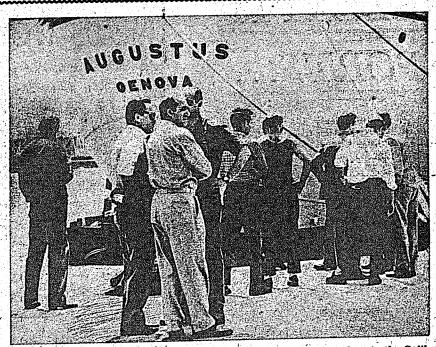

April 21-28: Abaut 3,000 workers of Chinese Tanneries, Dhapa and Tangara, Calcut ta, struck work over non-implementation of minimum vages. . Strike . terminated through direct negotiations.

April 27: 700 employees of Express Newspapers (P) Ltd., Madras, went on strike, protesting against transfer of printing and publication of Andhra Prabha from Madras to Vijayawada and move to shift machinery. Management declared lock-out the same

April 30: About 90,000 teachers in West Bengal went on a one-day token strike, in response to the call Education Movement Coordi-. nation Committee, to press April 7-9: 2,150 workers in demand for wage increase the Mahalakshmi Mills, Bhav- and improvement in service

May 18: 22,000 workers locked-out in the four textile April 10: 543 workers of mills run by the Harveys at Madurai. Tuticorin and ramasinghapuram in Madras manding reinstatement of 13 State, when workers refused to accept arbitrarily increased

* SEE PAGE 12

Pictures here are of the Italian Seamen's strike (above) and of workers in the Galileo Plant in Italy during their strike against dismissals. Such big working class actions have taken place in all parts of the world since May Day last year. Due to reasons of space we have not been able to list them all here.

actions abroad

O NE of the biggest struggles waged during last year by workers in eight-month strike of the five lakh U.S. steel workers, which ended on Jauuary 4 this year, in success

The agreement ultimately reached between the United Steel Workers and representatives of the eleven biggest U.S. steel com-panies, shows that the monopolies have failed to implement their anti-labour policy, and the U.S. steel workers and their unions have emerged stronger

The steel monopolies wanted to bring the unions to heel. They did not sucpelled to abandon many of their intentions. Contrary to what they intended, they were forced to negotiate with the union, to take into consideration seriously the legitimate demands of the workers and to concede a large from this trial of strenger.

part of them.

For nearly two months 100,000 British printing workers

sharp struggle with their employers in support of their demand for a 40-hour working week and a ten per cent wage increase.

The outcome has been a return to work under an agreement that reduces the working week from 431/2 hours to 42 hours and increase wages by 4½ per

These gains were achieved in face of the employers' initial stubborn refussi to concede anything

BELGIUM

Touched off by the February 9 decision of the National Coal Board to close down general pits and to dismiss about 7,000 miners, a powerful strike movement had swept over Belgium last year, involving more than 250,000

Throughout the campaign, the miners and the workers, their wives and the entire mining population, particularly the tradesmen who closed their shops in sign of solidarity, showed great courage and an exemplary fighting

The main target of the-campaign was to prevent the closing of mines and dismissals in 1959. The workers further demanded a re-examination of the coal problem as a whole, structural reforms in the imports, foreign coal rationalisation mines and rejection of the ECC (European Coal and Community) de-

The greatest strike in the history of Italian shipping took place between June 6 and July 18, 1959.

The major demand advanced by the seamen was and the normalisation of the section of the collective agreement governing labour relations.

This struggle and its resubstantial contribution to the campaign all Italian workers are waging at the moment to protect the trade unions' negotiate and its right to take advantage of all means guaranteed by the constitution when defending their living and work-

TOGLIATTI REPORTS...

Since February 1960, Italy has been in the grap of a Governmental crisis, which till today has not been resolved. The ruling Christian Democratic Party bent on maintaining its political monopoly of power is itself in a crisis. In his speech to the Central Committee of the Italian Communist Party, P. Togliatti analyses the situation:

therefore, to foresee future developments, unless on very

Our position as regards the danger of this situation is clear. I repeated several times that I do not consider that an analogy exists between the present situation and that mmediately preceding the advent of fascism to power, that is to say the 1922 situa-

The 1920-22 situation was characterised by the existence of squadrismo, that is to sav

by the spread of an illega

movement, organised and armed and bent on violence, which trampled not merely on the constitutional order

but on the elementary liber-

The development of such movement was possible owing to precise political causes: the working class had suffered a heavy defeat at a time when it had launched a frontal ties of the citizens.

Difference

With 1920-22

W E are facing a very contwo of them. It is difficult, therefore, to foresee future particularly with regard to developments, unless on very the problem of the Govern-ment, of the crisis and of the formation of a new Government. It is a situation filled with danger....

The problem of the positions of bourgeois groups has been presented as something new, and it has been asked whether a split exists today among them. But this is not a new problem. Traditionally a differentiation in the political position of the Italian bourgeois groups has existing for quite some time and exactly on the lines along which it has been taking shape in the last weeks....

Two New Elements

Today, though, we must take into account two new elements which did not exist to the same extent and did not act in the same way in

The first of these is anti-Communism, which is common to Salvatorelli and to Missioli, and which is still an element of unity of the bourgeois forces.

The second element of unity not existing in the past, is the position assumed in Italian political scene by the Catholic Church, which has become the great organisation providing the basis for the unity of the bourgeois ruling classes in their resistance to the toiling masses, to the Socialist and Com-munist Parties, to all signfficant democratic forces.

These two elements tend to make the different groups of the bourgeoisie overcome the existing differentiations among them. These differnevertheless, do exist. But can we speak already of an actual split? I believe that it might not be right to use this term at present. However, a differentiation does which might cerwiden according to the way in which the mass movement will develop, and how we shall intervene in the

The political situation, I repeat, is confused and full of danger. It was correct to say, as we said, that we are facing an attack coming from the most reactionary groups of the bourgeois and that this attack is the enswer to or an attempt to shift of the toiling masses, of public opinion, of the rking class and of middle class strata.

Complex Process

PAGE TEN

A complex process of action and reaction is going on, then, in which it would be a mistake to stress one of these aspects alone forgetting the close relation existing between

News from brother parties

potential and the capacity of tion, that is, stimulating by democratic struggle of the all possible means the demo-working class and of the van- cratic activity of the mass 23, guard sections of the toiling masses and, moreover, the tendency of the urban and rural middle class strata to shift, albeit amidst contrasts and difficulties, towards positions which are shared by the most advanced groups of democracy, by the Communist cialist Parties, by the and Socialist Parties, by the consistent democratic forces.

What objectives are being pursued by those who, spreading confusion, wage a cam-paign against the so-called "partism," against the "domination of parties," a campaign of denigration of the current political order, a campaign in which the starting point is the denunciation of faults, deceits and evils of the Christian Democratic regime, without linking them, though, to their true origin? What is all this leading up to? The purpose of this manoeuvre is to wear down the potential of resistance and of democratic struggle existing in the broad masses, that is on the urban and rural middle class strata.

Gravest Danger

Here lies, in my opinion the gravest danger, namely that through a series of episodes, purposely brought about and handled, an at-starting from the working the peasantry; the class. middle class strata up to even bourgeois strata selves, for the latter's interests at present can be better defended in a democratic parliamentary regime flan if such a regime was impaired or subject to heavy res-

We must stimulate by all means the democratic activity of the masses, by succeeding in specifying the problems interesting various groups of the working population in the different parts of our country, in the categories in the regions, towns and factories. We must formu-late claims, spread them among the masses, and thus create a confluence of interests among forces having a common demo-cratic inspiration, towards common objectives.

Through our action of stimulation of the democratic activity of the masses, we must tend to give unitarian bases and consistence to the movement. This has been, substantially, the policy which we have been carrying on in recent years and which has brought the most obvious results in Sicily where a split in the Christian Democratic Party took place. In Sicily, we succeeded in though, there is the fighting, act in the opposite direc- out an adequate action tomen who cooperated with us, middle class strata, and also of producers' strata.

> Before the fall of the Government, a split seems to have taken place at the basis itself of these convergences, which had given rise to the Milazzo Government....

This is the basis of our position in the present crisis. We said that we did not raise the problem of a new formula but of certain concrete, limited demands, all of which bear on movements already under way, and some of which even to certain parliamentary questions, over which the confluence on comm tions has already brought about some agreements and

New Political Majority

Why did we take up such a position? Because this is the position which can give us the greatest help in leading. the movement forward, whatever Government may arise from the present crisis, inasmuch as it enables us to keep up the contact with all those forces with which we have extend these contacts. to strengthen what we have chieved and to go forward in the struggle—a long and difficult struggle—to lay the basis for a new political majority.

Thus, we stress two points: the programme and the democratic nature of the new we ask for the return to normal relations in parliamentary and constitutional life, so that it shall no longer be on the basis of preclusions and political discrimination. We are not taken in by formulas, instead.

Actually the Christian Democratic Party has reached such a depth of political cynicism as to present a man like Segni, who ruled up to sterday thanks to the support of monarchists and fascists, as the candidate for a Centre Left formula. It is this political cynicism which lies at the basis of the corruption of the democratic parliamentary regime in Italy.

Christian Democrats

Party is capable of presenting all possible formulas as long as its political monopoly recamp of clerical forces preserves its unity. Segni resigns rity vote determined by fascist and monarchic votes, but at the same time in Sicily most influential representacratic Party in the island.

G. Plekhanov: UTOPIAN SOCIALISM OF aroused passion he inveighs THE 19TH CENTURY. Foreign Languages Publishing House Moscow.

Fresh

Wilhelm Liebknecht: ON THE POLITICAL. POSITION OF SOCIAL DEMOCRACY. Foreign Languages Publishing House, Moscow. Price 31 nP.

when they had that faith it frightened them". (p. 48)

This is the link that leads us to the collection of Liebknecht's articles and spe-eches. His memoirs of Marx had already endeared him to millions with their deft blending of the personal reminiscences with a sure grasp of the basic teachings of the greatest teacher of Here, too, we have a sample of this gripping style in the last item, "The Spider and the Fly," brilliant agitation without the way quite a model of writ-uits to the struggle with all its promise and its

But the grandeur of this

reat German Marxist stands

fully revealed in his pamphlet

"No Compromises, No Elec-tion Deals". Here with science and with all the strength of

It is in its

against the cowardly visionism of Bernstein.

He makes here a point which Lenin also made in 1908 and which strikes any percepient student of modern revisionism-it is the revisionists who bring forth antiquated ideas in the name of new conditions. And as always, the revisionist fire is mainly concentrated on the concept of class struggle. It is this idea that liebknecht with logic.

lefends with ardour and

Bourgeois economists and coliticians direct all their character of the modern labour movement. If they were to succeed in effecting a breach in this bulwark, this then Social-Democracy would letariat subjected to the rule

ever small the breach to begin with, the enemy has the means to widen it and is certain of final victory. And when he approaches the fortress as a friend; and as a friend slips in. As a friend the theme that Social-words which we re-

Democracy must avoid the

the enemy is most dangerous

be vanquished, and the proof capitalist society.

and ally" (p. 84).

ious strength-

Numeber

VISHAL BHARAT (Chekhov Special Number),

art and ideas by Manmath Nath Gupta, Prof. Vladimir

Yermilov and Z. Paperni.

from so many other eminent artists in that he is always occupied with some social question or other in his stories and plays. Unlike Maupassant, with whom Chekhov

is often compared, he shows no obsession for the obscene

The most refreshing contribution in this issue is the editor's account of his re-

Estate - Malykhov. What

cent visit to the Chekboy

NEW AGE

Chekhov is different

Gupta has rightly stress

March 1960. Editor of the Special Number: Pandit

N the call of the UNESC(), good studies of the writer's Banarsidas Chaturvedi. Price 1.25 nP.

the whole world is celebrating the 100th Birth Ann.

versary of A. P. Chekhov. The Vishal Bharat has devoted a special number to the great Russian writer whom

Premchand regarded as the greatest story writer of the

Edited by the veteran Hindi journalist, Pt. Banarsidas Chaturvedi, the special num-

These include twelve stories of Chekhov, his family and these, there are

Time and again he efforts against the

HE originators and editors nist trend in these pre-Marxist Socialists, with its of the "Books for Socialgreater emphasis on political am" series deserve the gratiaction and sharpest demarcatude and congratulations of tion from the bourgeoisi all eager students of politics he polemises, of course, against their fondness for and of Socialism. Attractively produced and cheaply priced conspiratorial rather than the four books already availrevolutionary mass action. able (the other two are the And the fundamental critique is also made: "But while Party by Marx and Engels and the Three Sources and Comthey bemoaned the sad connt Parts of Marxism by dition of the working class and lent every effort to help it, the Utopian Socialists had Lenin) make the heart leap and the mind race to gather no faith in that class's capathe fresh knowledge and win the new understanding.

Introductions And Notes

Another piece of hard work done by the editors, of invaluable assistance to the reader, is the extraordina rily able introductions and ample notes. It is a very welcome feature of the present eries that a critical approach is taken to various formula ns made. For instance, Plekhanoy's over-enthusiasm for Rodbertus (calling him the German Utopian Socialist with a grasp of political economy) and Liebknecht's unnecessarily high regard for Lassalle (bracketing him with Marx and Engels) are criticised and put in the correct perspective. This in no way interferes with the warmth, love and regard for these two outstanding figures of the world working class move-

This, indeed, is the first thought that strikes the reader as he goes through the crudite exposition of Pickhanov Marxism is the heir to a tremendous tradition. Not only of a whole line of philosophical devecoment but of the great ferment in political thinking and economic science that was caused by the consolidation of bourge civilisation. If one may put It that way, Marxism was on the point of becoming when it actually came into

German Utopians

Plekhanov deals in detail with the English and Frenca Utopian Socialists, with whom we are rather more familiar. He launches on fresh effort when he takes up the German Utopians. What is remarkable here is not only the care and patience of the author but the way in which sons for the differences in approach and outlook of the cf A. P. Chekhov and an Utoplans of the different album of some rare photos

Instructive, indeed, is his friends. delineation of the Commu-

MAY 1, 1960.

knowledge, Book REVIEW new understanding pilgrimage.

impressed him most there besides the idyllic beauty of the place, is the devoted care with which the Socialist State is trying to pre-serve for the whole of the world this centre of literary

"The thought," he observes, "which was uppermost in iny mind while leaving Malykhov, was this: 'Shall we in our country ever be able to something to preserve the glory of our great litterateurs?' I was particularly reminded of Satvanarain Kaviratna whose house at Ghaghpur Tajganj stands in a piti-ably tumbledown condition

The issue contains an interesting interview with Madame Chekhov by Sri Kan Singh Sankhla. It is revealed that Madame Chekhov not regard Death of A Clerk as one of the very good storficant, therefore, that this and other stories like

The Vishal Bharat has really done a fine job in bringing out this number. The pu tion becomes particularly gratifying when one remembers that the editorial columns of this once great Hindi literary magazine in recent years been in the hands of cold war experts for whom the cause of inter-national amity, good neighbourliness and all the good and great values which manfrom artists like Chekhov are anathema. This issue of the magazine, brought out under the temporary stewardship of refreshing contrast. Its successfully highlights the great social values of Chekhov's art

NOVEL RUBAL INDIA

DOOB JANAM AVI by Shiva Sagar Misra. Atmaram & Sons, Delhi, Price Rs. Four.

pitfail of converting itself into the Left, wing of bour-HE hero of this novel is an ordinary railway work-Like his father, he has passed most of his days open-ing and closing the gates of a produce are a call to us to-day across the seas and the railway crossing. He is part-ly a peasant and continues to nent his income by till ing his ancestral plot of land.

"Just as Samson's strength disappeared when his hair, which signified manly honour, was cut off, so our Party He gives shelter to a fugitive girl from Rajasthan who would lose its strength were we induced by the flattery of scrupulous lover. He has been bourgeois Delilahs to give up our most precious po and the source of our victoroniet isolation but now there is no peace for him. Almost the whole village is against him for his sheltering that our Party's honour unfortunate girl.

-HOHIT SEN

His real enemy is Bisesar Singh the dispossessed land-lord who poses as a kind fri-end and is still the most Chekhov Special powerful man of the village. He organises dacoities, gets people murdered in cold blood. Everyone knows what he is nothing happens to him. The forces of law and order, from the district police inspector to the State Minister, are ranged behind him.

A young enthusiastic gov ernment official Rampal who s in charge of rural reorganisation work tries his to rid the village of Bisesar Singh but the latter is able to pull strings and it is Rampal himself who is transferred from the district.

A young widow, Anuradha the childhood friend of the hero Jaggu, escapes with difficulty from the clutches of Bisesar Singh, gets herself trained for rural uplift work at Patna but she the target of all the conservative forces of the village in her house.

It is a grim tragedy but it tells the truth about a major part of our countryside. The reactionary forces are the masters of the villages and have been embol-dened by the support they get from the State appa ratus—the police and the bureaucracy. No progress is possible unless the villages are emancipated from the grip of these unscrupulous

But there is no political party, no Kisan Sabha to organise the poor and lead them in the struggle for the defence of their human rights It it the story of a backward there are many such villages the Hindi-speaking region.

Jaggu is a man of good intentions but has neither a strong will nor tact. He is outmanoeuvred by his enemies. His friends are a somewhat irresponsible lot and cannot fight with determination and consistency. The helplessness of the peasants is depicted with great force but the author is wrong in identifying the village as such tion. The forces capable of bringing about a new life are there among the people them-selves. They are helpless only long as they are unorgan

Political workers interested in the welfare of our people should particularly read this novel. It courageously lifts the vell of propaganda and shows the brutal reality of class oppression beneath the stupid politicians. Incidentally it leads the reader to the implicit conclusion that without a political party of the labouring people and their own mass organisation there in independent India

R. B. SHARMA

PAGE ELEVEN

attack, an ill-directed and Governmental Crisis In Italy

confused attack against the ourgeois fortress; an effective policy of the working class parties was lacking and as a result the organised force of the working class and of the toiling masses was dispersed and the fascist armed movement succeeded in defeating it almost totally.

But this is not all. The urban middle class strata were orientated towards the bourgeoisie, its slogans and its themes of agitation. All this made possible the merging of squadrismo and the advent these objective factors, preceding immediately the cist advent to power, exist today? A comparison will show that there is no analogy in

Alignment Of Forces

It is quite true that in the leading groups of the Right wing of the big bourgeoisie, in the clerical citizens by the Constituhierarchies, there is the intention, declared or not, to political struggle. of the Italian political order m a reactionary sense, both by denying the equality of Party's Task ing the democratic parliamentary regime as a whole and the entire political life as it has developed since the day, and thus at wearing down the democratic spirit of the working people, and at opening the way to reactionary adventures.

This might even happen without the intervention of a fascist armed movement on the scene, if the result was successfully achieved of tir-ing and demoralising a sigmficant section of the Italian of fascism to power. Which of population. The tendency itself to further the Government crisis contains, in my opinion, some danger in this

The people in seeing that time is passing without a Government being formed, without a new executive being set up, might be led to the dangerous road of poll ary denial of democratic institutions, of the aband n- Ryents Im ment of democratic struggle, of weariness or even of mere towards indifference future and the events mation which was not homogeneous. We were aware of this and, therefore, we always spoke of "convergence" and never of "front" unless in reference to the defence of autonomy, which was the common programme of the forces cooperating with us.

Communist

It is obvious that such a formation-heterogeneous not only for its political but also its social compositioncould not be kept up for a ing a certain course aiming always at strengthening ar not weakening the entire alignment.

The problems concerning the enactment of the proattention, for it is likely that a similar situation will occur a different scale, in some municipalities, provinces, groups of provinces or other

In analysing the events, one gets the impression that when we were urg-ing the fulfilment of certain parts of the common programme, and, above all, the parts in favour of the work-Faced with these dangers, ing classes which we repre-hand, our task is obvious. We must sent, we did not always carry

The Christian Democratic monarchists and fascists

Christian Democracy sets up a Government, in which part side by side with the tives of the Christian Demo-This is why it is the political which matter, and not for-

MAY 1, 1960

STRIKE DIARY

* FROM CENTRE PAGES

work-loads. Lock-out lifted on July 21, following a settlement; 176,504 mandays were

June 4: Nearly 3,000 clerks working in the Bombay Municipal Corporation went on demanding higher wages, housing facilities, etc. Strike called off on June 9, following settlement. June 14: 2.500 workers in the Indian Tinplate Company, Jamshedpur, went on token strike protesting against management's attitude of not paying any heed to work-

June 29 onwards, over a thousand workers of the Machinery Manufacturers Corporation Ltd., Calcutta, went m strike demanding reinstatement of 249 retrenched workers. The factory was closed down.

Employees of the National and Grindlays Bank Ltd., at its offices throughout India went on strike protesting against dismissal of six emlovees. The strike continued till July 20, when the union and the management agreed to mediation.

June 9: Strike by 1,009

NEW BOOKS

A HISTORY OF THE MODERN CHINESE

Detailed account of the Chinese Revolution, the policy of the Chinese Communist Party in the different historical periods, and the way the Party and its leader Mao Tse-tung applied Marxism-Leninism to the concrete problems of the Chinese Revolution

SHORT HISTORY OF MODERN

A brief narrative of the birth and growth of Modern Chinese Literature from May 4 Movement in 1919 to the founding of the People's Republic of China in 1949.

CHINESE LITERATURE: by Ting Yi

BRIFF HISTORY OF CHINESE

A SHORT HISTORY OF CHINESE PHILOSOPHY: by Hou Wai-Lu

PHILOSOPHY: by Hou Wai-Lu
The book outlines the development of Chinese philosophy from the ancient to the modern times. It describes the controversies between materialism and idealism, and between dialectics and metaphysics, which run through the history of Chinese philosophical thought.

SHORT HISTORY OF CLASSICAL CHINESE LITERATURE:

Gives brief introduction to classical Chinese literature and a general survey of the chief writers and their

ole's Publishing House (P) Ltd., M

most important works.

TIBETAN INTERVIEWS:

The characteristics of the novels and romances of various dynasties, the development of the works of fiction in various periods of time as well as their mutual influence on each other, are all shown with great lucidity.

462 pp Rs. 5.00

FROM CHINA

by Ho Kan Chih

LIC EMPLOYEES FRAME NEW CHARTER OF DEMANDS

four-day session of the A General Council of the All-India Insurance Emloyees' Association, held in Bombay in the second week of April, finalised a new Charter of Demands for the Life Insurance Corporation employees. minimum starting salary for the lowest grade of employees (sweepers) de-manded by the Charter is Rs. 130 per month broken up as follows: basic pay— Rs. 100, dearness allowan -Rs. 20; and house-rent-Rs. ten.

This minimum has been reached on the basis of the norm fixed by the 15th Labour Tripartite for a need-based minimum wage. The basic pay has been computed on 100 points of the cost of living index (1949-100) and the dear-ness allowance at 120 points.

The different pay scales of different categories of employees vary from Rs. 100 to Rs. 190 for sweepers, Rs. 180 to Rs. 430 for assistants and Rs. 320 to 650 for superintendents. The dearness allowance demands Rs, 20 up to a pay of Rs. 199 and thereafter Rs. five increase for every hundred rupees of basic pay, so long as the cost of living index is below 120 (1949-100). Thereafter for every point of rise, the dearness allowance should be increased by one rupes for all categories of employees.

House rent is demanded at ten per cent of basic pay.

The Charter also includes demands for retiring benefits, staff regulations, housing and other service conditions and trade union rights including recognisurance Employees' Association as the only bargaining agent for the LIC

The General Council has demanded Rs. 25 as interim relief pending final settlement on the Charter. The General Council has al to decided to observe June 1. as the Charter of Demands Day throughout India.

The meeting also discussed the present position of the general insurance industry and decided to observe a week from May 25 to June 1 next to protest against closure and retrenchment, to focus atention on the malpractices in the industry and to demand its nationalisation

It was decided to hold a convention of the general insurance employees devise ways and means to enforce the demand for nationalisation and to secure standardisation of wages and service conditions in the industry.

These decisions of the General Council held from April 4 to 8, were announced in a mass rally insurance employees held in the evening of April 8 in the Cama Hall. Raini Patel President of the All-India Insurance Employees' Association, presided over the meeting and Saroj Chaudhuri, General Secretary of the Association, explained the deci-

The Charter of Demands will soon be submitted to the Chairman of the Life Insurance Corporation workers of Swadeshi Cotton Mills Co., Naini. Management imposes lock-out which was lifted on July 31. Total man-

Rs. 6.00

177 pp Rs. 2.20

132 pp Rs. 0.90

Anna Louise Strong 210 pp Rs. 2.00

(Postage Extra) .

Available with:-

P. P. H. Bookstall, 190-B, Khetwadi Main Road, Bombay-4. NCBH (Private) Ltd., No.5, Nallathambi Chetty St., Madras-2. Visala-andrra Publishine House. Buckinghampet P.O., Vi'ayawada-2.

National Book Agency (P) Ltd., 12, Bankim Chatterjee St., days lost: 41,522.

June 25: Over a million workers in West Bengal observed a General Strike in response to the call given by the Famine Resistance Committee and the Trade Union Action Committee to protest against Government's food er frank blir sin

June 26 and 27: Bank employees in Delhi went on a sympathetic token strike for two hours on both days. Similar token stoppages were also organised by the bank employees' trade unions in Calcutta and other centres.

June 29: PWD workers in Dehri-on-Sone (Bihar) on strike to press their outstanding demands relating to service conditions. Strike called off on July 2 following settlement.

July 7: Thousands of workers in Delhi joined in a Protest March' organised sponsored by the Delhi Trade Union Action Committee to voice protest against mountoffensive of employers. The marchers went to the Prime Minister's house and submitted a memorandum.

July 14: Workers of East Bastacolla Colliery on strike protesting against the high-handedness of the management and its refusal to concede workers' demands

July 21: More than 80,000 workers in all centres in Pradesh observed one-day general strike, in "defence of Kerala Governstrike, in democracy and the Constitution of India" in response to Andhra PTUC's call

August 1: Operational staff workers in Rourkela, Durgapur and Bhilai Steel Plants, refused to accept their pay.

August 1: More than 100,000 off; 6,796 mandays lost workers in Kerala on spontaneous strike to protest aga-Kerala. All the main indus- pur, went on strike demand-trial centres throughout Kerole affected by the strike.

NEW AGE

August 10 - September 6: About 4,000 workers, ci Na-garjunsagar Dam Project cn a strike demanding increase wages. Total mandays lost: 92.000.

August 23-28: About 9,809 workers of Vishnu Cotton Mills and two other textile mills of Sholapur went on strike protesting against ad verse decisions of Industrial Court regarding dearness allowance; 35,937 mandays lost.

August 25: Workers of Municipal : Committee, Jaipur struck work demanding fixation of wages, supply of uniforms, etc.; 25,000 mandays

September 3: Lakhs of workers in West Bengal struck for the day in protest against rising food prices. The industrial belts were completely paralysed. The call for strike was given by the Price-Increase and Famine-Resistance

September 8-18: About 1,000 Class IV employees of Lucknow University struck work demanding a wage-rise of Rs. five. Strike called off following assurances by Vice-Chan-workers of the Indian Iron & Steel Company's factories at Burnpur and Kulti went on a 24-hour sit-down strike in protest against management's efusal to accept demand for three month's wages as profit-sharing bonus. Workers of IISCO iron ore mines at Gua and Chiria joined the strike.

September 24-28: About 1 699 workers of Western India Match Co., Thiruvotti-Chinglepet, went on yur, November 6: Workers of inst Central intervention in Hindustan Cables Co., Burning bonus, revision of wage structure, etc.

November 10-20: Employees of Madhya Pradesh Government went on strike protestagainst victimisation. Strike declared illegal by Government, State spread arrests were made Strike called off in response to appeal by Chief Minister.

December 14: Over 200.000 iute workers on token strike in response to separate calls-given by all the four central trade union organisations to protest against rejection of demand for interim relief.

December 17: Over 3,503 workers of the Godrei Conpany's engineering factories in Bombay went on a token strike protesting against management's anti-labour

January 31-February 16: Employees of the oil refinery of Burmah-Shell in Bombay struck work following tailure of negotiations on demand for 416 months' bonus for 1959 and nine other demands. Strike called off after Bombay Chief Minister's interven-

March 19: 85,000 bank employees throughout India par-ticipated in nationwide token September 21: About 28,000 strike to express solidarity with State Bank emcloyees settlement of disputes in the banking industry. The 21-day strike in the State Bank of India was called off on March 24. following \discus Delhi between the leaders of the All-India State Bank Employees' Federation and the Union Labour Minister.

YOU NEED MORE MONEY

... Earn handsome commissions in your spare time by ling subscriber for Soviet riodicals. Write for sub-SUBSCRIPTION AGENCY, 91 Warden Road, Bombay 26.

MAY 1, 1960

Garage 4

Chou En-lai's Press Conference

talks with Prime Minister

Nehru and with other high officials of the Indian Goernment, (I) never got that the Indian Government rais-

will not be in conformity with facts and besides will be very unfriendly. None of the leaders of the Indian Government has ever raised such a boundary question

this time, mutual under-standing has already been promoted and we are sure that the dark clouds hovering over the relations of our two countries will go away from any country. We will to vote for Indrajit Gupta saying he is a "non-Bengali"

and in the same breath, Hin-dustani-speaking people are being asked to vote against him as he is a Bengali!

flowing like water to help the Congress campaign. Thousands of two-colour posters have already appeared. A

"volunteers" have been hired

The PSP's decision to contest the seat is not fortuitous

—it is an integral part of the PSP leadership's policy of increasingly closer cooperation with the Congress. The latest example of this policy was the election of its candidate,

Sudhir Ghose, to the Rajya Sabha with Congress votes.

This is why the PSP has not protested against the arbitrary disfranchisement.

of nearly 140,000 voters,

why PSP leaders and workers are going about asking the voters, particularly

Hindustani-speaking workers, to cast their votes in favour of the Congress and why their slogan, as shouted by their squads on April 24, was "Don't vote for the Communist Party" and not election campaign has been the campaign has been on mass and baithak meetings and house-to-house approach. Several processions also have

Apart from concretely ex-

number

festoons

and hundreds of

on a daily wage basis.

considerable

Money has already started

CALCUTTA BY-ELECTION

He said he would

* FROM PAGE 4

He was asked what he

question."

FROM FRONT PAGE

been under China's jurisdiction throughout history.

"As a matter of fact, the area called Aksaichin has become an important thoroughfare to Sinkiang in Ladakh regions of Tibet....

"We have asked, we have requested the Indian Governnent to take an attitude towards this sector of boundary similar to the attitude which the Chinese Government has taken towards -the Eastern sector of the boundary. We have said that the Indian Government can keep its stand and enter into negotiations with us....

Asked to clarify the position regarding Chinese maps and whether China was insisting on recognition of its preliberation maps while asking India to forget everything during that happened British period, Chou En-lai

"China's map is prepared according to conditions which have prevailed throughout We have a number of history. times frankly said there be same minor dever gences between our maps and the actual situation of administration.

"There are difference between China's maps and India's maps. There are difference between China's maps and maps of other countries

"We have told Prime Minister Nehru several times that after a survey is made and after the bo ındarv 19 delimited through negotiations between the two sides, the maps of our two countries will have to be revised according to agreements reached between the countries. Of course, China will have to revise these maps according to the Friendly greement Friendly ountries should negotiate for the final delimitation of their boundary and then revise their maps accordingly.

"Before a survey is made, before the boundary is de-limited through negotiation, neither side should impose its maps on the other side, nelther side should ask the other side to follow its wishes in revising maps. If such a demand is made, then it is unfriendly and inaccurate. Of course, we cannot agree to such a map."

The Correspondent of the Daily Mail, London, asked Premier Chou En-lai whether China was willing "to vacate aggression" as, according to him, that was the basis of India having these talks. The Chinese Premier said in reply:

"I am happy to say that in the talks between the two Prime Ministers it was unanimously agreed that no territorial claims should be put forward by any one of them. This shows that China and India have carried their negotiations on the basis of friendship."

When another Correspon dent asked whether in his talks with Indian leaders, Chou En-lai had any suggestion that China had committed aggression against India and if so, how could he hope for the removal of such a fundamental difference, Chou En-lai said.

been taken out. "This hope is cherished by Western imperialists. In (my) posing the anti-people poli-

committed other people against us. We are sure that the dispute between China and India on the boundary question will evenimpression. If the leaders of tually be settled in a friendly manner. That is our firm ed that kind of question, that conviction." He said that what his delegation could do in the last seven days was limited. But the great friendship remains thousand in the hearts of one million Chinese and Indian people.

thought about the changed atmosphere in India where, Chou En-lai was asked according to the questioner, about Dalai Lama and his "implicit faith in China had activities in India and he given place to disillusion-ment, bitterness and hosti-lity." He said he did not hold said: "The Dalai Lama and his followers started a revolt in Tibet in an attempt to keep those views. The great friendthe serfdom in Tibet but that ship between India and China revolt failed and after that he said, was immortal. "The the Dalai Lama and his foldispute with regard to the lowers fied to India. In India boundary question is tempothey are given political asy-lum. That is a normal interrary. The two Governments their negotiations on the national practice. We have might no objection. meet with some difficulties "But the activities of the but that, too, is temporary.
"As a result of the talks

Dalai Lama and his followers ever since they came to India have far exceeded the limit which the Indian Government has promised the Chinese Government, that is to say the Indian Government has promised that it will not allow the Dalai Lama and his like to followers to carry out any tell the Indian people thropolitical activities in India ugh you present here that against New China. But the the Chinese Government have Dalai Lama and his followers, no intention to claim any terboth in India and without, ritory from India. We have no on a number of occaintention to claim territory sions carried out political activities against New China. never commit aggression aga-This is a matter of regret to inst any country. At the same time, we will not tolerate any the Chinese Government....

cles of the Congress and ans-wering the slanders of the Congress, speically about the India-China border problem, Communist leaders in their speeches put across the posi-

about the various problems facing the country, and parnocratic rights and those entitled to vote, w

60 per cent of the

ectually

The Communist Party's of voters on the revised roll sweep and tempo. The main emphasis in number of voters should Again, according to the

been photographed

received their

Electoral Officer, only about

while only about 50 per cent of those photographed had identity cards. The process of disfranchisement, he said, had started voters' list itself. The number of this constituency had been reduced by 70,000 though the gone up in the three years since the General Elections.

the by-election?" a Pressmar asked. Jyoti Basu replied:

"I can't say anything at this "Would you then boycott

with the preparation of the

ticularly West Ber

ment.

GROUP RIVALRIES IN KERALA COALITION

* FROM BACK PAGE a period of trial for the com-

This became the signal for an open war of words between the organs of the Press controlled by the Nair and Ezhava communities. former Sankar's speech as a shameless incitement to communal passions unworthy of one who is the leader of the national organisation and occupies the position of the Deputy Chief Minister of the State. The latter, on the other hand, justified the Deputy Chief Minister's speech and denounced the leaders of the Nair community as leaders who adopt a typically feudal attitude to the newly-rising, formerly backward communities. Among the newspape which indulged in such newspapers war of words were those which were founded by war of words Pattom Thanu Pillai and by

Sankar respectively. This controversy brought to the people's minds memories a decade-old campaign jointly organised by Sankar and Mannath Padmanabhan Both of them had then left the Congress as they found it "Christian dominated" organisation. The Statewide campaign organised by them had as its objective "burying the Congress six fathoms deep." The two leaders were then in the same camp; they are now the leaders of two rival camps. They were then jointly fighting as Hindus against Christians; they are now fighting against each other, one as Ezhava and the other as Nair. It is, however, significant that both then as well as now, their effort is to divide the people of our State into caste or communal groups and give a caste or communal complexion to the politics of the State. tive policies of the Party Even as such blatantly communal controversies were oing on in the open Press the leaders of the triple alli-They have repeatedly stressed that the disfranchisement ance, including the Minister and the Deputy Chief of a large number of voters is a part of the Congress Go-Minister, assured the people that the Ministry was a happy vernment's offensive against family. They did not, of course, forget to accuse the Communists of trying to incite quarrels among them! parliamentary form of Go-

Jyoti Basu told a Press Con-The people began gradually to get disgusted at this whole state of affairs. If such pubference in Calcutta on April 20 that this disfranchisement had turned the by-election lic controversy can be indulinto a huge farce.

He said that the position ged in by these leaders within couple of months of the now, according to the Electoformation: of the Ministry, ral Officer, was that the list they asked, what would be the of photographed voters, i.e., fate of our State for the remaining period of the present not be available till polling Ministry's term of office?

Reports are, meanwhile, appearing of differences between the Chief and Deputy Chief Ministers in matters of appointments, promotions, extension of service, etc.

Everyone of these is naturally assuming a caste and communal complexion: the Chief Minister and with the group, with the support secured for them from the leaders of the Nair Service Society are accused of championing the cause of Nair icers and Nair candidates seeking appointments, while the Nair and Ezhava caste ment of the State. groups try to secure the April 23.

support of the leaders of other communities, espe-cially Christians and Muslims, since these communal groups can tilt the balance in favour of those who secure their support.

It is against this background that the KPCC has appointed a Committee to try to find the solution to the controversial question of the Education Act. Section 11 of that Act, as is well-known, provides for reservation of posts for backward communities in the matter of selection of teachers and is, therefore, stouty opposed by the Nair and other advanced communities. It was the combined opposition of the Christian managers of private schools who want a completely free hand in the selection of teachers. and of the Nair' Service Society who had declared a war against the very principle of backward reservation for communities, that brought about the campaign against the Education Act. Having used this campaign in political struggle against the nmunist-led Government, the leaders of the triple alliance now find it imposs do what they had asked the Communist Government to do. Even the combined might of the Christian-dominated School Managers' Association and the Nair Service Society would be powerless against the demand of Ezhavas and other backward communities in relation to reservation.

The Muslim League is, eanwhile taking a hand in the group rivalries. In several speeches delivered by them the leaders of the showed their displeasure at the high-brow attitude taken by the Congress High Commend in denying them a share in office. Referring to characterisation earlier the made by Prime Minister Nehru of the Muslim League being a "dead horse", Muslim League leaders now remind him that "it was on the back of that dead horse that Sankar travelled from his home district of Quilon to Cannanore for a safe constituency, and then travelled back from Cannanore to Trivandrum to become a Minis-

They are throwing challenges to the Congress lea-ders that they would have to learn a lesson from the forthcoming panchayat and municipal elections. One of them actually challenged the Prime Minister to ask Deputy Chief Minister Sankar to resign his seat and contest any seat in Kerala without the support of the Muslim League.

This is the actual state of when the leaders of the triple alliance go on giving us assurance after assurance of a stable Ministry which would last for five years, if not more. The question is: even Ministry lasts for such a long time, even supposing the actual disputes that arise from time to time are temporarily resolved, will the Ministry be in a position to devote its full time and enerof national problems? This the Deputy Chief Minister and his supporters are accused of championing the cused of Championing cause of the Ezhavas. Both are interested in the develop-

NEW AGE

PAGE TWELVE

MAY 1, 1960

PAGE THIRTEEN

OUTDATED MR. MASAMI

The Open Letter to C. Rajagopalachari by seven Congress Members of Parliament has been the occasion for Swatantra General Secretary M. R. Masani to give his verdict on Socialism: It is on its way out.

U NION Minister K. D. Malaviya and six other M.P.s had, in their Open Letter, declared their faith that goal of the country had come to stay.

They had charged, Rajaji with attempting to win al ections of "expioiters" on his side and said: "You are welcome to do so but many of us believe that this is a class which by itself has created many problems for the poor exploited masses of India."

The signatories to the Open Letter had added: "The fact is you know nothing of the condition of eighty per cent of your masses. Your party does not exist for them. Let us tell you that if the socalled 'free trade' is allowed to go on unhampered. there will be famine and starva-

Further. "The hungry peowant something more than your dialectics. They want food, comfort and they are willing to submit to laws and a life which will give them greater social justice.

This criticism of Rajail and the attack on Swatantra policies coming as they did from responsible Congress Members of Parliament, including a Union development since there was a justified feeling that large sections of Congress. men were not aware of the challenge from the Swatan-tra Party while the Right ide the Congress was actually encouraging it.

Masani's reply to the Open Letter is a negation of everything for which large sections of Congressmen themselves stand—planned economic advance and Socialism as the country's goal.

What Swatantra Stands For

In his effort to help "open the eyes of Mr. K. D. Malaviya and his six fellow-Leftists. Masani has declared, "Socialism is on its way out." "tne debacle of world Socialism is spreading from country to country and its approach in our midst is creating panic among Marxists whether they are of the Congress variety or the CPI brand." "in the minds of enlightened Socialists, the bond is being broken between a free and just society and the out-dated techniques of ownership and management which Karl Marx and other 19th century thinkers advocated, and the dead weight of State Socialism is being jettisoned by them from their ideological bag-

In the name of opposition to Socialism, behind the defence of the individual use liberty and incentive, a "free etc.. what the Swatantra stands for has become crystal clear, through its policy statement and the speeches of Rajaji and other leaders.

sector to be given up, it does not like to hear the misnomer to call the present really due to too little of con-planning. Socialist planning would mention of State trading in foodgrains, agrarian re-forms and cooperatives are anathema to it. It wants

India to give up its cherished policy of non-align-ment and Panchsheel 12

foreign affairs and line up in the military blocs of the imperialist Powers. What the Swatantra thus idvocates is the unbridled right of private property and to exist and exploit the vast tra defends is the freedom of the big landlords and big traders and the speculators and profiteers to hoard

foodgrains, push up their prices and starve our people.

The freedom the Swatantra defends is the free-dom of Big Business—the tex-wage to the workers, while both labour productivity and the cost of living have gone

private enterprise to continue masses of our people.

mean giving the commanding heights in the economy to Socialist elements and increasing their role to ensure their victory over the capitalist elements. This can be done only by a working class State which aims at the abolition of classes and class privileges and the building of the foundations of a Socialist economy. Far from this is the position in India, ruled as it is by a bourgeois-land-

The freedom the Swatan- Progressive Features

pretensions to Socialist planning, it is yet a fact that there are certain progressive features in Indian planning. The policy of building a public sector, the strengthening of tile, sugart coal and other magnates to deny a living the industrial base of our economy by the establish-ment of steel plants and expansion of cement. engineerup and work-load on them is sought to be intensified still planning in India Socialist trol and because even in that the Government goes on vacillating.

The Government has often declared that the public sector should have the commanding positions in our economy, but in practice this eminence is given to the pri-

The Industrial Policy Resolution of the Government laid down that steel would be entirely in the pubsector, but Prime Minister Nehru tells Pressmen: shall gladly welcome it" when he is asked about private capital starting steel plant.

Similarly, the Industrial Policy Resolution laid down that oil-prospecting would be done exclusively in the public sector, but now it is known that private foreign But while denying it any monopolies are being invited into this field.

State trading in foodgrains is the Government's declared policy, but Food Minister S. K. Patil says he would prefer to give up State trading and build up stocks with imported buffer grains from the USA. If the food policy of the Governing, chemical and other in- ment has not been able to dustries, the consequent re- solve the crisis, it is not State

Covernmental policies and the correspond discontent ament, the propie to attack ever, these propressive fea-turn of the policy and put themselves forward as the unshamed spokesmen of private property and profits.

Hence whatever be the good intentions of the Congressmen when they defend their Government's policies, the truth remains that shortcomings and failures in these policies geenrate discontent in the people and that theseings and failures shortco have to be removed if the Swatantra is not to get a basefrom which to operate among the people.

It is obvious then that Congressmen who want to fight. the Swatantra challenge politically and ideologically canremain content with not voicing criticism of Rajail. fight this battle unless inside their own organisation, they strive to remove these failings and shortcomings.

The importance of this was underlined by the Central Executive Committee of the Communist Party in the resolution it adopted at its re-cent Delhi session cailing for "to rouse all further, the freedom at the same time to fleece the consumers with exorbitant prices and to evade taxes and rob the exchequer.

Socialism Advances democratically-minded people, including those inside the Congress, to the danger posed by these slogans (of the Swa-

What the Swatantra thus duction to some extent, of really defends is the right of a handful of the vested interests to rob the vast majority of the people, to sacrifice the interests of the nation and national development for the coffers of the landlords and moneylenders, of the capitalists and traders.

When more and more people the world over are realising the need for a more equitable distribution of the wealth produced by society, when one-third the world has shown in practice what miracles car wrought by such a distribution, the Swatantra upholds the right of the capitalists to appropriate the wealth produced by the workers, the right of the landlords to enjoy rent wrung from the labour of the cultivating peasants.

What has enabled the Swatantra Party to put itself forward in our national life with such a patently provested interest ideology?

The reasons are not far to seek. The Swatantra Party exploits mainly the failures and the shortcomings of the Government of India's Planning, the corruption and mismanagement prevalent in the public sector to attack Planthemselves.

Masani & Co. attack them in the name of attacking Socialism. But whatever The Swatantra wants spokesmen of the Govern-Planning and the public ment and the ruling party might say about it, it is a our economic dependence and the possibilities of further progress, the expansion of irrigation and electricity, the declarations for State trading, etc., constitute some of these features which go to strengthen the national economy.

Shortcomings And Failures

Even while noting these progressive features, nobody denies there is mismanage ment and corruption in the public undertakings. But that no reason why the baby should be thrown out with tra leaders want to when they argue for the abolition of public ownership and control because there is corrupif corruption and mismanagement did not exist before the public sector came into existence, as if they do not exist in the private sector today.

By the same logic, the Swatantra leaders might tomorrow say that Indian Independence itself was wrong because, if we had continued as a British colony, there would not have been any planning or the public sector and it is free-in our public undertakings, leaders do not champion any it is far from due to public such fight, ownership and control; it is They exploit the short-trading that has to be blamtantra Party) and draw them ed, it is the Government that into the campaign." has to be indicted for not effectively implementing State

At Nagpur, the ruling party gave the slogan of land reforms within the year. The time-limit has been passed but land reforms have yet to come and the legislations for ceilings that have been introduced in some of the States make a varicature of land reforms.

Even the progressive mea-sures which are adopted are thus not implemented properly because of the fear of laying hands on the fabulous profits of a handful of landlords and capitalists.

Instances can be multiplied any number of times of such failures and shortcomings of the Congress Governments which rule at the Centre and in the States

Exploiting Discontent

The fight for India's advance is a fight for the ablic sector and it is free-om that has curtailed in-gressive features and their dividual liberties and is extension, for ending the surcurbing individual incen- render to pressure from the tive! foreign and Indian vested in-If there are shortcomings terests. But the Swatantra rose by more than 11 per

comings and failures of

 Masani talks about Socialism being on its way out, about the debacle of world Socialism. One wonders whether Masani who derides "slogans based on obsolete Marxist thinking which has lost all meaning in the rapidly changing world of the and half of the twentieth century" does really live in the second half of the twentleth century and know the rapid changes that are taking place in the world of this period. Even the U.S. impefaithfully echoes, are quite worried about the tremendous echnological advance and economic leap-forward of the Soviet Union and the Socialist world.

Enterprise

Masani is aware of this breath-taking advance of the Soviet Union, People's China and other Socialist countries, whether he knows that in a few years' time only one-third of the world's population and onefourth of the world's area will be responsible for more total output.

During 1959, industrial production in the Soviet Union cent, instead of 7.7 per cent provided for by the Plan.

* SEE FACING PAGE

1.0

More About The Wise Men

L AST week reference had been made in this column to the Report of the International Economic Mission on India and Pakistan which had till then not been officially released. But now that it has been made public, it is necessary that some of the points made in it—and not available earlier—are also mentioned here. available earlier—are also mentioned here.

The first of these points concerns the proposed size of the Third Plan. The Mission does not term it as "over-ambitious". In fact, over-amnitious. In fact, it even finds some of its targets quite modest. Still, it urges a "re-examination of the importance of the marginal projects", since, its rior characterists. in its view, abandonment of a few of them can only "be worth doing."

While the reason for this advice is ostensibly the need to maintain "flexibineed to maintain "Hexionlity", the purpose is to effect some "pruning" of the Plan. As to where the axe should fall the Mission does not specify, though its reference to "the desirability of achieving the most efficient utilisation of efficient utilisation existing (steel) capacity when deciding upon the desirability of expanding capacity further" can be indicative of what it really

Another point, which the Another point, which and Mission makes, is about the form in which foreign aid to India should be routed. It dismisses the Marshall Plan type of assistance as ill-suited, since the problem here requires the problem here requires long-term help. It has, however, not suggested any other mode excepting the need for coordination to avoid friction. As to how this coordination should be attempted — whether through the U. N., or some other agency—it does not other agency—it does not clarify. Perhaps it had its own doubts about it, as even it could not have forgotten the Western capitalist countries' opposition to the creation of the SUN-FED.

AID PROSPECTS The Mission is also understandably sombre about the prospects of such aid. In fact, at one place it even cautions the Government that "there can be no assurance that the Governments of the more brobly industrialised counhighly industrialised countries will be in the position to provide aid over the petries will be in the postation to provide aid over the period of the Plans to the full amount requested".

Obviously, knowing the prevailing mood of their countries financiers, use the provided the provided the provided the postation of the period of the provided t they did, the three mem-bers of the Mission had no illuison about their "intention" to give low interest

As for the "aid" which they have so far been giv-ing, the Mission knows ing, the Mission knows that it involves an "into-lerable strain" of debt ser-vice liabilities. Hence its plea for a substantial and to take the form of "Guvernment - to - Government" assistance.

Here, too, however, the Mission's sympathy is qualified by a proviso which restricts India's freedom lified by a proviso which restricts India's freedom to utilise the aid in the wayshe likes. "The legislation' (of the aid-giving country), it says "will require to be assured that the aid receiving countries' methods of handling ther policies are realistic", and "that aid provided is spent on the purpose contemplated by the aid-providing countries." Obviously, those being not always as "dispension" of the purpose contemplated by the aid-providing countries." Obviously, those being not always as "dispension" of the purpose contemplated by the aid-providing countries." Obviously, those being not always as "dispension" of the provided is provided in the purpose contemplated by the aid-providing the purpose contemplated by the aid-providing the provided is provided in the pro being not always as "dis-interested" as made out by the donor-country, it is the interests of the giver more than that of the taker that such aid will very often be

"Government - to - Government" assistance has however, been suggested by the Mission only as an by the Mission only as an interim measure. In course of time "as the economic structure of these two countries (India and Paksistan) is brought nearer to viability...it is possible to substitute the ordinary flow of prints investment for of private investment for the more exceptional forms of aid." To accelerate the process, therefore, it is suggested that steps to "create conditions which will attract private capital" should be taken in right

The Mission's concern for indigenous capital is no less intense. "It should no remembered," it says, "thet intervention in the form of extraordinary taxation or price controls designed to protect the general public (emphasis ours) may sometimes frustrate the nor.all market process." With a Socialist pattern such a "process" has obviously to be modified—but how very ne modified—but how very like S. K. Patil's view is the respect!

INSIDE OUR NEWS & NOTES ECONOMY

Thè Mission has also underlined the importance of improving agriculture but the means, it suggests bespeak of its hide-bound bespeak of its inde-bound approach to the subject. Among them it includes greater availability of fer-tilisers and irrigation faci-tilisers and irrigation facilities, but not land reform to enable the peasant to utilise them.

The Mission also speaks about the need to increase exports. It even makes the exports. It even makes the welcome suggestion that Western countries should remove "the kind of bar-riers which restrict the export opportunities of deve-loping countries." Its ap-peal in this behalf may not even have a symbolic effect however, since none of the countries from which its members were drawn has been known for eagerness to increase imports from India.

All in all, therefore, the Mission's has been a hack-neyed reiteration of Western capitalist circles' standpoint apropos the way India should go about despite the bitter lessons of history, German Social-Democracy continues in this role and has cleared the path for the German revanchists and militarists to follow in the footsteps of Hitler. And as they surrender the interests of the nation to Adenauer &

Co., so they surrender the interests of the West German working class to the monopolies. And Masani, who wants to sell out the interests of the Indian people the same way, calls them "perceptive

These Social-Democrats

have the shameful record

the imperialists of their own countries, never have they supported the freedom struggle of the people

our freedom struggle, nor while the Algerians even honourable role of French

Social-Democracy. It is in company with these thoroughly discredited

his stand.

Socialists."

planning her economy. As for the aid its labours might bring, even the Hindustan Times estimates it' to be no more than poor little mouse.'

STC: GOOD RECORD

IN HE Mission has sug-The Mission has sug-gested respect for the "normal market process"—a term which implies leaving things as they are in respect of prices as well as trade, both internal and external.

The one attempt made The one attempt made by the Government some time ago in the sphere of trade in contravention with this "process", however, has borne good fruit. The reference here is to the State Trading Corporation (STC), whose latest report shows significant gains not only in turnover, both in exports and imports, but also in profits. The turnover increased to Rs. 36.0 crores in 1958-59 from Rs. 28.6 crores in the previous year. Of this, exprevious year. Of this, ex-ports accounted for Rs. 22.4 crores and imports for Rs. 13.6 crores. The profit (net) during the year amounted to over Rs. 1.28 crores as against Rs. 1.05 crores in the preceding year.

The Corporation has inif fused a new life into the depressing state of export ores, in 1998-99, too, trade in iron ore accounted for more than 50 per cent of the export trade. Among other items figuring on its export list were shellac, jute, tobacco, gunnles, mangange are and woolgunnies and wool manganese ore and wool-len fabrics, while among imports it handled were non-ferrous metals, caustic soda, newsprint, insula-tors for Government pro-jects and sodium sulphate.

In importing and regula-ting the distribution of some scarce commodities the STC has only been helping the consumer and the industry. The sale of caustic soda, etc., and also of non-ferrous metals, by it has been "beneficial" capitalist journal like Indian Finance. Still, the Federation of Indian and Industry has been of always having supported the colonial aggressions of internal trade. What beats us, however is the virtual concurrence with this view by the Estimates Committee of Par liament, which, in its Re of these colonies. We have not forgotten the British Labour Party's attitude to port to Parliament last week, has suggested the handing over of internal distribution of cement to have the Indonesians that an organisation of cement producers. The Committee has also stated that the of Dutch Social-Democracy today are seeing the disobject of the STC "is primarily to organise foreign trade. It may handle inter-nal trade only to the ex-tent it is necessary for that purpose." ments that Masani takes obviously, if this under-standing of the scope of the STC's activities is ac-cepted by the Government it will be losing a strategic lever to not only promote exports, but also to help the private manufacturers Perhaps that is enough the private manufacturers get scarce imported goods depends.

NEW AGE

MASANI'S FRIENDS ABROAD ght Hitler to power in the tiative which Masani extols thirties and after the war,

* FROM FACING PAGE

Nearly 50 billion roubles worth of goods were produced over and above Plan (in comparable prices more than the entire industrial output of Russia before the revolution when free enterprise and private initiative ruled unnecked).

The output of the means of production rose by 12 per cent during the year as against 8.1 per cent provided for by the Plan. The overall industrial output of consumer goods which was to have increased by 6.6 per cent under the Plan, actually rose by 10.3 per cent.

Despite the drought which affected some areas, the Soviet Government was able to purchase 2.846 million poods grain, enough to meet the needs of the population and other requirements of the

Over a thousand large industrial establishments were put into operation in 1957, the volume of capital investment by the State and cooperative organisations, exclusive of collective farm investments totalled 275 billion roubles—a 30-billion increase over 1958. Labour productivity rose 7.4 per cent in industry and nine And this despite the fact that live in slums. over thirteen million factory workers and employees had chasing power of a skilled been put on reduced seven and six-hour working days by the end of 1959.

This staggering advance in more time. industrial and agricultural production has naturally

MAY 1. 1960.

more houses, increased educational, cultural, health and so much? the Soviet people enjoy at the same time as they have a shorter working day.

As against this picture of the Socialist world, what has Masani's "free world"

"Free World" Picture

Gross industrial produc tion in the USA increased in five years from 1953 to 1959 by 11 per cent (while in the same period it was 90 per cent in the USSR). In recent years, the gross national product in Britain has been increasing at a rate of between one and one-and-a-half per cent

While it is computed that the subsistence minimum of a working class family of four living a modest life in the USA should be 5,593 dollars, 20 per cent of the families have an income of less than 2,000 dollars and 12 per cent between 2,000 and 3,000 dollars.

According to the Chairman of the National Committee of the U.S. Democratic Party, per cent in construction work. over 15 million Americans

In France, the total purmetal worker in the Paris
District fell 38 per cent though he worked 15 per cent

The same is the position in the capitalist world as a whole. Whose then is the dements in the living standards bacle—of Socialism or of free class for which Social-Demoof the people. More food, enterprise and private ini- cracy was responsible, brou- (April 26)

Betrayal Abounding

The only recourse Masani has to brush aside this reality is to hang on to the programmes of some Social-Democratic Parties in Europe and elsewhere.

In his letter, he approvingly quotes from the pro-grammes of the Dutch Labour Party, the Swedish Social-Democratic Party the Austrian Socialist Party, etc. He is unfortunate in that he cannot quote from the programme of the British Labour Party also. If Gaitskell had been rebuffed in his efforts to give up public ownership from the Labour Party's programme, could have added the British Labour Party, too, to his list. He had a special word to say about the new German Social Democratic Party's Manifesto which "echoes the Swatantra Party's statement of policy to a remarkable ex-It is good that Masani pays these tributes to the German Social Democratic Party—one of the oldest and most influential of the Social-Demo cratic Parties. Masani is in proper company here because the new programme and activities of this party have con-firmed what has been evident Democracy's role of betrayal is the mighty, triumphant of the working class and the advance of Socialism.

The split in the working

Socialist movement.

mment on the Socialism of "enlightened Socialists" as of Masani's thankless effort to prove the debacle of world Socialism on the basis of their

> RAHDASS APRIL 26.

> > PAGE FIFTEEN

-Essen

PAGE FOURTEEN

SOS REM. T

NEW AGE

EXASPERATING QUESTION

S &by E. M. S. NAMBOODIRIPAD

The people of Kerala have been repeatedly astre people of Keraia nave been repeatedly assured by the Chief Minister, the Deputy Chief Minister and other leaders of the triple alliance that the story of the pre-1957 Congress and PSP Ministries would not be repeated, that all group rivalries within the Congress as well as between the various component units of the triple alliance have been put an and the and that the present Congress will provide the present of the pr end to and that the present Government will continue to rule the State for its full term of five years.

A LL those who are interested in the development of Kerala would fervently wish that these optimistic forecasts of the leaders of the triple alliance were translated into preciting For the the triple alliance were translated into practice. For, the instability of successive Ministries which came and went out of office in the pre-1957 period proved to be the biggest factor which prevented Kerala from securing its due there of the developmental gest factor which prevented Kerala from securing its due share of the developmental projects of our country in the post-Independence years.

All the major industries existing in our State now were established in the pre-Independence years. The Fertilisers and Chemicals, Aluminium, Glass, Paper, etc., about which the people of Kerala think and speak with a certain amount of pride were set up not by the democratic Governments which came into existence after 1947, but by the Dewan's administrations in the former States of Travancore and Cochin and during British rule in Malabar.

Precious little has been done in other fields of development either. The extent to which Kerala lags behind can be seen from the fact that our State which occupies a place of pride in India in the matter of general education shows a lower percentage of population attending schools for special and vocational education than the all-India average: the Economic Survey for the year 1959, published by the Government of Kerala, shows that, while the all-India percentage for special schools is 0.46, that of Kerala, shows that, while the all-India percentage for special schools is 0.46, that for Kerala is 0.32. The cor-responding figures for voca-tional colleges are 0.03 and 0.02.

People's Desire

The sorrow and pain at this backwardness of Kerala in economic development are finding increasing expression in the Malayalam Press.

The unanimity with which our people protested against the reported non-inclusion of the second ship-building yard in the Third Plan; the disappointment with which they received the reported removal of the Naval Aerodrome and Fisheries Institute from Kerala; the disastisfaction felt by them at the fact that adequate quantities of rice are not being made available to Kerala for regular supplies through the fair price shops; the indignation given expression to by them that even such industries as are to a very large extent dependent on dustries as are to a very large extent dependent on the raw materials produ-ced in Kerala are located in other States and that several industries which can as well be located here as anywhere else are, for some reason or other, denied to us—all these are indications of the increasing realisation by the people that securing the legitimate share for Kerala in the country's development plans is a task which should cut across all barriers of cut across all barriers of caste, creed and political views.

views.

There are, of course, some politicians who are so blinded by anti-Communist prejudices that they will have nothing to do with the Communist Party, even in the matter of jointly fighting for Kerala's legitimate share in the country's development. The General Secretary of the Kerala PSP, for example, re-only funy anye and respon-sive to these feelings and sentiments of the people but is also free from the worries of group rivalries that used to haunt the pre-vious Congress and PSP Ministries Ministries.

Our State could have had a better share in the First and Second Plans if the successive Ministries that came into existence between 1947 and 1957 were not dogged at every step by the rivalries among the various personal and communal groups that went to make up those Miniswent to make up those Ministries. As a matter of fact, all the pre-1957 Ministries had to devote most of their time in solving the problems of group rivalry within the Government and, therefore, had very little time for the study and solution of national problems.

Our people will therefore tional problems.

Our people will, therefore, be happy if they find that that chapter of our political history is closed for ever. If the present Ministry can at least devote its whole time to the evolution of practical schemes for inclusion in the Third Plan, we may hope that our lot in the future will be better than in the past.

as between the Congress, the PSP and the Muslim League are so open that they cannot be wished away by denials made by the leaders. Let us just mention the bare facts which go to show that group rivalries of the 1947-57 period are, by no means, a thing of the

The election of the leader The election of the leader of the Congress Legislature Party was preceded by acute factional struggles. Even though the Congress Parliamentary Board put its full weight in favour of R. Sankar, the then President of the weight in favour of R. Sankar, the then President of the KPCC, another candidate was duly nominated at the first session of the Legislature Party meeting. The situation was so tense that it was apprehended that the rival candidate would be elected by a majority as against the candidate proposed by the Parliamentary Board.

It was under these circumstances that the plenipotentiary of the High Command, Sadiq All, had to rush to the leader of the Nair Service Society, Mannath Padmanabhan, and implore him to get the nominee of the High Command unanimously elec-Command unanimously electhen the Sankar group would be the real dominant force. That was why the Mannom-Pattom group ad-vised the Muslim League to resile from its original de-mand for a seat in the Ministry when the Congress High Command made it plain that it would go ahead with the formation of a purely Congress Ministry If the PSP kept out of it.

We were made to believe at, once the decision was finally made and a Congress-PSP Ministry formed, these group rivalries came to an end. But, hardly had the Ministry been formed when dis-cordant voices began to be heard among the supporters of the triple alliance. Nonof the triple alliance. Non-inclusion of any Latin Catho-lic in the Ministry, exclusion of women from the Ministry, excessive representation to caste Hindus—all these became points of dissastisfaction which found their way into the open Press. Exclusion of the Muslim League from the Ministry and inadequate representation of nationalist Muslims were also points of dissatisfaction. All this found expression on the floor of the Assembly itself.

Can Kerala Alliance Rise The question of further expansion of the Ministry, or its reorganisation with a view to giving representation to unrepresented communities,

Above Group Rivalries And Devote

Attention To State's Development?

jected the proposal of the Communist Party that a joint campaign be organised for realising Kerala's demand for the inclusion of the second ship-building yard within the Third Plan and denounced the Party's proposal for joint action as an attempt to make political capital out of Kerala's needs. rela's needs.

rala's needs.

There is, however, increasing recognition even on the part of those who have pronounced anti-Communist political bias that this is something in which political differences and prejudices should not be allowed to stand. in the way of joint action. Such anti-Communist news-papers as the Mathrubhoomi, the Malayala Manorama, the the Malayala Manorama, the Catholic clergy's organ Deepika, etc., came out very sharply against the Congress M. P.s from Kerala who did not care to support the adjournment motion tabled by A. K. Gopalan on the question of the second ship-building yard to be located in Cochin. Sarvodaya leader Kelappan, the well-known industrialist Samuel Aaron and several others who are known for their anti-Communist prejudices also made statements dices also made statements which are highly critical of the Central Government in this matter.

But this growing trend for unity in the matter of fighting for Kerala's due share in the country's de-velopment plans would lead us nowhere unless there is a Government which is not

Of course, the anti-govern-mental direct action that was organised by the parties that form the present Govern-ment a year ago (when the preliminary work in connec-tion with the Third Plan was actually starting) and the tion with the Third Plan was actually starting) and the political tension which existed between the dismissal of the Ministry and the mid-term elections made us lose pre-cious months which could well have been profitably used if there was in existence a stable popular Government at the time:

Rivalries In The Open

But the damage that has been done in the past one year can now be repaired, at least partially, if only the present Government is able to devote its whole time to these problems and if the Government is prepared to harness to the task of national reconstruction the energies of the parties and elements that reconstruction the energies of the parties and elements that are in Opposition. That is why all those who are inter-ested in the development of Kerala would join the sup-porters of the present Go-vernment in wishing stability to the Government.

Unfortunately, however, actual developments during the last two months do not warrant the hope which the leaders of the triple alliance want to generate among the people. Group rivairies within the Congress, as well ted by securing the with-drawal of the rival candidate. In return for this 'favour' shown by the leader of the Nair Service Society, he was assured that R. Sankar would not be made the Chief Minister; making Praja Socialist leader Pattom Thanu Piliai Chief Minister was the price paid for the support of the Nair Service Society leader and the group supported by

The subsequent parleys in Delhi between the Congress on the one hand and the PSP and the Muslim League on the other, had, therefore, as its background the question as to which of the contending groups in Kerala is to dominate the newly-formed Ministry. The all-India leaders of the Congress and public opinion in general may have been worried about the possible political repurcus-The subsequent parleys in public opinion in general may have been worried about the possible political repurcussions of a coalition between the Congress and the Muslim League. But the leaders of public opinion in Kerala were more concerned with the question as to whether this or that group would dominate in the Ministry.

A joint Congress-PSP-Muslim League Ministry with Pattom as Chief Minister would mean that the election of Sankar as leader of the Congress Party was robbed of all political significance. On the other hand, if the Congress were to form a Ministry on its own (with the PSP and the Muslim League giving it both of which were raised immediately after the forma-tion of the Ministry, were looked upon from the point of view of which proposal would strengthen which group. Would strengthen which group.

That was why mutually conflicting statements were made by the Chief Minister and the Deputy Chief Minister on the necessity for expansion or reorganisation of the Minis-

Communal Colour

These group rivalries came to a head recently when the Deputy Minister made a speech in Trivandrum castigating the leaders of the Nair community for their copposition to his leadership for no other reason than that he happened to be an Ezhava. "They opposed my being elected as President of the KPCC; they opposed my being elected yopposed my being elected." ted as President of the KPCC; they opposed my being elected the leader of the Legislature; they opposed my being a Minister," he went on The leaders of the Nair community, according to him; could not tolerate the representative of a hitherto oppressed and backward community. and backward community reaching the pinnacle of power in the State; that was why he was determined to see that what is legitimately his due is secured to him. He finally called upon his community to look upon this as-

* SEE PAGE 13: