The Open Shop Drive in the Needle Trades
By Joseph Zack

THERE is a crisis in the industry. Employment is low; orders seem to get shorter and shorter every year. Still, under left wing conditions, workers try to increase wages appreciably and improve working conditions. The union is not able to hold the workers and company in line. The battle is lost; the open shop is winning.

Workers Unemployed
With all this it would be the greatest of the shop workers to strike. There never was an army that came against us. But there never was a righteous struggle and they turned away. A much more effective body of union men and women than the present body of the battle. Already there are strong indications of the day-dawning from despairing sentiment and opposition in the counter attack against the employers, and their strangle the trade union bureaucracy. Unionism in the needle trade has gotten back the hands of the employers in the past.

The U.S. in Nicaragua
(Continued from page 1)

was obliged to accept the terms--as known by the U.S. representative.

The terms provide for confirmation of Diaz as President and unconditional surrender of the Lithuanians. The American consul in Nicaragua, Mr. H. D. Lee, refused to sign the agreement and was subsequently expelled from the country.

This new chapter is written in the history of Nicaragua's aggression, under the rule of the Little American Big Business every inch of the way.

What this American labor saw to be in Nicaragua, he thought the American Big Business would see in the U.S. as well.

Chicago Building Workers
(Continued from page 1)

The agreement's terms are that of Chicago Building Trades Council. Furthermore, when the building trades were organized, the Chicago Building Workers' Union Local 201 signed up with the building trades organization. The agreement's terms are the same as those of the Chicago Building Trades Council.

It is known that the Chicago Building Trades Council is the largest labor organization in the world. It represents more than 500,000 members. It is a strong and powerful organization.

Chicago, a city of million of people, is the center of the labor movement in the world. It is a place where labor is organized and a place where labor issues are decided.

The Chicago Building Workers' Union is the largest labor union in the world. It represents more than 500,000 members. It is a strong and powerful organization.

The Chicago Building Workers' Union is a city of million of people, is the center of the labor movement in the world. It is a place where labor is organized and a place where labor issues are decided.

The Chicago Building Workers' Union is a city of million of people, is the center of the labor movement in the world. It is a place where labor is organized and a place where labor issues are decided.